This is an Anthology

In this anthology of the best writings I could collect, including much of my own, I address Heliocentrism and reveal the Jesuit Vatican Shadow Empire behind this over 500 year deception. The purpose of this book is to establish the Jesuit connection to the creation of Heliocentrism, and show how they created it in order to destroy the idea of a living Christian God who is responsible for The Creation. This Creator has been concealed through Jesuit cunning and artifice for hundreds of years.

In this book, I go over various proofs for an Enclosed Cosmological system as well as reveal much of The Jesuit Shadow Empire and how they have proceeded through the ages to advance a Heliocentric Model based on Natural Law, Darwinian Evolution, later aided by Jesuit agentur, Albert Einstein, and his Kabbalistic occult Theory of Relativity, to cement the idea of a wayward, random, chaotic, non-absolute, immoral, Godless Universe.

Dedication

This book is dedicated to the Holy Judgment of Material Atheists who fell prey to Jesuit Evolutionary Theory, and became Luciferian Pantheists without them even knowing. Occult Astrophysics and Astronomy became their religion, while they live deluded, destined to die cursing at God and convinced there is no Evil or Good, raped by Einsteinian Relativism, and cursed with blind, arrogant ignorance, the fruits that their hate hath born them. These are the unlucky ones who would rather hate God and Christ than worship that which created them. Their plight is forever and binding, a Godless Hell for Eternity, a Hell that they do not believe in, a Hell that they seek to avoid by pretending it is not real, a Hell that is their reward for ignoring all things spiritual, intelligent, Biblical, and Godly, in preferment for dumb, blind Natural Science.

It's not that they were not afforded innumerable opportunities to explore Theology and dig into the mystery of it all. It's that they spat at each opportunity, infected by Darwinian Evolution and Astrophysical Naturalistic dogma. Their Faith was strong in Nature, and tempered by the heartless, blind ambition of self-conceit and the biological mechanisms that they saw in, amoebas, worms, and cockroaches, rather than in God's Creation, Man.

They hold in loathsome contempt the idea of worshipping The Creator, and prefer to exalt themselves as the supreme deity in their own lives. These Atheist Humanists are imbued with Luciferian brainwashing. These are the Richard Dawkins of the world, the Christopher Hitchens, the Laurence Krausses, the Neil de Grasse

Tysons, the Sean Carrolls, the Sam HARRises, etc... the people who spend day and night formulating ways to, paradoxically, degrade themselves as mere random Evolutionary probabilities, while simultaneously exalting themselves over God, and hoping to lead others to do the same, in a Gnostic Luciferian worship of occult fantasy and Material Scientism.

They have hardened their hearts to anything Transcendental or truly moral in order to preserve an angry and self-righteous proclamation of impunity to God's Judgment. They are wagering on God's impotence and nonexistence in Pascal's Wager. They have chosen the worst odds in their puffed up pride and self-assured intellectual myopia. They, having darkened ignorance and blind conceit in their minds, seek to escape all Holy Wrath through pure ignorance and vain pride. They say, "If I do not believe in The Lord or Final Judgment, then they do not exist." It is tantamount to saying, "I shall jump, unaided, off of this 5000 foot cliff onto cement and not be harmed because I do not believe the impact that follows is as lethal as many speak of."

They declare that nothing awaits them after the grave and so how they live does not matter, anyway. They have immense FAITH in their own Eternal perishing. They could never bear to face what they are if there was accountability after death. Postmortem accountability is their worst nightmare, and so, they reject the entire issue so that life is tolerable and there is some semblance of peace and rationality in their sordid and sheltered lives.

They rap themselves in a warm blanket of Narcissist Existentialism and hide from the cold cruel possibility of Final Judgment, protesting that if God was loving, there would be no Final Judgement. They insist, “We should just be able to do and be anything we want since if there was a Creator, that is what a loving Creator would allow.” Do As Thou Wilt is their selfish, New Age Atheistic mantra. It is the logic of an infantile child, a child who thinks he created himself and cares for himself, when all the while, his parents make his life possible, every step of the way.

This is their logic.

Is it unfortunate ignorance or is it willful disobedience and vile and arrogant contempt for The Creator?

Only time will tell.

Silence is consent.

--Paraphrase of Plato

People forget that just because a model like the Heliocentric model can be forced to kinda work, that does not mean it is correct.

--Gregory Lessing Garrett

The Gnostic Luciferian New Age and Pop Culture, in general, is nothing but a Trojan Horse for ancient Pagan beliefs and decadence. In the guise of the pursuit of Narcissistic self-development, fun, carnal lust, trivial amusement, and sensual pleasure, ancient Babylonian Paganism has returned as the primary spiritual core on Earth, with Christ as the sole enemy of this path.

If you choose to accept The Mark of The Beast, however it may manifest, whether as a physical interface or a wireless electromagnetic interface, you will be surrendering your mind to The Beast System. You will be joining your mind with The Beast. His thoughts shall be your thoughts. His will shall be your will. His Eternal Damnation shall be your Eternal Damnation.

--Gregory Lessing Garrett

“Art is equated to "Magic" or "Spell" casting to Luciferians and has a very significant part to play in the indoctrination of the masses into the Satanic reality, worldwide. Hollywood is a Jesuit creation intended for just this purpose. The Jesuits control the art, music, fashion, and film world and use it to create a false reality in the minds of viewers/participants. By controlling art and culture the Jesuits can condition people through predictive programming in every avenue of the arts, thus normalizing Satanic behavior and preparing the world to openly accept their one world Beast Empire and its final Anti-Christ dictator.”

--Darkness is Falling

“It seems probable to me that God, in the beginning, formed matter in solid, massy, hard, impenetrable, moveable particles, of such sizes and figures, and with such other properties, and in such proportions to space, as most conduced to the end for which He formed them; and that these primitive particles, being solids, are incomparably harder than any porous bodies compounded of them, even so very hard as never to wear or break in pieces; no ordinary power being able to divide what God had made one in the first Creation.”

--Sir Isaac Newton, From Opticks (1704, 2nd ed., 1718), 375-376
(Champion Scientist of Atheist, who was, ironically, a staunch Theist, Biblical Scholar, and Creationist, and Alchemist)

Freedom without moral responsibility will always transition into self-deprecation and depravity. No person can be free without morality, for without it, he will always fall into a moral abyss, self-destruct, and achieve his own doom.

Evolution and Design

Similarities between species does not connote common ancestry or random mutational based Evolution any more than similarities between automobiles mean a Camaro evolves into a Lamborghini without the aid of builders and inventors. Modern cars use the same design techniques and part concepts for their construction, such as engine combustion, braking mechanisms, emissions control, nuts, and bolts, etc... But this does not mean that cars are autonomously evolving into other cars by random chance. Rather, when we observe similarities between automobiles, we are looking at proof of common design techniques and therefore a Designer. Similarly, when we observe similarities between species, we are looking at proof of common design techniques and therefore a Designer.

Additionally, we find carbon in a myriad of organic species, as well as some simple compounds, including carbon monoxide, carbon dioxide, carbonates, carbides, cyanides, cyanates, and thiocyanates, and more complex objects, including tables, chairs, paper, pencil lead, car tires, and cell phones. But this does not mean that carbon monoxide is autonomously evolving into pencil lead or that paper is eventually evolving into a cell phone without the aid of a Designer, even given the Evolutionist's clarion call to arms, "given enough time!!!". Without guidance and careful direction, objects do not increase in sophistication and design complexity without intelligent assistance. Common compositional characteristics merely means that both organic and inorganic matter exhibit design attributes and common design components and materials. The signature of design and Designer is found at all levels in the modern taxonomic classification system of Domain, Kingdom, Phylum, Class, Order, Family, Genus, Species.

Finally, there is not one observable instance of information code arising from any randomly based system in all of recorded history. Whether it be computer code, or the infinitely sophisticated information systems of DNA code or the human synaptic neural system, both of which generate information code so complex that it boggles the mind, the only explanation for their existence is Designer. Nature simply cannot produce complex information systems through random chance by the very definition of random chance, regardless of how much time one sneaks into the equation. All random chance can do is provide a singular event or cluster of events at a time which would select one thing or another, while the millions of complexly irreducible and interwoven information systems that we observe in Nature, including the human body and mind, would require a level of coincident random events so beyond statistical possibility as to be absolutely impossible.

Simply stated, a system is a collection of objects that somehow interrelate with each other to function as a whole and produce some effect that no single object within the system could do on its own. The configuration of a system's parts can be physical, logical or statistical. Nature is composed of an almost infinite number of hierarchical, interconnecting patterns and ecosystems. Energy is the operating currency of Nature. Ecosystems are the conduits by which Nature's energy is transported and transformed. Ecosystems are vehicles for energy flow and energy consumption. They cycle energy and nutrients obtained from external sources. And you simply cannot get such a level of interconnected sophistication of information systems from random events any more than you can get a Lamborghini engine from random events., even if given a trillion years. Both require guidance and careful design. And such a dynamo of creative direction can only come from a Designer.

Evolution between species is perhaps the greatest hoax ever perpetrated by modern science. And because of this hoax, a plethora of false doctrines and theories scurried in the door, including the Heliocentric Theory, Gravity, and The Big Bang Theory. Take Evolution out of the Origins narrative of The Earth and all the other hoaxes come crashing to the ground...and they have.

--Gregory Lessing Garrett

To be absolutely truthful, we simply don't know anything conclusive about the Sun and Moon's true nature. For all we know, the entire Firmament Realm could simply be a hall of mirrors of virtual, reflected, inverted, projected, shifting, spiraling, and magnified system of seamless, water enveloped gates, channels, and portals.

--Gregory Lessing Garrett

Perhaps the source of the Sun, Moon, and Stars is outside the Firmament, and we are seeing the radiant glow of The Source. The Sun may emanate from outside. It is a focal point seen within the firmament which is why we see the appearance of a ball of light in the sky, like a magnifying glass creating a hot spot.

--Gregory Lessing Garrett

Refraction is the New Gravity

I will not settle for "refraction" as the reason the Selenelion occurs. This is the bogus "go to" answer, like Gravity, for those without one. If it were refraction, then sometimes the Sun would rise earlier or later, and never be predictable to Astronomers. A Sunrise scheduled for 6:30 a.m. is now coming up at 6:45 a.m. and nobody notices.? The ACTUAL versus APPARENT location of the Sun would never be clear, ever. Oh, I got it. Refraction is only a variable when there is a total lunar eclipse, or curvature on the Earth cannot be observed or measured. Yeah, right!. Reflection has become the new Gravity for Heliocentrists, and people need to think for themselves about this one-size-fits-all excuse. Things are deemed "impossible" until you spin it with "Refraction" or "Gravity". Both ideas are used to maintain that something that is impossible is possible. That way, you don't have to figure out what is really going on. You just rubber stamp it with Refraction or Gravity.

--Gregory Lessing Garrett

To assert that DNA is not the result of Intelligent Design is like saying these words I am writing just magically constructed themselves without any author.

The Seven Virtues and Seven Deadly Sins

What are the Seven Virtues in the Bible?

Traditionally, the seven Christian virtues or heavenly virtues combine the four classical cardinal virtues of prudence, justice, temperance, and courage (or fortitude) with the three theological virtues of faith, hope, and charity. These were adopted by the Church Fathers as the seven virtues. --Wikipedia

1. Chastity
2. Temperance
3. Charity
4. Diligence
5. Patience
6. Kindness
7. Humility

What are the Seven Deadly Sins?

The seven deadly sins, also known as the capital vices, or cardinal sins, is a grouping and classification of vices within Christian teachings, although it does not appear explicitly in the Bible. Behaviors or habits are classified under this category if they directly give birth to other immoralities. --Wikipedia

1. Pride
2. Avarice
3. Envy
4. Wrath
5. Lust
6. Gluttony
7. Sloth

Vengeance is Mine Saith The Lord

In these last final days, an important work of the Holy Spirit will be to execute justice to those that oppose God. Many have and will suffer unimaginable torment at the hands of The Satanists currently in charge of the world. They will do anything to delay or derail you from fulfilling your divine assignment of securing Eternal Life through the sacrifice of Christ.

Millions will mock you and this belief in the sacrifice of Christ, doing everything in their power to discredit, derail, and quell this Divine Plan. Nevertheless, Vengeance is Mine Saith The Lord, a prophetic End Times message for all who live in the Body of Christ, a message which not only empowers you, but also protects you. Vengeance for all the injustices done to you results from God's love of Justice, and it is not Revenge, a worldly principle unacceptable in the Kingdom of God.

The Lord is a Just Lord, uninhabited with a spirit of revenge. The dark hate in Mankind's soul fumes with the rage of revenge towards all those who would persecute and destroy what is pure, innocent, and holy on Earth through God's Grace. Christians are not impervious to this dark spirit of revenge for past trespasses upon them. However, Christians have available to them the Mercy and Love of Jesus Christ upon their sinful, unworthy souls to avail them all power over this dark spirit of revenge rising in the world. For who is without sin? Not one.

The Day of the Lord's Vengeance will usher in God's Justice and bring restoration in every area of your life. All Christians will be vindicated. All sins will be washed away with The Blood of Christ. All else will walk into The Beast System like innocent lambs for the slaughter.

Work Out Your Salvation With Fear And Trembling

Paul uses the phrase, "Continue to work out your salvation with fear and trembling". Many people confuse this to mean that one needs to do good works to be saved. However, there is nothing you can do to save yourself. That is the Luciferian Lie from The Garden, the current Transhumanistic Deception.

To work out your salvation means you already have it. You are saved because of what Jesus did for you and your Faith in it. But once you are saved, it doesn't mean you have no role in living out what it means to be saved. The word "saved" means to be "redeemed" or "delivered". In our case, we have been delivered from sin, death and the power of the Satanic forces now acting upon Earth to capture souls in a Digital A.I. Matrix.

And so, since we are now freed from these powers and technologies that were created to rule us, we can use our power in Christ to assist other souls from the nefarious and wicked plight before them. Again, you are not SAVED by helping others, lest you should boast of your powers to redeem and save, and mock God. The Lord is not mocked.

You will help others as the radiant gift of Christ's sacrifice dawns in your soul, in contradistinction to the dusk of Luciferian Night about to descend upon all of Mankind. Assisting others is the natural outgrowth of a soul that has seen the horrors of the occult, recoiled in trepidation, and attained Eternal Life in the Faith of Christ's sacrifice for all who would accept it.

The End is Nigh

The impending Christian vision of The Apocalypse looms before us. This is the time we all knew would eventually come; the time of the great external change is happening. You know what to do. The challenge is to stay in intimate touch with yourself and surrender your internal state of being to the Absolute Stewardship of God on High. Again, you cannot save yourself...you never could. We are all mortal creatures with expiration dates. At this time of radically fluctuating thoughts and emotions, with all of the varying external influences, cleave to The Lord.

Hold calm.

Check in with yourself moment to moment. Monitor and be responsible for your internal state and responses. Be the peace that you want to see in the world. Just keep telling yourself, no matter what, God is your life, and to God you shall return. It is really the only Truth that has ever been...whether you knew it or not. And, you are about to find out.

17 Never pay back evil for evil to anyone. Respect what is right in the sight of all men. 18 If possible, so far as it depends on you, be at peace with all men. 19 Never take your own revenge, beloved, but leave room for the wrath of God, for it is written, “Vengeance is Mine, I will repay,” says the Lord.

--Romans 12:17-19 New American Standard Bible

A Trojan Horse Constructed of Mother Nature and Mankind’s Fallen Nature to Advance the Jesuit Luciferian Elite Technocracy’s Agenda for Depopulation

In a nutshell, Covid 19 is merely another piece of timber (Communist plank) in the construction of the ultimate Trojan Horse to cover up a multitude of sins emanating from The Jesuit Luciferian Elite Technocracy’s nefarious activities. Their goal is depopulation but they do not want to draw any really direct attention to this fact, or allow any really salient connections or correlations to their activities towards this desired outcome, if they can help it. They realize they flying under the radar and using a nebulous, unidentifiable Invisible Enemy is a far superior method of exterminating most of the world without having to face massive, worldwide revolt aimed at them, directly. And so, they do everything in their power to point the finger towards Mother Nature and Mankind's Fallen Nature as the cause for all of Mankind's bad misfortune instead of them.

In brief, it is a Trojan Horse Constructed of Mother Nature and Mankind's Fallen Nature to advance the Jesuit Luciferian Elite Technocracy's Agenda for Depopulation

Their lexicon of possible causes for widespread death are varied and unobtrusively difficult to track back to their doings:

1. United Nations pushed Climate Change
2. A Fake Pandemic based upon an invisible virus
3. Weaponized weather that makes life intolerable for millions
4. Invisible 5G radiation
5. Solar activity
6. From the shadows, incite and artificially ignite civil unrest to get the multitudes to kill each other in riot and controlled wars
7. From the shadows, introduce GMO foods, heavily processed foods, and toxins into the food production process, and make the water toxic, worldwide
8. From the shadows, finance think tanks, Big Pharma, and Psychiatry to create a world of drug addicted, feeble minded, dependent children who will respond to anything their governmental puppets say (e.g. "There is a virus , so wear a mask and stay away from all other human beings.")
9. From the shadows, finance all sides of battles and wars
10. From the shadows, foster the creation of Artificial Intelligence and Transhumanistic technologies which will eventually assist in exterminating Mankind and replace him with a Post Human controllable slave, in their full control.
11. From the shadows finance, music, fashion, and media that demoralizes the world and brings all people under the power of the Luciferian way of thinking

12. From the shadows, finance Hollywood to create movie after movie which pushes Satanism and unveils the Luciferian World that they want all to embrace, eventually.
13. From the shadows, cause worldwide economic collapse form overt overspending
14. From the shadows, cause wild fires and blame them on drought and summer heat
15. From the shadows, fostering and practicing Satanic human sacrifice and occult rituals intended to bring all under the influence of demonic control

These are the extermination methods, par excellence, that they really DON'T want known. That points the finger at the Jesuit New World Order plans for "Globalization", and the real people who steward that wicked ship, people that do not want to be seen as they work in the shadows to practice Eugenics on a worldwide scale.

In Wuhan, China, the indigenous people were rising up in protests over the horribly toxic environmental pollution there, right as this Covid 19 was announced as the culprit for sickness and death in that province. How coincidental? Additionally, one the most powerful 5G systems was up and running there at the same time, as well. Covid 19 was the perfect way to hide the fact that a combination of environmental pollution and 5G based electromagnetic radiation was likely killing people. As a result, Covid 19 now exists as a Communist plank in the perfect Trojan Horse to enable the continued roll-out of a wide array of lethal strategies for depopulation. Afterall, it is not The Elite Technocracy trying to kill you. It is YOUR own bad behavior and Mother Natures, gone wild.

The Ultimate Plausible Deniability Ruse

The Trojan Horse is constructed of activities and sources all said to be attributable to Mother Nature or Mankind's bad influence upon Nature, with a negligible attribution to The Jesuit Elite's direct intention to kill over 7 billion people with any means possible. It is the Ultimate Plausible Deniability Ruse. If it is all natural (viruses, weather gone haywire, wildfires, solar activity), or attributable to Mankind's "bad behavior", leading to Co2 caused ozone depletion from too many cars and factories, etc...The Jesuits lurk in the shadows, unimpeded.

The Shadow Empire

And this is what I call:

The Shadow Empire

Introduction

All the World's a Jesuit Stage

The Vatican Jesuits didn't just curve the Earth with their Heliocentric mind control in the 15th Century, hypnotizing the world into an Copernican Cosmological illusion. They also curved, twisted, and perverted the moral sensibilities of Mankind, robbing it of any decency, indoctrinating him into a Luciferian mindset, and filling him up with carnal and Satanic mesmerism and Gnostic Transhumanistic filth. On every front: social media, entertainment, news, business, spirituality, science, education, military, medical, political, etc...you will find the hidden hand of Jesuit fingerprints. They lurk in the shadows and blend in to avoid detection and persecution, seldom if ever taking leadership roles, but rather, preferring to position their Masonic, Jewish, Illuminati, and Papal Pawns in the limelight to propel their sinister machinations for a Luciferian New World Order forward. You'll always find a Jesuit created proxy war in a third world country where the Jesuits keep their hands clean while their stooges and pawns fight to the death to perpetuate Chaos and the Hegelian Dialectic, resulting in reformation towards Jesuit goals.

Additionally, though many believe The Jews to be "The Synagogue of Satan" and target them as the instigators of The New World Order, as The Protocols of The Learned Elders of Zion would seem to suggest, upon closer scrutiny, it becomes readily apparent that The Jews were, and still are, merely Papal Puppets to help front and manage The Jesuit agenda for a New World Order. Every leader is now a puppet. They are all in the same club, answering to the same Master of Puppets. An all-powerful, ancient, Jesuit-run organization is pulling the strings on everything around us, shaping local, federal, and international economy, starting wars, and pretending that they are enemies because that keeps them in power so they can introduce even tighter Draconian measures in each of their respective territorial dominions.

The common theme here is about a New World Order, where a secretive Power Elite with an Imperialistic Agenda is conspiring to eventually rule the world through an authoritarian, technocratic world government, which will replace sovereign nation-states. They employ an all-encompassing propaganda, terrorist, business, banking, entertainment, news media, medicine, and military mechanism, whose core ideology continually hails evolutionary theory and the establishment of a New World Order as the culmination of history's evolutionary progress.

The Jesuits killed Abraham Lincoln:

"The American Civil War would never have been possible without the sinister influence of the Jesuits."

--Abraham Lincoln (1809-1865; 16th President of the United States)

Freemasonry is, essentially, a Jesuit offshoot:

"If you trace up Masonry, through all its Orders, till you come to the grand tip-top head Mason of the World, you will discover that the dread individual and the Chief of the Society of Jesus [i.e., the Superior General of the Jesuit Order] are one and the same person."

- James Parton (American historian)

The Creation of The Illuminati was by Jesuit Agent, Adam Weishaupt:

"Jesuit-trained Illuminist, Adam Weishaupt, and his fellow Jesuits cut off the income to the Vatican by launching and leading the French Revolution; by directing Napoleon's conquest of Catholic Europe, and by eventually having Napoleon throw Pope Pius VII in jail at Avignon until he agreed, as the price for his release, to reestablish the Jesuit Order. This Jesuit war on the Vatican was terminated by the Congress of Vienna and by the secret, 1822 Treaty of Verona."

- Emanuel M. Josephson (American physician and historian)

The Jesuits marginalized and orchestrated the persecution of The Jews in Nazi Germany through their Zionist fronts:

“Why would the Jesuits use their implacable enemy, the Jews, to further their designs for world dominion? The Jesuits never do anything out in the open where they can be exposed. If they are recognized as the culprits, they will be blamed and suffer the consequences, but if they can use someone else as the ‘cause of the world’s problems’, especially an enemy they can destroy in the process, then they have simultaneously accomplished two of their objectives. The Jewish people are the perfect scapegoat. Since the Rothschilds are Jesuit agents operating under a Jewish cover, using them in forming the Illuminati back in 1776 effectively throws the onus of this conspiracy on the Jews. The Rothschilds are certainly not the only Jesuit agents that operate under a Jewish front. History books will tell us that the French Revolution first began in 1787 or 1789, depending on which book you read. However, it was actually planned by Jesuit Dr. Adam Weishaupt and the House of Rothschild almost 20 years before the Revolution took place.”

--William Sutton (Author of The New Age Movement and Illuminati 666)

All significant occurrences in politics and finance are indeed orchestrated by this highly influential Jesuit cabal who maintains political power through the financialization of the economy through Vatican supported banking mafia headed by the Rothschild Zionist, international bankers. Nothing is left to chance in their advance towards world government, as they control every step of the way.

The Jesuits hold control through the regulation and restriction of speech through their concentration of media ownership, mass surveillance, widespread use of state false flag terrorism, and an all-encompassing propaganda machine that creates a cult of personality around puppet world leaders and ideologizes world government as the culmination of history’s progress.

They operate through many front organizations, including The United Nations, The CFR, The Trilateral Commission, NAFTA, USAN, EU, OIC, OAU, SCO, APEC, The Vatican Church, etc...Historical and current events are indeed steps in an ongoing plot to achieve world domination through clandestine and overt political gatherings and decision-making.

Ten Facts You Should Know About the Jesuits

The current Superior General is the Reverend Father Adolfo Nicolás. The Superior General of the Society of Jesus is the official title of the leader of the Roman Catholic religious order, the Jesuits. He is generally addressed as Father General. The position sometimes carries the derogatory nickname of the Black Pope. The current Superior General is the Reverend Father Adolfo Nicolás.

“Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravenous wolves.” – Yahushua in Matthew 7:15 (NKJV)

“We came in like lambs and will rule like wolves.” --Francesco Borgia, Third Jesuit Superior General

The Society of Jesus, more commonly referred to as the Jesuits, are the armed militia of the Roman Catholic Church. They were sanctioned in 1540 by Pope Paul III with one mandate: to defeat Protestantism and regain worldwide Papal rule. To achieve this monumental task, they employ ever-adapting methods of pseudo-education, social programs, infiltration, and all wickedness that could possibly be conceived. Needless to say, they are achieving great success in their mission, which is climaxing with the present pope, Pope Francis, i.e. the Eighth and last Pope of Revelation 17, who held some of the highest positions in Argentina, including Provincial Superior in the Society of Jesus and Archbishop of Buenos Aires. He was made a cardinal by Pope John Paul II.

Today most of the world is oblivious as to how Jesuits operate, from their inception to this very day. Now more than ever, World's Last Chance believes it is exceedingly important to bring up the following historical facts about this evil society, to expose the wicked nature of this truly malevolent order.

Pope Clement XIV abolished the Jesuits as a society in 1773:

It did not take long for the 18th Century Catholic nations to get tired of the meddling of the Jesuits into their national affairs. They were so infuriated against the Jesuits that they demanded the Roman Catholic Church abolish them once and for all. Sufficient political pressure was brought to bear on Pope Clement XIII. However, he passed away before he could do anything about it. The task of abolishing the Society of Jesus then fell on his successor, Clement XIV. As Clement XIV signed the decree abolishing the Jesuit Order he said, "I have signed my death warrant." Within nine months, he was dead. [Many contemporaries considered his death a case of poisoning, and suspected the Jesuits were responsible].

Fact #2

No other entity on Earth was expelled and suppressed by Catholic and non-Catholic countries as the Jesuits:

Obviously, the Jesuits were not expelled from many nations (even Catholic nations) because of their educational or charity work. They were expelled for engaging in and carrying out subversive political plots against humanity to advance their own cause. Between 1555 and 1931 the Society of Jesus was expelled from at least 83 countries, city states and cities, for engaging in political intrigue and subversion plots against the welfare of the State, according to the records of a Jesuit priest, Thomas J. Campbell. Practically every instance of expulsion was for political intrigue, political infiltration, political subversion, and inciting to political insurrection.

The Jesuits are known for their deception, spying, infiltration, assassination, and revolution. They worked deep into the political field and plotted through politics throughout the world countries.

When the Jesuits are expelled from a country, they simply change strategies and return to the country they were expelled from under a new disguise. The following sums up their operational strategy:

“We came in like lambs and will rule like wolves. We shall be expelled like dogs and return like eagles.”

--Francesco Borgia, Third Jesuit Superior General.

Fact #3

Hitler modeled his dreaded SS army and party after the organizational structure of the Jesuits and the Roman Catholic Church:

"...the SS organization had been constituted according to the principles of the Jesuit Order."

--"The Secret History of the Jesuits," by Edmond Paris, p. 164

Walter Schellenberg, former chief of Nazi counter-espionage made this statement: "The S.S. organization had been constituted by Himmler [Heinrich Himmler, leading member of the Nazi party] according to the principles of the Jesuit Order. Their regulations and the Spiritual Exercises prescribed by Ignatius of Loyola were the model Himmler tried to copy exactly. Himmler's title as supreme chief of the S.S. was to be the equivalent of the Jesuits' 'General' and the whole structure was a close imitation of the Catholic Church's hierarchical order."

--The Secret History of the Jesuits," by Edmond Paris, p.

Above all I have learned from the Jesuits. And so, did Lenin too, "far as I recall. The world has never known anything quite so splendid as the hierarchical structure of the Catholic Church. There were quite a few things I simply appropriated from the Jesuits for the use of the Party.

--Manfred Barthel, "The Jesuits: History and Legend of the Society of Jesus (New York, 1984), Adolf Hitler, p.266.

"I learned much from the Order of the Jesuits", said Hitler. "Until now, there has never been anything more grandiose, on the Earth, than the hierarchical organization of the Catholic Church. I transferred much of this organization into my own party. I am going to let you in on a secret. I am founding an Order. In my "Burgs" of the Order, we will raise up a youth which will make the world tremble. Hitler then stopped, saying that he couldn't say any more.

Vatican connection to Nazis

Signing the concordat is Cardinal Pacelli (later to become Pope Pius XII). By 1933 he was the Vatican Secretary of State. Second from left is Franz von Papen, a sinister Nazi and devout Roman Catholic who was Hitler's ace diplomat and the Vatican's agent in helping to bring Hitler to power. Standing at the far right can be seen the little-known Vatican prelate, Montini, later to become Pope Paul VI.--"Hermann Rauschning, former national-socialist chief of the government of Dantzig: "Hitler m'a dit", (Ed. Co-operation, Paris 1939, pp.266, 267, 273 ss).

"The Fuhrer had come to power, thanks to the votes of the Catholic Zentrum [Center Party overseen by Jesuit Ludwig Kaas], only five years before 1933, but most of the objectives cynically revealed in Mein Kampf were already realized; this book . . . was written by the Jesuit controlled Father Bernhardt Stempfle and signed by Hitler. For . . . it was the Society of Jesus which perfected the famous Pan-German program as laid out in this book, and the Fuhrer endorsed it."

--Edmond Paris, The Secret History of the Jesuits, page 138

Franz von Papen, another powerful Nazi, who was instrumental in setting up the concordat between Germany and the Vatican had this to say: "The Third Reich is the first world power which not only acknowledges but also puts into practice the high principles of the papacy."

Fact #4

Jesuit Education

Over the last 400 years the Jesuits have succeeded in establishing the largest worldwide network of schools and universities. These prominent schools and universities have produced many well-known alumni. Thus, the Jesuits have been able to shape and mould the thinking of many famous world leaders and produce generations of political and religious leaders who were favorable to the Roman Catholic Church, and her doctrinal agenda.

The renowned British preacher, Charles Haddon Spurgeon, once warned about the church ministers who are graduating from these universities that "... they keep back a portion of the gospel ... having studied in the devil's new Jesuitical college."

--Charles H. Spurgeon "A Solemn Warning for All Churches," Sermon No. 68

Fact #5

Agents of the Jesuits have been responsible for assassinating many heads of State over the centuries:

Heads of states were assassinated by the Jesuits, when they attempt to suppress the influence and meddling of the Jesuits in their national affairs. Of heads of states that are known to have been assassinated by Jesuits we mention for example: William of Orange, Kings Henry III and Henry IV of France, Czars Alexander I and Alexander II of Russia, President Abraham Lincoln and John F. Kennedy, and Mexican President Benito Pablo Juarez.

Jesuit connection to Lincoln assassination

Abraham Lincoln was fully aware of the evil nature of the Jesuits. He stated, "... it is not against the Americans of the South, alone, I am fighting. It is more against the Pope of Rome, his perfidious Jesuits and their blind and blood-thirsty slaves that we have to defend ourselves."

--Fifty Years in the Church of Rome, by Charles Chiniquy. p. 496

"It would seem that the Jesuits had had it in mind, from the beginning of the war [the American Civil War of 1861-1865], to find an occasion for the taking off [i.e., the assassination] of Mr. [Abraham] Lincoln."

--Thomas M. Harris (U.S. Army Brigadier General; Author of the book Rome's Responsibility for the Assassination of Abraham Lincoln)

"The favorite policy of the Jesuits is that of assassination."

--U.S. Army Brigadier General Thomas M. Harris; "Rome's Responsibility for the Assassination of Abraham Lincoln"; 1897; Page 19)

"It is of faith that the Pope has the right of deposing heretical and rebel kings. Monarchs so deposed by the Pope are converted into notorious tyrants and may be killed by the first who can reach them.

"If the public cause cannot meet with its defense in the death of a tyrant, it is lawful for the first who arrives, to assassinate him."

--Defensio Didei, Jesuit Suarez, Book VI. C 4, Nos. 13, 14]

Donald Freed remembers what apparently passes for polite conversation when men such as William Colby and Ray Cline get together. "It was quite bizarre" Freed said, "for the subject they chose was, 'When is it acceptable to assassinate a head of state?' Colby presented what he said was a theological and philosophically sound approach. "The Catholic Church," he said, "had long since wrestled with this question and had," to Colby's mind, emerged with a sound concept: "It is acceptable," he said, "to assassinate a tyrant." [Donald Freed is a friend of the author, Mark Lane. He organized a conference at USC for the U.S. intelligence community and its critics to meet. In the panel were Lane, Ellsberg and John Gerassi, all critics. On the other side were William Colby, former DCI (Director of Central Intelligence from September 1973 to January 1976), David Atlee Phillips, and Ray Cline, former deputy DCI's.

--Plausible Denial, Mark Lane, 1991, p. 85

Jesuit Connection to the Kennedy Assassination

President John F. Kennedy was another victim of appalling Jesuit wickedness. Once he outwardly distanced himself from the Papal agenda and stood for more liberal ideals and human rights, he was considered, by their standards, a traitor to the Vatican and a “tyrant” worthy of death.

This is an excerpt from “Vatican Assassins” by Eric Jon Phelps:

Knowing that President Kennedy was not going to escalate the Vietnam War, the Intelligence Community began to prepare for his assassination. Cardinal Spellman [Francis Spellman, Archbishop of New York from 1939-1967], through FDR, had arranged the release of “Lucky” Luciano. Now the Cardinal needed a favor. If refused, Spellman could use the entire intelligence community which he had helped to organize, to eliminate any mob boss. If agreed to, new gambling centers would open, Atlantic City in particular. Clearly, if the President [JFK] was removed, everybody would acquire more power and wealth, the intelligence community would become more absolute, and the Cardinal would be even more respected by his peers in Rome.

Later, in 1964, for the first time in history, the Pope of Rome set foot in Fourteenth Amendment America. Cardinal Spellman had performed well and was rewarded by a visit from his Master, fellow Cold Warrior and Vatican Ratline handler, Cardinal Montini, who was now Pope Paul VI. There is yet another reason for the removal of President Kennedy. He wanted to arm Israel. Loftus writes:

“In September 1962 Kennedy decided to supply Israel with defensive ground-to-air missiles capable of stopping aircraft, but not the Egyptian offensive missiles. It was the first arms sale by the U.S. Government to Israel... Kennedy promised the Israelis that as soon as the 1964 election was over, he would break the CIA ‘into a thousand pieces and scatter it to the winds’. With Kennedy's assassination in November 1963, the Israelis lost the best friend they had in the White House since Truman departed.”

--The Secret War Against the Jews, John Loftus, 1994

And why did the Vatican's Jesuits not want any arms sales to Israel at this time? Why did the Jesuit-controlled President Johnson turn his back as the Egyptian army moved up through the Sinai desert to prepare its assault on Israel in 1967? Because the attack upon Israel had to be provoked. That attack was provoked by the Jesuits' International Intelligence Community through Egypt falsely perceiving the weakness of the Israeli army and the supposed abandonment of Israel by the American Empire. The six-day war, engineered by Knight of Malta James Angleton, had one primary purpose: the taking of Jerusalem along with the Temple Mount. The apparent lack of military hardware on the part of Israel provoked the planned attack by Egypt. Therefore, Israel launched a preemptive strike, and, in six days, the holy city was in the hands of Rome's Zionist government.

Had Kennedy armed Israel, the Egyptians would never have been emboldened to maneuver for war. With no provoked war, there would have been no Israeli attack. With no Israeli attack, Jerusalem would never have been taken by the Zionists, controlled by the Jesuits' Mossad. With Jerusalem in Arab hands, the Zionists could never rebuild Solomon's Temple—unbeknown to them—for the Jesuits' “infallible” Pope,

“Who opposeth and exalted himself above all that is called God, or that is worshiped; so, he is God sitteth in the temple of God [Solomon's rebuilt temple], showing himself that he is God.” -II Thes 2:4

It is safe to say that the Jesuit General, using the Pope with his most powerful Cardinal, assassinated President Kennedy.

--http://www.bibliotecapleyades.net/vatican/esp_vatican03.htm#THE JESUITS — 1945-1990

One might assume that this emotive painting would hang somewhere in Dallas, Texas or perhaps in the Smithsonian. And one would be wrong on both counts. This painting of President John F. Kennedy's gruesome assassination, by Mark Balma, hangs in the Vatican Cathedral of St. Paul. The painting is entitled "Pietà" after Michelangelo's famous sculpture of Mary holding the body of the crucified Christ, which is also located at the Vatican. Isn't this a macabre way to "celebrate" the life of perhaps America's most beloved President? or is this rather an homage to the Jesuit agenda, serving as a stern warning/reminder to those willing to cross them?

Fact #6

The Jesuits today control all the powerful secret societies that are shaping the New World Order

"The list of secret societies being controlled by the Jesuits today include: the Freemasonry, the Knights of Malta, the Bilderberg group, and the higher levels of the Knights of Columbus, and the highest levels of Opus Dei – and all the subgroups that fall under these powerful entities."

--<http://www.toughissues.org/the%20jesuit%20oder.htm>

"There are still men and women about the country, who will tell you, with grim gravity that, if you trace up Masonry, through all its Orders, till you come to the grand tip-top, head Mason of the world, you will discover that the dread individual and the Chief of the Society of Jesus are one and the same person!"

--James Parton, 1855, American Historian, The Black Pope, M.F. Cusack, (London: Marshall, Russell & Co., 1896) p. 76.

If the above is true, then the example below would be a meeting of two of the most powerful men on Earth! The Head of the Jesuits and the Pope, who is also a Jesuit.

Fact #7

The Jesuits are responsible for fomenting the two world wars and escalating the Vietnam War after President Kennedy's assassination:

“The public is practically unaware of the overwhelming responsibility carried by the Vatican and its Jesuits in the starting of the two world wars – a situation which may be explained in part by the gigantic finances at the disposition of the Vatican and its Jesuits, giving them power in so many spheres, especially since the last conflict.”

--Edmond Paris, The Secret History of the Jesuits, page 9

The documented atrocities committed by the Jesuits, particularly those under the Ustachi (or Ustaše) are particularly disturbing and shocking, especially since there are actual photographs of such evil. This didn't happen hundreds or thousands of years ago. It happened in the 1940's. For many in Yugoslavia it was either convert to Catholicism or be brutally tortured and killed.

Fact #8

After Pope Pius VII was freed from exile in 1814, his first order of business upon returning to Rome was to restore the Jesuit order

The papacy suffered great humiliation at the hand of Napoleon. Thus, right after the defeat of Napoleon in 1814, Pope Pius VII was freed from imprisonment and was returned to Rome. The need to restore the Jesuit militia became an urgent matter. Rome did not want to be deprived again of the services of the Jesuits, no matter how burdensome this service was to the Church of Rome, and its allies.

“In the agreement to rescue Rome [i.e., the Roman Catholic Church's hierarchy] from the predicament of losing its world control to Protestantism, and to preserve the spiritual and temporal supremacy which the popes [had] ‘usurped’ during the Middle Ages, Rome now ‘sold’ the [Roman Catholic] Church to the Society of Jesus [i.e., the Jesuits]; in essence the popes surrendered themselves into their hands.”

Fact #9

The Jesuit Order took over the Office of Inquisition shortly after it was sanctioned, and this led to the martyrdom of millions of saints

In 1254 Pope Alexander IV established the Office of the Inquisition. The first inquisitor was Dominic, who was the founder of the Dominican order of monks.

However, shortly after Pope Paul III sanctioned the Society of Jesus, the Office of Inquisition was revived and the Pope gave free reign to the Jesuits to run this office, and the inquisitor Generals were granted exceptional powers in carrying out their mandate to root out of all “heretics.” This caused the martyrdom of millions of saints.

The quotes below show the effect of Jesuits taking over the Office of the Inquisition:

“Need I speak to you of the thirty years’ war in Germany, which was mainly instigated by the Jesuits, in order to deprive the Protestants of the right of free religious worship, secured to them by the treaty of Augsburg? Or of the Irish rebellion, of the inhuman butchery of about fifteen million Indians in South America, Mexico and Cuba, by the Spanish papists? In short, it is calculated by authentic historians, that papal Rome has shed the blood of sixty-eight million of the human race in order to establish her unfounded claims to religious dominion.” Source: Dr. Brownlee’s “Popery an enemy to civil liberty”, p. 105

“This was the century of the last religious wars in “Christendom,” the Thirty Years’ War in Germany, fomented by the Jesuits, reducing the people to cannibalism, and the population of Bohemia from 4,000,000 to 780,000, and of Germany from 20,000,000 to 7,000,000, and making Southern Germany almost a desert, ...”

--Cushing B. Hassell, History of the Church of God, Chapter XVII.

Writing about the Jesuits, John Lord states:

“They are accused of securing the revocation of the Edict of Nantes, -- one of the greatest crimes in the history of modern times, which led to the expulsion of four hundred thousand Protestants from France, and the execution of four hundred thousand more.”

--John Lord, Beacon Lights of History, volume VI, p. 325.

“In Bohemia, by 1600, in a population of 4,000,000, 80 per cent were Protestant. When the Hapsburgs and Jesuits had done their work, 800,000 were left, all Catholics.”

--Henry H., Pocket Bible Handbook, Chicago, 13th edition, 1939, p. 790.

Fact #10

The Jesuits succeeded in their destructive agenda through dominating the confessor field wherever they went

“The Jesuits became the predominant group supplying confessors to (meaning, hearers of the confessions of) kings and princes and those in authority. As the New Catholic Encyclopedia says, "they acted as royal confessor to all French kings for 2 centuries, from Henry III to Louis XV; to all German emperors after the early 17th century; to all Dukes of Bavaria after 1579; to most rulers of Poland and Portugal; to princely families throughout Europe.

“As advisors to kings, they influenced political policy. A royal confessor was not slow to tell a king that he had a duty to make the kind of political alliances that would promote the temporal interests of the Church. It was Le Tellier, Jesuit confessor to Louis XIV, who in the 1680's persuaded that monarch to revoke the Edict of Nantes, which granted religious liberty to Protestants.”

The Jesuits are even confessors of popes. “The Pope’s confessor, an ordinary priest, must be a Jesuit: he must visit the Vatican once a week at a fixed time, and he alone may absolve the Pope of his sins.”

--<http://amazingdiscoveries.org/S-deception-The-New-Superior-General-A-Wolf-in-Sheeps-Clothing>

Conclusion

Given the above historic facts about the Jesuits, it is incredulous and most shocking to see the media and the world's religious and political leaders stampeding to endorse and praise Pope Francis. We have no words to describe this unprecedented worldwide epidemic of memory loss towards Rome and her Jesuits.

The prescient warning of General Sherman is most appropriate to quote today:

“I would remind you of Webster’s definition of a Jesuit: a designer, an intriguer. If the Church of Rome prevailed, the Pope would be the Universal King . . . The Jesuits are here to plot and scheme and, if possible, take from us the noble heritage of our civil and religious freedom. The rules of the Jesuit Order justify theft, licentiousness, lying, false witness bearing, suicide and the murder of parents and other relatives. The greatest crimes in history committed against individuals and nations have been committed by the Jesuits. Wherever Jesuits are they have the torch to burn, the sword to slay, the inquisition to torture. They are the enemies of Bible-believing Christianity. They live for conquest, fortune and glory.”

--General Sherman’s Son: The Life of Thomas Ewing Sherman, S.J., Joseph T. Durkin, S. J., (New York: Farrar, Straus and Cudahy, 1959) p. 186.

It is our duty to as followers of Yahuwah to expose Rome and her Jesuits, and to pray for the utter destruction of their evil deceit. Prayer is the only weapon we have against this veiled enemy we face today. Rome and her Jesuits are the greatest enemy of the Gospel and of humanity. However, we are assured in His prophetic Word that they will not prevail. The Harlot will be utterly destroyed prior to the Second Coming of Yahushua:

“And the ten horns which thou sawest upon the beast, these shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and burn her with fire.” Revelation 17:16.

The Hegelian Dialectic Jesuit-Masonic Modus Operandi

All Jesuit, and subsequent high level (Illuminati level), Masonic activity is done using the agitation of opposites like Right and Left Wing, Communist versus Fascist, Liberal versus Conservative, Atheist versus Theist, etc...where Jesuit agents create and remain aloof, behind all sides of conflicts in political, business, educational, military, media, and spiritual arenas through their controlled opposition agents.

Firstly, in creating duality, they foment chaos (e.g. social problems). After that, a reaction is launched by the target group. And then, a pre-ordained and pre-planned supposed "solution" is offered, which was the original goal, and primary and hidden objective of the diabolical ruse, all along. This strategy is known as “Order Out of Chaos” or, "Ordo ab Chao", the motto of the Jesuit Masonic 33 Degree level Illuminati.

The Veil of Democracy

The strength in this dialectical strategy is in its clandestine nature, where the net result culminates in an unaware populace happy and feeling empowered because its grievance was apparently heard. This is The Veil of Democracy, while in fact they were conducted like cattle to follow a hidden agenda.

Rinse and Repeat

The Hegelian Dialectic is strategy repeated many, many times by The Jesuits until the desired aim is attained. It is a strategy whereby the ruling elite will continually create an artificial or synthetic problem, anticipating in advance the reaction of the population to the crisis, and thus conditioning the people to call for change. When the population is properly conditioned, the desired agenda of the ruling elite is presented as the solution. The solution they present is not intended to solve the initial problem, but to serve as the basis for a new problem or exacerbate the existing one. When the newly created problem reaches the "boiling point", it becomes the foundation for the people to clamber for change again. This process is repeated over and over, all the time moving society towards whatever end point they have in mind (their agenda):

1. Problem (follow step 2)
2. Reaction (follow step 3)
3. Solution (repeat step 1)

Order Out of Chaos

“Order out of Chaos” is the creed of the elite-ruling class; as it is a key stratagem used for social engineering to control the masses. A more technical term of this same principle is known as ‘Hegelian Dialectics’ – the clashing of opposed ideologies to achieve eventual compromise (thesis vs antithesis = synthesis).

Some common examples of ‘Hegelian Dialectics’ are:

- 1) Truth (thesis) -vs- Propaganda (antithesis) = Relativism (synthesis)
- 2) Republican -vs- Democrat = Neo-Progressivism
- 3) Capitalism -vs- Socialism = Corporatism
- 4) Protestantism -vs- Catholicism = Ecumenism

Notice each synthesis from the above examples: Relativism, Neo-Progressivism, Corporatism, Ecumenism; all are precise objectives on the menu for the power-elite.

A more diabolical version of this principle is quoted from Foundation of Human Understanding as follows:

- 1) The first step (thesis) is to create a problem.
- 2) The second step (antithesis) is to generate opposition to the problem (fear, panic and hysteria).
- 3) The third step (synthesis) is to offer the solution to the problem created by step one: A change which would have been impossible to impose upon the people without the proper psychological conditioning achieved in stages one and two.”

Within this process, conflict and chaos are created at great cost of lives and resources to dismantle the social and political structures by which free societies govern themselves; ultimately to be replaced with centralized power and control of the people and resources.

Such a strategic agenda is the real cause of so many of the shootings, bombings, economic crises, wars, revolutions, etc, etc. It’s time to wake up and recognize the strategies being used against us. This is a high call for keen discernment.

Ordo Ab Chao

‘Hegelian Dialectics’ is a key component of the Luciferian system, which is not just a religious system, but a political system; the Hegelian principle is summed-up in their creed “Ordo Ab Chao” (Order from Chaos).

Such methodology has been highly effective for the elite-ruling class (namely the high-ranking Jesuits, who leverage a whole host of different religious and political powers to gain greater dominance.

Order from chaos works like this: “Chaos”, for one, distracts the population to “pay no attention to the man behind the curtain”, and two, causes the people to get so tired of the conflict that they are willing to compromise almost anything for some harmony.

That harmony then comes in the “Order” of those who (secretly) caused the problem- so they can implement their “solution” which is promoted to be in the best interest of the commonwealth of the people, but in actuality, is impoverishing and enslaving them.

Hegelian Dialectics is as old as politics but took on a whole new dimension to counter the Protestant Reformation through the military arm of The Jesuit Order. The Jesuits were recognized for causing so much chaos (revolutions, wars, assassinations) that they were expelled from almost every nation in Europe by the mid 1700’s.

When making their comeback and complete takeover of the Vatican in the early 1800’s, the Jesuits were prepared to be virtually undetectable as they mastered the arts of espionage and infiltration strategies; And as a result of their great success, most have no idea what the Jesuits are really about- how devious and diabolical they really are, as well as the vast amount of global temporal power they have secured.

And with such power and control, they easily have the means to rewrite history to cover their conspiracies, while painting a nicer picture of their image and track record.

Hegelian Dialectics Throughout History

As mentioned, this dialectic principle was brought to a whole new dimension by the Jesuit Order, who were commissioned by the Pope to combat the Protestant Reformation. Most people only recognize the mayhem of the Counter-Reformation and it’s so-called “Holy Inquisition” as something that we are now hundreds of years removed from.

Jesuit Inquisition

However, the Counter-Reformation has gained more ground in this past century than ever before, as the Modern Inquisition has taken more lives than the previous centuries combined, since the ascension of Christ. This satanic advancement was made possible by the covert nature of their tactics and strategy. (Ultimately, it is only by God's permissive will, that this evil is allowed, for a time, for God's own triumphal purposes)

Most people know of the tens of millions of people mass murdered by Stalin, but a detail most folks are not aware of, is that most of those people were various kinds of Christians such as Orthodox & Protestants.

Most people know of the six million Jews that were killed under Hitler's Third Reich, but most are not aware of the 13 million Protestants who were annihilated, mostly from Northern Germany, who were fire-bombed, not by Hitler, but by the Allies, under the assumption and propaganda that states like Prussia were in cahoots with the SS.

Most people have no idea that these cruel dictators like Stalin, Hitler, Pavelic, Mussolini and many more were commissioned by the Catholic Hierarchy as modern-day Inquisitors of the ongoing Counter-Reformation. And what's even more difficult for Americans to see and accept is how the US has been leveraged for the same purposes.

WTC Attack: Hegelian Dialectics in Our Present Time

When understanding the stratagem of the Hegelian principle, you can then begin to recognize how it was implemented throughout history; And after recognizing this element in history, you can then recognize it in our present time. If you wish to cut through the lies and deception to see what the actual truth is, then it is of the essence to not only know the Truth of God's Word and Spirit, but to understand the workings of Satan's worldly system.

It's also very important to know that this satanic system has launched major disinformation campaigns as well as history revision campaigns, within this past century, to cover-up the true nature and magnitude of such atrocities. Many books, people and other sources that have documented the true accounts have been destroyed or suppressed and replaced with false versions of such accounts.

The Khazarian Mafia Jesuits

Ignatius Loyola, the founder of The Society of Jesus or Jesuit Order, was a Crypto-Jew, (Crypto-Judaism is the secret adherence to Judaism while publicly professing to be of another faith; practitioners are referred to as "Crypto-Jews") but both Judaism and the Catholic Church are Babylonian and based upon Egyptian Kabbalistic Doctrine. Jesuits are not authentic Sephardic Jews.

Rather, they are Talmudic and are of the Khazarian bloodline, pretending to be Jews in order to navigate undetected. Jesuits, Zionists, Communists, Fascists, Khazarian, NAZIs are all one and the same. The Jesuits are in absolute control of education and written history, even very recent history. The Jesuits are the same blood and people as the Khazars who have tricked the entire world into believing that they were the Jews persecuted in WW2

The Jesuits: Owners of the 500-Year-Old Flat Earth Secret

“The Jesuits are a MILITARY organization, not a religious order. Their chief is a general of an army, not the mere father abbot of a monastery. And the aim of this organization is power – power in its most despotic exercise – absolute power, universal power, power to control the world by the volition of a single man [i.e., the Black Pope, the Superior General of the Jesuits]. Jesuitism is the most absolute of despotisms – and at the same time the greatest and most enormous of abuses...”

--Napoleon I (i.e., Napoleon Bonaparte; 1769-1821; emperor of the French)

“It is my opinion that if the liberties of this country – the United States of America – are destroyed, it will be by the subtlety of the Roman Catholic Jesuit priests, for they are the most crafty, dangerous enemies to civil and religious liberty. They have instigated most of the wars of Europe.”

-- Freemason and 1st President George Washington--(note Freemason is before 1st American President!)

The Society of Jesus, otherwise known as the Vatican Jesuit Military Order, founded by Ignatius Loyola in 1540, have been highly instrumental in the creating and perpetuating the Great 500 year lie that the Earth is a sphere rotating around a central Sun, held in orbit by gravity. You will find that the Jesuits and the Vatican have been the intimately and deeply involved in all things space, including owning the earliest telescopes and to this day, the largest owners of observatories and telescopes in the world today.

L.U.C.I.F.E.R.

Vatican astronomers used some of the facilities of Steward Observatory, but in 1993 the 1.8-meter Vatican Advanced Technology Telescope (VATT) opened on Mount Graham in southeast Arizona. The same year, Steward Observatory's Heinrich Hertz Submillimeter Telescope (SMT) also opened on Mount Graham. A little more than a decade later, the Large Binocular Telescope (LBT) opened on Mount Graham. With twin 8.4-meter mirrors, the LBT is one of the largest optical telescopes in the world. This telescope is known as the "Large Binocular Telescope Near-Infrared Utility with Camera and Integral Field unit for Extragalactic Research", which they distilled down into the name, "L.U.C.I.F.E.R". How holy of them, right?

De Revolutionibus Orbium Coelestium (On the Revolutions of the Heavenly Spheres) is the seminal work on the Heliocentric theory of the Polish astronomer Nicolaus Copernicus. From Copernicus' dedication in his book to Pope Paul III, to Galileo Galilei who was feted Rome, honored by the Jesuits of the Roman College and received by Pope Paul V, to Sir Isaac Newton who conspired with the English Jesuits at Liege, to Jesuit idiot shill, Albert Einstein, who yielded The Big Bang Theory Story created by his colleague, Jesuit Priest, Georges Lemaitre, The Society of Jesuits have been intimately involved with both the spreading of Heliocentric theory and the burying of 5,000 years of Flat Earth Cosmology.

The Jesuits are rulers of all powers that we are aware of and are ruthless in their pursuit of world domination for centuries, no matter who is killed or what has to be done to maintain and establish world order out of chaos.

They rule over, or are deeply partnered with, the Rothschilds and International Banksters, Secret Societies from Opus Dei, to the York and Scottish Rite Freemasons, Illuminati, as well as the Zionist Jews in seats of power.

They rule over all agencies of government and think tanks including the NSA, CIA, FBI, Mossad, KGB, Round Table, The Committee of 300, Tavistock Institute, Lucis Trust Publishing, Bilderberg Group and the Council of Foreign Relations, including representative government and legislation like the U.S. Presidency, Congress and the Supreme Court.

Our laws are derived of Roman Latin Maritime law and run out of Rome. Their 500 year system is based on openly secret bodies of governance called City-States managed by the Trilateral Commission of the Vatican, City of London and Washington, D.C.

These separate city-states are individual corporations that answer to no country and have their own special status in world court with their own banking, police force, mayor, constitution and flags. (bonus question: Why is Washington named to be in the District of Columbia). For more on the NWO Trilateral ownership of the world, please see here.

The Jesuits are a military order under the Knights of Malta and are ruled by the 13 ancient families of Satanic bloodlines. The top of power currently is one Black Pope, Adolfo, Nicolas, the current Superior General, who all Presidents, Prime Ministers and banksters answer to.

Jorge Mario Bergoglio not only supported the US sponsored dictatorship, he also played a direct and complicit role in the “Dirty War” (la guerra sucia”) in liaison with the military Junta headed by General Jorge Videla, leading to the arrest, imprisonment, torture and disappearance of progressive Catholic priests and laymen who were opposed to Argentina’s military rule.(source)

Now, for the first time in 600 years, the White Pope Francis is a Jesuit who reigned power in Argentina during their bloody “Dirty Wars”. Additionally, drought engineered California has as Governor, Jesuit trained Jerry Brown.

The first Jesuits established Washington D.C., when the wealthiest man in the U.S. at the time, Jesuit John Carrol, donated the land to found the birthing of the “New Jerusalem” in 1871 with the passage of the Organic Act creating the separate city-state of Washington D.C. (note the “birthing occurred between the two states of Virginia and Maryland....the Virgin Mary, get it? This is how long these most despicable group of child abusing men have ruled all worlds of all for centuries. And it is not over. The truth is being revealed and any can easily see how far Jesuit influence has come when one contemplates the worldwide acceptance of a round ball Earth hurtling through space around our Sun at hundreds of thousands of miles per hour.

Jews are the Lower Level of Power

Very few in the alternate news media are covering the top of the pyramid, The Jesuit Military Order, while extensively reporting on the Jews, Bankster Rothschilds, Freemasons, Bilderbergs, etc.... And the question has to be asked why? Why have they not included the omnipresent Jesuit hand throughout modern history? The Society of Jesus (Company of Jesus) aka Jesuits is a 500 year old, all male Roman Catholic Military Order. They operate through The Sovereign Military Order of St. John The Hospitalier of Jerusalem, Rhodes & Malta aka SMOM Knights of Malta, wielding unchecked power behind the scenes.

The “Society of Jesus”, as they are officially known, was originally used by the Vatican to counter the various Reformation movements in Europe, to which the Vatican lost much of its religious and political power. Absolute temporal ruling power has always been the Vatican institution’s primary objective. The Jesuits actually became so powerful and overbearing that they were disbanded by none other than the pope himself. In 1773 Ganganelli, who succeeded Clement XIII, issued a papal bull in which he declared them suppressed and extinct and their statutes annulled. They remained suppressed for forty years, but in 1814 Pius VII issued a bull solemnly reestablishing the society under the constitutions of “St. Ignatius.”

In the words of Abraham Lincoln: “If the Protestants of the North and the South could learn what the priests, nuns, and monks, who daily land on our shores, under the pretext of preaching their religion, were doing in our schools and hospitals, as emissaries of the Pope and the other despots of Europe, to undermine our institutions and alienate the hearts of our people from our Constitution and our laws, and prepare a reign of anarchy here, as they have done in Ireland, Mexico, Spain, and wherever there are people that wish to be free, they would unite in taking power out of their hands”. “The Jesuits never forsake.” (Washington in the lap of Rome, Justin D. Fulton; Fifty Years in the Church of Rome, by: Charles Chiniquy LCCN: BX1770.F9)

By the 17th Century there were more than 500 Jesuit schools established across Europe. The Jesuits standardized curriculum and teaching methods became the basis of many education systems today. There are 20,000 Jesuits working in more than 100 countries, with 200 members in the UK in parishes, schools, colleges and spirituality centers.

To understand the who, when, why and how the Flat Round Geocentric Earth Theory was destroyed 500 years ago in favor of a well-coordinated well planned effort to sell the world that we live on a Heliocentric spinning ball is what we all seek to know. Their purpose for creating the Greatest Lie in the History of Mankind was to create a story that each of us are only a single being amongst billions and billions of other star systems with their own planets and possible inhabitants versus the reality that we are really the center of the universe and all revolves around us, thus making God’s most important creations.

“Go ye, then, into all the world and take possession of all lands in the name of the Pope. He who will not accept him as the Vicar of Jesus and his Vice-Regent on Earth, let him be accursed and exterminated.” ~From Secret Instructions of the Jesuits

The Jesuit Oath Exposed

[The following is the text of the Jesuit Extreme Oath of Induction as recorded in the Journals of the 62nd Congress, 3rd Session, of the United States Congressional Record (House Calendar No. 397, Report No. 1523, 15 February 1913, pp. 3215-3216), from which it was subsequently torn out.

The Oath is also quoted by Charles Didier in his book Subterranean Rome (New York, 1843), translated from the French original. Dr. Alberto Rivera, who escaped from the Jesuit Order in 1967, confirms that the induction ceremony and the text of the Jesuit Oath which he took were identical to what we have cited below.

The Ordained Society of Jesuit Oath

“I furthermore promise and declare that I will, when opportunity present, make and wage relentless war, secretly or openly, against all heretics, Protestants and Liberals, as I am directed to do, to extirpate and exterminate them from the face of the whole earth; and that I will spare neither age, sex or condition; and that I will hang, waste, boil, flay, strangle and bury alive these infamous heretics, rip up the stomachs and wombs of their women and crush their infants’ heads against the walls, in order to annihilate forever their execrable race.

That when the same cannot be done openly, I will secretly use the poisoned cup, the strangulating cord, the steel of the poniard or the leaden bullet, regardless of the honor, rank, dignity, or authority of the person or persons, whatever may be their condition in life, either public or private, as I at any time may be directed so to do by any agent of the Pope or Superior of the Brotherhood of the Holy Faith, of the Society of Jesus.’

In confirmation of which I hereby dedicate my life, soul, and all corporal powers, and with the dagger which I now receive I will subscribe my name written in my blood in testimony thereof.

And should I prove false, or weaken in my determination, may my brethren and fellow soldiers of the militia of the Pope cut off my hands and feet and my throat from ear to ear, my belly be opened and sulphur burned therein with all the punishment that can be inflicted upon me on earth, and my soul shall be tortured by demons in eternal hell forever.

Now Compare This Oath To The Freemasonry Oaths
The Obligation Of A First Degree Freemason (Entered Apprentice Degree):

“Binding myself under no less a penalty than that of having my throat cut across, my tongue torn out by its roots, and buried in the rough sands of the sea at low-water mark, where the tide ebbs and flows twice in twenty four hours, should I ever knowingly or willingly violate this my solemn oath and obligation as an Entered Apprentice Mason. So help me God, and keep me steadfast in the due performance of the same.”

The Obligation Of A Second Degree Freemason (Fellowcraft Degree):

“Binding myself under no less a penalty than that of having my left breast torn open, my heart plucked out, and given as a prey to the wild beasts of the field and the fowls of the air as a prey.”

The Obligation Of A Third Degree Freemason (Master Mason Degree):

“Binding myself under no less a penalty than that of having my body severed in two, my bowels taken from thence and burned to ashes, the ashes scattered to the four winds of heaven, so that no more trace or remembrance may be had of so vile and perjured a wretch as I, should I ever knowingly or willingly violate this my solemn obligation as a Master Mason. So help me God, and keep me steadfast in the due performance of the same.”

In every ritual degree of Freemasonry and in all the most important ceremonial rituals and initiations of elite orders, the candidate is required to take an oath and is warned of the hideous and grotesque penalty that awaits him if he dares ever to reveal any of the group’s innermost secrets.

So both Jesuits and entry level Freemasons share very similar blood oaths or brutal death is brought upon thee.

To understand the great power of the Jesuits we need to take a brief overview of how much power they yield, and who and what they control.

The order traces its history to an 11th cent CE infirmary in Jerusalem set up by a monk to care for pilgrim visiting the Holy Land. During the Crusades it took on a military role to protect pilgrims and Christendom as a whole from Muslim attacks. In February 1113 Pope Paschal II recognized the order with a papal bull establishing its sovereign status by saying it was independent of both lay and other religious authorities.

The orders international legal status is entirely unique, a sovereign a sovereign entity that prints its own stamps, coins, license plates and passports, yet has no territory over which it rules. Its forces once occupied Cyprus, Rhodes and Malta, but Napoleon expelled the order from Malta in 1798, depriving it of the final patch of land over it ruled. Nevertheless, the order still enjoys many of the trapping of a small country: UN observer status and diplomatic relation with 104 countries.

When Flat Round Earth Got Dropped From Scientific Inquiry: Geocentrism Vs. Heliocentrism no Longer Up For Discussion

In 1543, Copernicus suggested the sun was at the center of the cosmos. When Jesuit astronomer, Giovanni Battista Riccioli published his Almagestrum Novum or “New Almagest” the title alone suggested the boldness of the project. This was to be a new and updated take on Ptolemy’s Almagest. The book offered new insight into the state of thought about the cosmos in 17th century Europe.

The frontispiece to Riccioli’s Almagestrum Novum tells his perspective on the state of astronomy in 1651. Urania, the winged muse of astronomy, holds up a scale with two competing models, a sun centered Copernican model, and the Tyconic geocentric model. The Ptolemaic model sits discarded in the bottom right corner of the scene. On the right, 100 eyed Argus points at cherubs in the upper right corner of the illustration.

The Cherubs hold recent observational discoveries; the moons of Jupiter, a detailed mountainous moon and the rings of Saturn. Under God’s hand from the top of the image, the scale reports the Tychonic model to be heavier and thus the winner.

Early Channeling Sagan: Billions and Billions

Some of the most interesting details in this illustration are tucked away in the corners. In the upper right corner, among the clouds, are small representations of additional solar systems. Beyond the central diagram, the mapmaker shows the concept of the plurality of worlds. Each of these little sets of circles represents its own solar system with a star and planets. This image directly draws on the literary author, de Fontenelle, who building on the ideas of Newton and Descartes', explored the significance of living in a universe with a plurality of worlds each orbiting their own stars.

Riccioli leans on the authority of a number of contemporary and historical thinkers. He lists 38 different astronomers and thinkers, such as Aristotle, Ptolemy and others who believe the Earth to be the center of the universe. He compares them to the 16 astronomers, including Copernicus, Kepler, and Descartes, who favor a sun centered model.

There were three mathematical models to describe the movements of the heavens in the 1600s:

- 1.) The Aristotelian / Ptolemaic system, with everything orbiting around a stationary Earth, which had largely fallen out of favor following Galileo's observations.
- 2.) The Tychonic system (developed by Tycho Brahe), in which the Earth was viewed as stationary, the Sun went around the Earth and everything else went around the Sun. After Galileo's presentations in 1611, this became the favored model of the Roman Catholic Church. Most Jesuit astronomers (such as Clavius) had adopted this system by 1620.
- 3.) The Copernican system, with a stationary Sun around which everything else revolved.

A statue of Nicolaus Copernicus erected 1973, 500 years after his birthday in front of the Jesuit college and a planetarium in Piotrkow Trybunalski, ...

Copernicus

Among Catholics, Christoph Clavius (1537–1612) was the leading astronomer in the sixteenth century. A Jesuit himself, he incorporated astronomy into the Jesuit curriculum and was the principal scholar behind the creation of the Gregorian calendar. Like the Wittenberg astronomers, Clavius adopted Copernican mathematical models when he felt them superior, but he believed that Ptolemy's cosmology — both his ordering of the planets and his use of the equant — was correct.

Pope Clement VII (r. 1523–1534) had reacted favorably to a talk about Copernicus's theories, rewarding the speaker with a rare manuscript. There is no indication of how Pope Paul III, to whom On the Revolutions was dedicated reacted; however, a trusted advisor, Bartolomeo Spina of Pisa (1474–1546) intended to condemn it but fell ill and died before his plan was carried out (see Rosen, 1975). Thus, in 1600 there was no official Catholic position on the Copernican system, and it was certainly not a heresy.

Tycho Brahe

Tycho Brahe, 14 December 1546 – 24 October 1601), was a Danish nobleman known for his accurate and comprehensive astronomical and planetary observations.

After disagreements with the new Danish king Christian IV in 1597, he was invited by the Bohemian king and Holy Roman emperor Rudolph II to Prague, where he became the official imperial astronomer. He built the new observatory at Benátky nad Jizerou. There, from 1600 until his death in 1601, he was assisted by Johannes Kepler who later used Tycho's astronomical data to develop his three laws of planetary motion.

Some acceptance of the Tychonic system persisted through the 17th century and in places until the early 18th century; it was supported (after a 1633 decree about the Copernican controversy) by “a flood of pro-Tycho literature” of Jesuit origin.

Among pro-Tycho Jesuits, Ignace Pardies declared in 1691 that it was still the commonly accepted system, and Francesco Blanchinus reiterated that as late as 1728.[82] Persistence of the Tyconic system, especially in Catholic countries, has been attributed to its satisfaction of a need (relative to Catholic doctrine) for “a safe synthesis of ancient and modern”.

Galileo Galilei

“The laws of nature are written by the hand of God in the language of mathematics.” – Galileo Galilei (Il Saggiatore, 1623)

Initially a beneficiary of church patronage of astronomy, Galileo rose to prominence with the publication of Sidereus Nuncius, which comprised astronomical observations made possible by the 1608 invention of the telescope. He was feted in Rome, honored by the Jesuits of the Roman College and received by Pope Paul V and church dignitaries

In 1611 Galileo travelled to Rome to present his findings, and was greeted with great acclaim. He demonstrated his observations of Jupiter to Christopher Clavius, a Jesuit at the Collegio Romano and the most respected astronomer in Europe at the time, who confirmed Galileo’s observations and parts of his theses of planetary motion. He was monumentally arrogant, belligerent and abrasive towards any who opposed him.

Controversial Questions’ (don’t you just love that title?), wrote a letter to Galileo in April 1615 outlining the Church’s official position. He pointed out that Copernican theory was perfectly acceptable as a working hypothesis, and if there were proof that the earth circles around the sun, “then we should have to proceed with great circumspection in explaining passages of Scripture which appear to teach the contrary.”

Galileo had no astronomical proof to offer, partly because his own observations did not align properly with his theory. Instead, Galileo proposed as proof a flawed and unconvincing theory that the tides were evidence of the Earth's rotation (and, incidentally, specifically denying that lunar attraction was involved). In 1616 the Church ordered him to cease and desist his public advocacy of the unproven theory.

In 1623 his friend and supporter Maffeo Barberini ascended to the papacy, and Galileo confidently re-entered the public fray. In the same year he published Il Saggiatore ("The Assayer"), in which he launched a vicious assault on a treatise on comets by Orazio Grassi, a Jesuit mathematician at the Collegio Romano. Grassi used observations of parallax to argue that comets are further away than the moon; Galileo ridiculed this idea and claimed instead that comets are an optical illusion. His factual error notwithstanding, the harshness of Galileo's tone permanently soured his relations with the Jesuit order. Pope Urban VIII thoroughly enjoyed the rhetorical flourishes of Galileo's prose, however, and composed a poem in his honor.

The Jesuits at the Roman College undoubtedly followed Aristotle in philosophy and Ptolemy in astronomy, at least for didactic purposes

Orazio Grassi, S.J. (1 May 1583 – 23 July 1654), was an Italian Jesuit priest, who is best noted as a mathematician, astronomer and architect. He was one of the authors in controversy with Galileo Galilei on the nature of comets Giovanni Battista Riccioli^[1] (17 April 1598 – 25 June 1671) was an Italian astronomer and a Catholic priest in the Jesuit order. He is known, among other things, for his experiments with pendulums and with falling bodies, for his discussion of 126 arguments concerning the motion of the Earth, and for introducing the current scheme of lunar nomenclature.

Other 17th Century Jesuit Astronomers:

- Matteo Ricci (1552–1610), Italian mathematician, translator, and noted for his importance to the Jesuit China missions.

- Christopher Clavius (1538–1612), German mathematician and astronomer, most noted in connection with the Gregorian calendar, but also his arithmetic books were used by many mathematicians including Leibniz and Descartes.
- François d’Aguilon (1567-1617), Belgian mathematician and physicist who worked on optics.
- Giuseppe Biancani (1566-1624), Italian astronomer and selenographer who wrote Sphaera mundi, seu cosmographia demonstrativa, ac facili methodo tradita.
- Wenceslas Pantaleon Kirwitzer (1588-1626), Czech astronomer and missionary to China.
- Charles Malapert (1581-1630), Belgian astronomer known for observing the stars of the southern sky and being against Copernicus.
- Christoforo Borri (1583–1632), Italian mathematician and astronomy who made observations on the magnetic variation of the compass.
- Christoph Grienberger (1561-1636), Austrian astronomer and mathematician.
- Giovanni Battista Zupi (c.1590-1650), Italian astronomer who discovered that Mercury had orbital phases.
- Alexius Sylvius Polonus (1593-c.1653), Polish astronomer.
- Johann Baptist Cysat (1587-1657), Swiss mathematician and astronomer, who did important research on comets and the Orion nebula.
- Mario Bettinus (1582-1657), Italian mathematician and astronomer..
- André Tacquet (1612-1660), Flemish mathematician whose work prepared the ground for the eventual discovery of calculus.
- Francesco Maria Grimaldi 1618-1663), Italian physicist, who coined the word ‘diffraction’ and used instruments to measure geological features on the Moon.
- Niccolò Zucchi (1586-1670), Italian astronomer known for his study of Jupiter and work on telescope design.

- Giovanni Battista Riccioli (1598-1671), Italian astronomer who was the first to note that Mizar was a “double star.”
- Albert Curtz (1600-1671), German astronomer.
- Jacques de Billy (1602-1679), French mathematician who wrote on number theory and astronomy.
- Athanasius Kircher (1601-1680), German who in his Scrutinium Pestis of 1658 he noted the presence of “little worms” or “animalcules” in the blood, and concluded that the disease was caused by micro-organisms. This is antecedent to germ theory.

Cogito Ergo Sum ~ I Think Therefore I Am

Rene Descartes laid the foundation for 17th-century continental rationalism, later advocated by Baruch Spinoza and Gottfried Leibniz, and opposed by the empiricist school of thought consisting of Hobbes, Locke, Berkeley, and Hume. Leibniz, Spinoza[citation needed] and Descartes were all well versed in mathematics as well as philosophy, and Descartes and Leibniz contributed greatly to science as well.

In 1607, late because of his fragile health, he entered the Jesuit College Royal Henry-Le-Grand at La Flèche where he was introduced to mathematics and physics, including Galileo’s work.

1650’s

Jean- Fran Fouquet was born in Vézelay in a wealthy family. He studied at Lycée Louis le Grand in Paris. In 1681 he entered the order of the Jesuits. Four years later he taught mathematics. In 1693 he became a priest and in the following year he decided he wanted to volunteer in Asia. In 1699 he arrived in Amoy. Until 1711 he worked in Fujian and Jiangxi, then he was invited to Peking, to teach math and astronomy.

Jean-Félix Picard (21 July 1620 – 12 July 1682) was a French astronomer and priest born in La Flèche, where he studied at the Jesuit College Royal Henry-Le-Grand. . He was the first person to measure the size of the Earth to a reasonable degree of accuracy in a survey conducted in 1669–70, for which he is honored with a pyramid at Juvisy-sur-Orge.

While the Kirch Comet of 1680–1681 was discovered by—and subsequently named for—Gottfried Kirch, credit must also be given to Eusebio Kino, the Spanish Jesuit priest who charted the comet’s course.

Jesuit Astronomers with Chinese Scholars in the 18th Century

The Jesuit China missions of the 16th and 17th centuries introduced Western science and astronomy, then undergoing its own revolution, to China. One modern historian writes that in late Ming courts, the Jesuits were “regarded as impressive especially for their knowledge of astronomy, calendar-making, mathematics, hydraulics, and geography.”[4]

The Society of Jesus introduced, according to Thomas Woods, “a substantial body of scientific knowledge and a vast array of mental tools for understanding the physical universe, including the Euclidean geometry that made planetary motion comprehensible.”[5] Another expert quoted by Woods said the scientific revolution brought by the Jesuits coincided with a time when science was at a very low level in China.

On 8 June 1723, Fouquet was received by Pope Innocent XIII. Fouquet met another Chinese in Rome, who offered him help with translating. In 1725 he was appointed as bishop of Eleutheropolis in Palestine.

Johannes Kepler (December 27, 1571 – November 15, 1630) was a German mathematician, astronomer, and astrologer. A key figure in the 17th century scientific revolution, he is best known for his laws of planetary motion, based on his works Astronomia nova, Harmonices Mundi, and Epitome of Copernican Astronomy. These works also provided one of the foundations for Isaac Newton’s theory of universal gravitation.

During his career, Kepler was a mathematics teacher at a seminary school in Graz, Austria

Jesuits Produce First Telescopes

Modern refracting telescopes are based on a design proposed by Johannes Kepler in 1611 but first constructed by Father Christopher Scheiner sometime between 1613 and 1617.

Why did Scheiner build an astronomical telescope when other scientists of his day seemed quite content with the Galilean telescope? The answer may require looking past Scheiner to his order, the Jesuits. Scheiner's unorthodoxy regarding telescope construction, use and theory was not out of place in the Jesuits. Another Jesuit of Scheiner's and Galileo's time, Niccolo Zucchi, demonstrated that a telescopic effect could be achieved using a combination of parabolic mirrors and lenses instead of just lenses. This crude reflecting telescope was built more than 50 years before Newton's famous telescope.

The Jesuits also have a connection with the spread of telescope technology beyond Europe. The first telescope in North America was a gift presented by the Jesuits in 1646 to Jean Bourdon, an engineer in New France (modern day Quebec). The first telescope in China was brought there by Johannes Schreck, another Jesuit, in 1621 (his trip from Europe started in 1618). The Jesuit Jean Richaud is wrongly thought to be the first to use telescopes for astronomical purposes in India.

The Vatican's L.U.C.I.F.E.R. Telescope

The dedication plaque of the VATT reads: "This new tower for studying the stars has been erected during the XV year of the reign of John Paul II on this peaceful site so fit for such studies, and it has been equipped with a new large mirror for detecting the faintest glimmers of light from distant objects. May whoever searches here night and day the far reaches of space use it joyfully with the help of God."

Why Is the Vatican the Largest and Longest Owners of Telescope Observatories?

“It may be boldly asked where can the man be found, possessing the extraordinary gifts of Newton, who could suffer himself to be deluded by such a hocus-pocus, if he had not in the first instance willfully deceived himself; Only those who know the strength of self-deception, and the extent to which it sometimes trenches on dishonesty, are in a condition to explain the conduct of Newton and of Newton’s school.

To support his unnatural theory Newton heaps fiction upon fiction, seeking to dazzle where he cannot convince. In whatever way or manner may have occurred this business, I must still say that I curse this modern history theory of Cosmology, and hope that perchance there may appear, in due time, some young scientists of genius, who will pick up courage enough to upset this universally disseminated delirium of lunatics.”

“Along with the rest of the world I was convinced that all the colors are contained in the light; no one had ever told me anything different, and I had never found the least cause to doubt it, because I had no further interest in the subject. But how I was astonished, as I looked at a white wall through the prism, that it stayed white! That only where it came upon some darkened area, it showed some color, then at last, around the windowsill all the colors shone. It didn’t take long before I knew here was something significant about color to be brought forth, and I spoke as through an instinct out loud, that the Newtonian teachings were false.” ~ Johannes Wolfgang Goethe

Isaac Newton’s Theory of Colors Worked Out With Jesuits of England

Sir Isaac Newton was also engaged in another exchange on his theory of colors with a circle of English Jesuits in Liege, perhaps the most revealing exchange of all. Although their objections were shallow, their contention that his experiments were mistaken lashed him into a fury. The correspondence dragged on until 1678, when a final shriek of rage from Newton, apparently accompanied by a complete nervous breakdown, was followed by silence.

Newton has been identified as a “Grand Master of the Priory of Sion” from 1691-1727 in documents by Pierre Plantard. There is a secret society known as the Priory of Sion, which has a long history starting in 1099, and had illustrious Grand Masters including Leonardo da Vinci and Isaac Newton; it created the Knights Templar as its military arm and financial branch; and it is devoted to installing the Merovingian dynasty, that ruled the Franks from 457 to 751, on the thrones of France and the rest of Europe.

Newton was made President of the Royal Society in 1703 and an associate of the French Academie des Sciences. In his position at the Royal Society, Newton made an enemy of John Flamsteed, the Astronomer Royal, by prematurely publishing Flamsteed’s star catalogue.

The researchers say that a little known school of scholars in southwest India discovered one of the founding principles of modern mathematics hundreds of years before Newton, a University of Manchester statement says.

Newton’s supposed “law of gravity,” are what’s truly dubious. Heliocentrists cannot show us a single object massive enough that by virtue of its mass alone, causes other smaller masses to stick to or orbit it as they claim happens with the Sun, Moon, Earth, Stars and Planets. If you cannot give me a single practical example of “gravity” smaller than the Earth or the Sun, then it is merely heresay, not science! ~ Eric Dubay Flat Earth Conspiracy

Newton’s Major Body of Work Heavily Edited by Jesuits

“Newton’s Laws have been responsible for the discovery of planets, for the construction of safe bridges, roads and amusement park rides, for an understanding of the ocean’s tides, and for realistic computer animations and video games,” said Erlich, the Class of 2017 Associate Professor of Physics. “It would be difficult to overstate the importance of at least some of these things.”

After the first edition (hereafter referred to as Newton 1), two subsequent editions were published. The second edition (Newton 2) was published in 1713 and the third edition (Newton 3) in 1726. Then, just over a decade later, comes Newton 4, the so-called Jesuit edition, which was edited by two Minim friars. The Jesuit edition contains commentary that extends to roughly the same length as Newton's text. The text for the Jesuit edition was, in fact, taken from the Newton 3 edition of the Principia—the last edition to be edited by Newton himself.

Newton Did Not Discover Calculus but Passed on by Jesuits

Dr George Gheverghese Joseph from The University of Manchester says the 'Kerala School' identified the 'infinite series'- one of the basic components of calculus – in about 1350.

The discovery is currently – and wrongly – attributed in books to Sir Isaac Newton and Gottfried Leibnitz at the end of the seventeenth centuries.

And there is strong circumstantial evidence that the Indians passed on their discoveries to mathematically knowledgeable Jesuit missionaries who visited India during the fifteenth century.

Newton vs. Castel: Theory of Colors

Louis Bertrand Castel (15 November 1688 – 9 January 1757) was a French mathematician born in Montpellier, and entered the order of the Jesuits in 1703. It was in 1740 that Louis Bertrand Castel published a criticism of Newton's spectral description of prismatic color[1] in which he observed that the colors of white light split by a prism depended on the distance from the prism, and that Newton was looking at a special case. It was an argument that Goethe later developed in his Theory of Colors

Roger Joseph Boscovich (18 May 1711 – 13 February 1787) was a Ragusa physicist, astronomer, mathematician, philosopher, diplomat, poet, theologian, Jesuit priest, and a polymath from the city of Dubrovnik in the Republic of Ragusa (modern-day Croatia), who studied and lived in Italy and France where he also published many of his works. In 1744 he was ordained to the Roman Catholic priesthood

He produced a precursor of atomic theory and made many contributions to astronomy, including the first geometric procedure for determining the equator of a rotating planet from three observations of a surface feature and for computing the orbit of a planet from three observations of its position. In 1753 he also discovered the absence of atmosphere on the Moon.

Other Jesuit Astronomers of the 1700's

- Valentin Stansel (1621 – 1705), Czech astronomer in Brazil, who discovered a comet, that after accurate positions were made via F. de Gottignies in Goa, became known as Estancel-Gottignies comet.
- Paolo Casati (1617-1707), Italian scientist, notable in meteorology and speculation on Vacuums.
- Franz Reinzer (1661-1708), Austrian writer who wrote about comets, meteors, lightning, winds, fossils, metals, etc.
- Eusebio Kino (1645 – 1711) Trentino missionary, mathematician, cartographer and astronomer who drew maps based on his explorations first showing that California was not an island as then believed and who published an astronomical treatise in Mexico City based on his observations of the Kirsch Comet.
- Giuseppe Asclepi (1706-1776), Italian astronomer.
- Christian Mayer (1719-1783), Czech astronomer known for his pioneering study of binary stars.
- Roger Joseph Boscovich (1711–1787), an Ragusan Polymath famous for his atomic theory in part. Also for devising perhaps the first geometric procedure for determining the equator of a rotating planet from three observations of a surface feature and for computing the orbit of a planet from three observations of its position.
- João de Loureiro (1717–1791), Portuguese mathematician and botanist active in Cochinchina.

- Maximilian Hell (1720-1792), Hungarian director of the Vienna Observatory who wrote astronomy tables and observed the Transit of Venus.
- Ignacije Szentmartony (1718-1793), Croatian who ‘obtained the title of royal mathematician and astronomer’ and used his astronomical knowledge in mapping parts of Brazil.

Someday someone will write a pathology of experimental physics and bring to light all those swindles which subvert our reason, beguile our judgement and, what is worse, stand in the way of any practical progress. The phenomena must be freed once and for all from their grim torture chamber of empiricism, mechanism, and dogmatism; they must be brought before the jury of man’s common sense.— Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

The 1822 Treaty of Verona (between Austria, France, Prussia and Russia)

The Jesuits agreed to smash the US Constitution and suppress the freedom of the US. Their methods included destroying free speech, destroying and suppressing the press, universal censorship, sustaining the cooperation of the Pope and clergy to use religion to help keep nations in passive obedience and financing wars against countries with representative governments.

The monarchs who signed this treaty were ultimately deposed. Most of these families are very wealthy and may be more powerful today than when they sat upon thrones. They are known collectively as the Black Nobility. Privately these families refuse to recognize any right to rule except their own. The fact that this treaty was made long ago does not mean it is void. The treaty was placed in the Congressional Record on April 25, 1916 by Senator Owen.(source)

The Treaty of Verona and The Monroe Doctrine

The Monroe Doctrine was a U.S. foreign policy regarding domination of the American continent in 1823. The threat under the secret treaty of Verona to suppress popular governments in the American Republics is the basis of the Monroe doctrine. This secret treaty sets forth clearly the conflict between monarchical government and popular government and the government of the few as against the government of the many.

The Holy Alliance made its powers felt by the wholesale drastic suppression of the press in Europe, by universal censorship, by killing free speech and all ideas of popular rights, and by the complete suppression of popular government.

The Holy Alliance having destroyed popular government in Spain and in Italy, had well-laid plans also to destroy popular government in the American colonies which had revolted from Spain and Portugal in Central and South America under the influence of the successful example of the United States.

It was because of this conspiracy against the American Republics by the European monarchies that the great English statesman, Canning, called the attention of our government to it, and our statesmen then, including Thomas Jefferson, took an active part to bring about the declaration by President Monroe in his next annual message to the Congress of the United States that the United States should regard it as an act of hostility to the government of the United States and an unfriendly act if this coalition or if any power of Europe ever undertook to establish upon the American Continent any control of any American Republic or to acquire any territorial rights.

Fr. Secchi was born in Reggio Emilia, where he studied at the Jesuit gymnasium. At the age of 16, he entered the Jesuit Order in Rome. He continued his studies at the Roman College, and demonstrated great scientific ability. In 1839, he was appointed tutor of mathematics and physics at the College. In 1841, he became Professor of Physics at the Jesuit College in Loreto. In 1844, he began theological studies in Rome, and was ordained a priest on 12 September 1847. In 1848, due to the Roman Revolution, the Jesuits had to leave Rome.

Fr. Secchi spent the next two years in the United Kingdom at Stonyhurst College, and the United States, where he taught for a time at Georgetown University in Washington, DC. He also took his doctoral examination in theology there.

The Sun

- Nicolas Copernicus estimated The Sun is 3 million miles away
- Johannes Kepler estimated The Sun is 12 million miles away
- Isaac Newton states: “It matters not if its 24 or 56 million miles away, science will find the answer.”
- Current Distance Story: The Sun is 93 million miles away.

In each case, the Sun’s distance from the Earth is just a wild unproven speculation, having nothing to do with any real empirical data.

Royal Astronomical Society

The Royal Astronomical Society (RAS) is a learned society that began as the Astronomical Society of London in 1820 to support astronomical research (mainly carried on at the time by ‘gentleman astronomers’ rather than professionals). It became the Royal Astronomical Society in 1831 on receiving its Royal Charter from William IV.

India Gets Astronomy With Help Of Jesuits

G.V. Juggarow Observatory, established in 1840, was the earliest private modern Indian astronomical observatory that functioned till the turn of the twentieth century. Jesuit priest-astronomers were the real initiators of telescopic astronomy in India, particularly Father J. Richaud who carried out systematic observations of binary stars, comets, zodiacal light, dark clouds etc. at Pondicherry from 1689 (Rao et al 1984)

Other 19th Century Jesuit Astronomers

- Franz de Paula Triesnecker (1745-1817), Austrian astronomer.
- Angelo Secchi (1818-1878), Italian astronomer who discovered the existence of solar spicules and drew an early map of Mars.

- Benito Viñes (1837-1893), Spanish scientist who led the Bethlehem College Observatory in Havana and was known as “Father Hurricane” because of his research on hurricanes.

1900’s

The “consensus” that Catholic faith is somehow opposed to science, and has stifled and restrained it, is a long-held bias based on prejudice and not evidence. At times in the history of science and faith, the truth has been just the other way around.

Big Bang Creationist: Father Georges Lemaitre Schools Einstein

” It was about the Belgian Jesuit priest, mathematician and physicist, Father Georges Lemaitre, originator of the Big Bang theory and the man who changed the mind of Albert Einstein on the true origin of the created Universe.

“The term “Big Bang” was coined by a bitter opponent of the theory: the English astronomer and physicist Fred Hoyle. In 1950, Hoyle gave a series of Saturday night radio talks for the BBC on “The Nature of the Universe.” Detesting the notion that the universe had a beginning, he held a different theory, according to which the universe is eternal. In his concluding talk, Hoyle, striving for a visual image of the theory he opposed, called it “this big bang idea.” The name gradually stuck, without any of the pejorative overtones Hoyle may have intended.”

At the very end of that post, there is a photograph of Father Lemaitre with Albert Einstein who once told Father Lemaitre in response to his theory about the Big Bang, “Your math is perfect, but your physics is abominable.”

Six years later, in 1933, Einstein declared that his own “Cosmological Constant” – his theory that the Universe always existed – was his greatest error, and he called Father Lemaitre’s work “the most beautiful and satisfactory explanation of creation I have ever heard.” For Einstein to use the “C” word – Creation – was a pivotal moment in modern science.

In 1941, he was elected member of the Royal Academy of Sciences and Arts of Belgium, and he received the very first Eddington Medal awarded by the Royal Astronomical Society in 1953.

The story of Fr. Lemaitre's role in modern cosmology was often stifled by science because he was a Catholic priest.

In January 1933, Lemaitre and Einstein, who had met on several occasions—in 1927 in Brussels, at the time of a Solvay Conference, in 1932 in Belgium, at the time of a cycle of conferences in Brussels and lastly in 1935 at Princeton—traveled together to the U.S. state of California for a series of seminars.

Newspapers around the world called him a famous Belgian scientist and described him as the leader of the new cosmological physics.

Pierre Teilhard de Chardin

Pierre Teilhard de Chardin (1881–1955), French Paleontologist and philosopher involved in the discovery of the so-called Peking Man. Teilhard was praised by Pope Benedict XVI, and he was also noted for his contributions to theology in Pope Francis' 2015 encyclical Laudato si'.

The Michelson-Morley Experiment was the reason for the creation of Albert Einstein!!

Beginning in 1887, U.S. scientist Albert Abraham Michelson began to do experiments to try and detect the motion of the earth around the sun by using the speed of light as a barometer. This experiment was called the Michelson-Morley experiment and was famous for one thing: ALL THE RESULTS WERE NEGATIVE.

Dr. Albert Michelson Dr. Albert Michelson (1852–1931)

Professors Michelson and Morley were the 2 halves of the famous team who conducted experiments on the speed of light. Dr. Albert Michelson used an interferometer for measuring the speed of light. At that time, all scientists believed in the existence of an invisible Aether which carried light waves. They supposed that the ether would cause a drag on the speed of light as the earth raced around the sun at 30 km/s or over 108,000 km per hour. To their astonishment, no variation in the speed of light was found. An interferometer for measuring the motion of the earth around the sun used by Dr. Michelson in 1887. After serving as professor at Clark University at Worcester, Massachusetts, from 1889 until 1892, Michelson was appointed professor and the first head of the department of physics at the newly organized University of Chicago. With his big salary from Rockefeller, and the Nobel Prize money, Michelson was content not to make WAVES about the non-motion of the Earth.

In 1924, Michelson received a huge grant from the university in order to determine the ROTATION of the Earth by using the speed of light. This test consisted of a mile long 12 inch tunnel with all the air removed. As expected, all the results were NEGATIVE.

Send in The Clowns: Jesuit Stooge Albert Einstein

Special Relativity was conjured up by Einstein to explain away The Michelson-Morley Experiment of 1887, which proved that the Earth is not moving in an orbit around the Sun. By 1900, the proof of the non-motion of the earth did not cause Michelson to get on his knees and acknowledge that the Bible was correct after all. Had he and the “scientific” community done so, the whole evolutionary house of sand would have come crashing down. That is the last thing that the Jesuits wanted. Their answer was to use Albert Einstein to invent a completely new theory of the universe called RELATIVITY to fabricate an illusory universe that could not be supported by any real empirical observations. Einstein was the beginning of goofy, nonsensical, hocus pocus science. The entire empirical narrative shifted from the U.S. to Switzerland and an obscure patent clerk in the Swiss Patent Office named Albert Einstein.

More on The Jesuits: Sovereign Military Order of Malta

That’s just an elaborate front... As the name Sovereign Military Order of Malta (SMOM) confirms, it is a military order based on the crusader Knights Hospitaller of Jerusalem and is interwoven with Freemasonry. Most people have never even heard of SMOM, much less that it is a part of Freemasonry. But that is the way the aristocratic elite like it.

One of the symbols of the military orders of the Vatican, the masonic double-headed eagle emblazoned with the Maltese cross, signifies omnipotent royal dominion over both East and West. The orb signifies temporal dominion over the globe of Earth, and the scepter signifies control over the spiritual and religious impulses of humanity.

This eagle symbol is used in the masonic rite of Memphis and Misraim, under which it reads, “Order Out of Chaos”, the Hegelian method of crisis creation. It is found on the seals of many European and Eurasian nation states including that of Russia, indicating direct Vatican control over those countries.

Famous Freemasons: More on the Double-headed Eagle and the ‘Redshields’

The two-headed eagle emblem of the Byzantine Empire (Roman Empire) on a Red Shield was adopted in 1743 by the infamous goldsmith Amschel Moses Bauer. He opened a coin shop in Frankfurt, Germany and hung above his door this Roman eagle on a red shield. The shop became known as the “Red Shield firm”. The German word for ‘red shield’ is Rothschild. After this point, the Rothschilds became the bankers to kings and pontiffs alike, among the richest families in the world. Ever since, they have financed both sides of every major war and revolution using the Hegelian Dialectic to engineer society toward their New World Order.

The Rothschilds and their agents, such as the Rockefellers, have been engineering America and its foreign policy almost since its inception. They and their Skull and Bones Wall Street partners staged and funded both sides in WWII, and out of that hellish nightmare was born their infant global government, the United Nations, and their tool of tyranny, the CIA. The father of the CIA, “Wild Bill” Donovan, was a Knight of Malta. In order to be a director of the CIA you must be a crusading Knight of Malta and it doesn't hurt if you are a member of Skull and Bones either. In order to reach the highest levels in the Pentagon establishment, you must be an illuminated Freemason and/or a Knight of one order or another. Notable US military members of SMOM include top crusading generals such as Alexander Haig, William Westmoreland, and Charles A. Willoughby, an admitted Fascist.

Other Notable Members Include:

- Reinhard Gehlen (Nazi war criminal)
- Heinrich Himmler (Nazi war criminal)
- Kurt Waldheim (Nazi war criminal)

- Blackwater/Academia/Xe and the Knights of Malta Connection

Former Pentagon Inspector General Joseph Edward Schmitz quit in 2005 to work for Blackwater. He is a member of Opus Dei and Knights of Malta. At least $2 trillion went “missing” from the Pentagon during his watch.

An American investigative journalist compared the US firm Blackwater, the biggest security services provider in post war Iraq, to the Knights of Malta. The company is currently in the midst of a controversy after some of its 20,000 personnel stationed in Iraq killed a number of civilians. In his book, ‘Blackwater: The Rise of the World’s Most Powerful Mercenary Army’, Jeremy Scahill links the modern security firm to the Knights of Malta. The writer argues that “Blackwater’s employees... share the same religious zeal of ancient crusaders”, the Egyptian weekly newspaper Al-Ahram reported.

All the top Nazis in our government are connected in some way to the Vatican, Jesuits and Knights of Malta and have been for decades, as were the Italian Fascists and German Nazis of WWII. After all, what was their favorite symbol after the swastika? The Maltese Cross of course! Blackwater/Xe is more than just a “private army”, and much more than just another capitalist war-profiteering business operation.

It is an army operating outside all laws, outside and above the US Constitution and yet is controlled by people within and outside our government whose allegiance is primarily to the foreign Vatican state. In other words, Blackwater/Xe is a religious army serving the Pope in Rome through the Order of Malta, which is itself considered under international law, as a sovereign entity with special diplomatic powers and privileges.

Like Blackwater, the Order of Malta is “untouchable” because it is at the heart of the elite aristocracy. “Some of the biggest men in the United States, in the field of commerce and manufacture, are afraid of something. They know that there is a power somewhere so organized, so subtle, so watchful, so interlocked, so complete, so pervasive, that they had better not speak above their breath when they speak in condemnation of it.” – President Woodrow Wilson

FBI and CIA Founded by Knights of Malta Gang

Who formed the CIA? It was a Catholic Knight of Malta, William “Wild Bill” Donovan. He was considered the “father of the CIA.” he was also the former head of the OSS before he was used to create the CIA. Donovan was given an especially prestigious form of knighthood that has only been given to a hundred other men in history Over the years there have been many CIA bosses who were also Knights of Malta and/or Jesuit trained.

And Who Formed the FBI?

It was a powerful Roman Catholic who was also a Knight of Malta and a trustee of The Catholic University of America. Charles Joseph Bonaparte.

“The degree of Knight of Malta is conferred in the United States as “an appendant Order” in a Commandery of Knights Templar.

Harry Truman was put in office by the Jesuits, the Pensergast Democratic machine in Missouri. Harry Truman takes over after FDR's murder, because he was murdered in the home of Bernard Baruch. When he did that, he then finished up the war with the hoax called the dropping of the nuclear bombs, to purposely create this greater hoax called the Cold War, that would enable the Vatican to knock over country after country after country, and replace the leaders with dictators, subordinate to the Pope. That was the purpose of the Cold War.

And so, when Harry Truman in 1950 signed into law the Emergency War Powers Act, the Cold War was in full force. They were building bomb shelters, etc. So the nation was in kind of a frenzy.

When he signed this into law, it put the whole country under military or martial law, and that's when the flags in every courtroom, state and federal, began to be changed. And every state flag and every U.S. flag is now trimmed in gold fringe. And whenever you see a flag trimmed in gold fringe, that means that it is the flag of the Commander-in-Chief. Now, if it's the state flag, it means that's the flag of the governor, as Commander-in-Chief. And if it's the federal flag, or the national flag, more correctly, it's the flag of the Commander-in-Chief in Washington.

So, all your courts are nothing more than courts of military rule. They all proceed with summary procedures. The jury has no power of jury nullification. And they are simply enforcing the laws of the Empire, which I call 14th Amendment America, which is a military-style, King of England-style country. The courts are nothing more than courts of the king's bench, as you can see in Blackstone's Commentaries.

And the banks, as you walk into every bank, they all have a flag trimmed in gold fringe. The bank is what England would call, in Blackstone's day, the king's bank. So, we have the king's bank, and we have the king's bench. And it's run according to military rule, according to Berkheimer's great work Military Rule And Martial Law, published in 1914.

When Harry Truman did this, there was a consummation of a great plan to put us under the Emergency War Powers Act and, actually, a war rule. "Daylight savings time" is what was called "war time". This country only went to daylight savings time during World War II, and they called it, at that time, war time. So, nothing's changed. We've never gone back to not turning back our clocks. We're still on war time. The income tax is a war tax. It was called a victory tax in 1942.

So, people are paying a war tax, they're under war time, they're under an emergency war powers act, and the courts are war courts.

Chapter 2

The Jesuit Vatican Empire The Jesuit Vatican Shadow Empire Curves the World and the Theory Of Evolution

The Theory of Evolution is just that, a Theory. This theory is based on assumptions NOT facts. The ideas forming Charles Darwin's "Theory" are ancient and date back to at least the 6th century B.C. The Jesuits, through their control of Freemasonry, promoted Darwin, as he was a high level Mason.

Evolution, Einstein's Relativity nonsense, and The Big Bang were all postulated by wicked Luciferians. These ideas form THEORETICAL SCIENCE today and have deluded humanity into a false worldview. Evolution proclaims, "everything out of nothing" (ex nihilo) and directly contradicts the Biblical account of God's creation of the cosmos. With Evolution, the Jesuits have managed to destroy the faith of many with godless Atheistic Humanism. Evolution is IDOLATRY and replaces God The Creator of all things with the worship of Nature, The Creation, with Man as God.

The Theory of Evolution, based on pseudoscience principles, is an idea that has served the Luciferian Jesuits well in dumbing down humanity, while at the same time, fostering the illusion of cleverness in their minds. In Romans chapter one, verse 25, it states they exchanged the truth of God for a lie and worshiped and served created things rather than The Creator, who is forever worthy of praise. Now that just stands to reason that we DO give praise and honor to those who create things, those who are the inventors of things, those who come up with new ideas. We praise them and we honor them. Subsequently, why wouldn't we praise God who created all things giving us all life? Why would we praise the created thing rather than the one who created it all? This does not make sense. It's not rational. It's a total Satanic inversion of logic.

Likewise, The Theory of Evolution is literally the adoration and worship of a creation that impossibly created itself. That's not logical. Something out of nothing, like magic, is all Evolution is. Recently, the Gurus of scientism, led by the like of Michio Kaku and Lawrence Krauss, proclaimed everything came out of nothing without offering a shred of proof. This is philosophy masquerading as science, and they get away with this absurdity because the Jesuits control international science and media. It is absolute nonsense posing as logic or science.

Evolution is idolatry and foolishness to the highest degree. Many people will tell you that it was invented by Charles Darwin. But actually it has its origins much further back in history. In fact, the inception of the spontaneous origin and illusion of life begins with a group of Greek philosophers in the 6th century B.C. Each man added an idea that later, when combined or modified, becomes Evolutionary Theory, while much later, finding full fruition in Freemason, Charles Darwin. It is important to see the “evolution” of this idea, to coin a phrase.

Thales of Miletus

Thales of Miletus, who lived between 624 and 546 BC came up with the idea about the incomparable value of water and he looked for the beginning of life in water:

“Thales of Miletus (/ˈθeɪliːz/; Greek: Θαλῆς (ὁ Μιλήσιος), Thalēs, THAY-lees or TAH-lays; c. 624/623 – c. 548/545 BC) was a Greek mathematician, astronomer and pre-Socratic philosopher from Miletus in Ionia, Asia Minor. He was one of the Seven Sages of Greece. Many, most notably Aristotle, regarded him as the first philosopher in the Greek tradition, and he is otherwise historically recognized as the first individual in Western civilization known to have entertained and engaged in scientific philosophy Thales is recognized for breaking from the use of mythology to explain the world and the universe, and instead explaining natural objects and phenomena by theories and hypotheses, in a precursor to modern science. Almost all the other pre-Socratic philosophers followed him in explaining nature as deriving from a unity of everything based on the existence of a single ultimate substance, instead of using mythological explanations. Aristotle regarded him as the founder of the Ionian School and reported Thales' hypothesis that the originating principle of nature and the nature of matter was a single material substance: water.” --Wikipedia

That's a key idea in evolutionary theory, the idea of some primordial reductionism that magically (Natural Selection) evolves in complexity into Homo Sapiens. And then, Anaximander who lived between 610 and 546 B.C., reasoned humans came from other animals because all other animals can support themselves soon after their birth but humans need many years of maternal care. And so, if humans had appeared from the beginning in their current form, they would not have survived. Thus, this is the logic. Animals were here first. Anaximander was a pre-Socratic Greek philosopher who lived in Miletus, a city of Ionia. He belonged to the Milesian school and learned the teachings of his master Thales. He succeeded Thales and became the second master of that school where he counted Anaximenes and, arguably, Pythagoras amongst his pupils.

Given Enough Time...Magic!

And where do the animals come from in this ancient Chain of Being theory? Well, Evolutionists say that basically rocks dissolved a long, long, long, long, long, long, long, long, long, long, time ago...billions, and billions, and of years ago...the longer the time span, the more plausible they assert their theory is. The basic credo of Evolutionary Theory is: Given Enough Time...Magic! They cannot prove anything about this time span but rather, they merely claim it on grounds of scientific superiority. And so, somehow rocks dissolved, magically transforming from inorganic matter to an organic mineral soup out of which life evolved magically by itself. Of course, such a metamorphosis has never been observed in the natural world or any laboratory experiment, ever, but it is taught as fact because Evolutionary Theory is the religion of modern science. This is the nonsense that is called Evolution.

Evolution In Philosophy

Heraclitus of Ephesus was a pre-Socratic Ionian Greek philosopher, and a native of the city of Ephesus, in modern-day Turkey and then part of the Persian Empire. He recognizes the fundamental changing of objects with the flow of time. Heraclitus was introducing the idea of “Flux”. Heraclitus concluded that nature is change. Like a river, nature flows ever onwards. Even the nature of the flow changes. This is the full expression of the “becoming” aspect of his philosophy. For him, all things are becoming or evolving. Essentially, he believed in a version the Law of Conservation of Energy where matter could neither be created nor destroyed, but would transform from one form to another. He named this process “the ever-living fire”, which creates and preserves life. Additionally, Heraclitus distinctly sides with the Ionian physicists, as against the Eleatics, by asserting the reality of motion, change, and generation. He differs from the former, as Grote observes, by regarding the problem of change rather as one of ontology than of physics. Heraclitus conceives of the incessant process of flux in which all things are involved as consisting of two sides or moments—generation and decay—which are regarded as a confluence of opposite streams. In thus making transition or change, viewed as the identity of existence and non-existence the leading idea of his system.

And so, first we've got water, then we've got rocks, then we've got animals out of from which come humans. And then we've got this idea of energy and matter evolving so slowly nobody has ever seen it or tracked it. We are simply supposed to take all this on Faith. And that's fine as long as this area of investigation is not called a science. Evolution is a religion, plain and simple.

The Evolutionary Hypothesis Versus Theory

Subsequently, we've got this formation of ideas which becomes the nucleus of the later manifestation of Evolutionary Theory. It is called a theory but that is a very big stretch, and that is the key thing to remember. A better name would be the Evolutionary Hypothesis. In science, an hypothesis is a provisional supposition from which to draw conclusions that shall be in accordance with known facts, and which serves as a starting-point for further investigation, leading to predictions. In science, a theory is a tested, well-substantiated, unifying explanation for a set of verified, proven factors. The process of science works at multiple levels, from the small scale (e.g., a comparison of the genes of three closely related North American butterfly species) to the large scale (e.g., a half-century-long series of investigations of the idea that geographic isolation of a population can trigger speciation). The process of science works in much the same way whether embodied by an individual scientist tackling a specific problem, question, or hypothesis over the course of a few months or years, or by a community of scientists coming to agree on broad ideas over the course of decades and hundreds of individual experiments and studies. Similarly, scientific explanations come at different levels.

Hypotheses are proposed explanations for a fairly narrow set of phenomena. When scientists formulate new hypotheses, they are usually based on prior experience, scientific background knowledge, preliminary observations, and logic. For example, scientists observed that alpine butterflies exhibit characteristics intermediate between two species that live at lower elevations. Based on these observations and their understanding of speciation, the scientists hypothesized that this species of alpine butterfly evolved as the result of hybridization between the two other species living at lower elevations. Nothing can be proven in this assertion, however. It is merely an educated guess.

Theories, on the other hand, are broad explanations for a wide range of phenomena. They are concise, systematic, predictive, and broadly applicable. In fact, theories often integrate and generalize many hypotheses. Evolution does not qualify as a theory, given this definition. Evolution is not proven no matter what anybody says. There is no proof for Evolution. It is pure speculation and subsequent world building based upon an unproven hypothesis.

Empedocles

Thus, Evolution is all based on assumptions, and now enters, Empedocles. Empedocles, (born 490 B.C., Acragas, Sicily, and died 430 B.C., the Peloponnese, Greece), was a Greek philosopher, statesman, poet, religious teacher, and physiologist. He was the first to take into account the randomness in the evolution of species, and put forward the idea that animals have many of their characteristics only because it happened by chance. Eventually, from this idea, Evolution becomes a phony racquet based upon random chance and random mutational driven natural selection.

According to Empedocles, first of all individual limbs and organs were produced from the Earth. These wandered separately at first and then under the combining power of Love they came together in all sorts of wild and seemingly random hybrid combinations, producing double fronted creatures, hermaphrodites, ox-faced man creatures and man-faced ox-creatures. This weird picture is explained by Aristotle in the Physics and later in more detail by Simplicius in his commentary on the Physics as a theory of the origin of species, in which, as he would put it, a certain form of natural selection is operative. The creatures assembled wrongly from parts of disparate animals will die out, either immediately, or by being unable to breed, and only the creatures by chance put together from homogeneous limbs will survive and so go on to found the species that we see today. The production of species and their ordering then is explained by a mechanistic process long recognized as a forerunner of Darwin's theory of natural selection. Unlike in Darwin's theory however, there would seem to be no gradual evolution of one species into another, and all of the variety of nature is produced in a great burst of birth in the beginning and is then whittled down by extinctions into the creatures we see today.

Abiogenesis and The Paradox of Randomly Driven Natural Selection

Does it get any crazier, unnatural, or un-Godly than all this? Life magically comes from water, then animals, then comes humans, and it all comes from Abiogenesis, where the origin of life entails the natural process by which life has arisen from non-living matter, such as simple organic compounds. Abiogenesis essentially states that dead nonliving matter magically gives life to living matter. This idea has never been observed in nature or in any lab and is taken on faith, showing how religious the idea of Evolution actually is. Then there is this uncreated energy that magically came from nothing which magically drives and facilitates the design and creation of all this unguided and randomly assembled matter. And it all happens through the random chance of Natural Selection, though if it is all random, how could Natural Selection paradoxically possess a selection criterion? Random systems have no inherent rhyme or reason nor ability to select one thing over another, by definition, which lends further absurdity to the whole idea of the randomly driven Natural Selection fairy tale. It is a huge Scientism farce.

Random Mutational Based Evolutionary Theory Collapses from Internal Inconsistencies and Contradictions

Conventional science states that Evolution occurs by random mutations that make an individual organism better able to survive and reproduce, according to Natural Selection. However, there can be no plan for adaptation or survival in a random mutational based driven Evolutionary Theory. It is a random based theory. Random systems do not seek to survive or adapt for survival. In Evolutionary Theory, one random event after another, bumbling and stumbling along, allegedly purports to create organisms and ecological systems so complex we are still trying to figure out how the billions of networking processes work. The theory, therefore, suffers from blatant internal inconsistencies and contradictions between its disordered random mutational driven evolutionary claim versus its highly complex and ordered criterion and mechanism for adaptation and survival.

The Odds Against Random Mutational Based Evolution Leading to The Human Brain

Other than the fact that mutations do not add any useful information to an organism which could facilitate evolutionary advancements, the whole probabilistic idea of random mutational events lining up so perfectly as to foster the adaptive survival of an organism is the very definition of an intelligent survival mechanism, thereby, disqualifying the entire theory of a random mutational based evolutionary system. Thus, random mutational based evolution, again, fails on its own internal inconsistencies as well as collapses upon the contradictory merits of its own claims.

And so, the very idea that events and situations advance blindly forward with no direction or intelligent guidance and then suddenly become bound by some absolutely ordered and highly selective and intelligent Natural Selection process, which selects specifically and precisely for survival adaptation, is a complete contradiction. There is zero intelligence to the Evolutionary process. It is really just a fetish in support of trial and error until we magically arrive at the human brain. The claim is that trillions of perfectly networked dendrites and neural synaptic processes, working in perfect concert from the result of a stumbling and bumbling parade of Natural Selection oriented trial and errors, would naturally evolve into the human brain...given enough time. It is always about “given enough time”, the war call of Atheistic Materialism.

The patent absurdity of this claim is stunningly obvious. Even given a trillion, trillion years, no random mutational mechanism could sufficiently line up with such order as to result in the human brain. There is no statistical probabilistic equation that would support such a claim.

Ancient Alien Engineers to Replace Random Evolution

One is either forced to concede to the idea that the human mind is the result of intelligent, guided, non-random mechanisms, or that the idea of random mutational driven evolution is actually a highly ordered mechanism, which means that the entire theory is self-contradictory, and thereby, invalid. However one slices it, the insanely complex and well-ordered human brain is the result of carefully guided and directed intelligent mechanisms. This is why modern science has been forced to abandon its antiquated and obviously false theory random mutational based Natural Selection and introduce its current theory of Ancient Alien Architects as responsible for creating Mankind from highly sophisticated Genetic engineering. This theory is gaining speed in modern science and points to the next great hoax ready for unveiling: Ancient Aliens are coming back to virtually exterminate Mankind because of Man's corrupt genetic nature, and advance whoever are left in the image of their Alien intelligence.

Enter Epicurus

“The philosophy of Epicurus (341–270 B.C.E.) was a complete and interdependent system, involving a view of the goal of human life (happiness, resulting from absence of physical pain and mental disturbance), an empiricist theory of knowledge (sensations, together with the perception of pleasure and pain, are infallible criteria), a description of nature based on atomistic materialism, and a naturalistic account of evolution, from the formation of the world to the emergence of human societies. Epicurus believed that, on the basis of a radical materialism which dispensed with transcendent entities such as the Platonic Ideas or Forms, he could disprove the possibility of the soul's survival after death, and hence the prospect of punishment in the afterlife." -- <https://plato.stanford.edu/entries/epicurus/>

Essentially, he believed that living organisms evolved without a plan, all by chance, and without any metaphysical intervention. And then, Natural Selection allowed the most functional beings to survive and reproduce. So there is the idea of Natural Selection, again, and the survival of the fittest.

Enter Lucretius

Lucretius (c. 99—c. 55 B.C.E.) (Titus Lucretius Carus) was a Roman poet and the author of the philosophical epic De Rerum Natura (On the Nature of the Universe), a comprehensive exposition of the Epicurean world-view. Very little is known of the poet's life, though a sense of his character and personality emerges vividly from his poem. The stress and tumult of his times stands in the background of his work and partly explains his personal attraction and commitment to Epicureanism, with its elevation of intellectual pleasure and tranquility of mind and its dim view of the world of social strife and political violence. His epic is presented in six books and undertakes a full and completely naturalistic explanation of the physical origin, structure, and destiny of the universe. Included in this presentation are theories of the atomic structure of matter and the emergence and evolution of life forms – ideas that would eventually form a crucial foundation and background for the development of western science. In addition to his literary and scientific influence, Lucretius has been a major source of inspiration for a wide range of modern philosophers, including Gassendi, Bergson, Spencer, Whitehead, and Teilhard de Chardin.

--<https://www.iep.utm.edu/lucretiu/>

And so, there's this mystical nature force that's causing things to disappear decompose and collapse, and other things to appear, like magic in their place. Further on, Lucretia's makes a clear reference to Natural Selection when he asserted that many animal species go extinct because they couldn't make their kind stronger through reproduction. We have this whole idea being laid out without a lot of detail about a form Natural Selection due to cleverness, bravery, or speed. And this idea comes right down to Freemason, Erasmus Darwin with his book, Zoonomia, or The Laws of Organic Life, a two-volume medical work by Erasmus Darwin dealing with pathology, anatomy, psychology, and the functioning of the body. The book incorporates early ideas relating to the theory of evolution that were later more fully developed by his grandson, Charles Darwin.

Pre-Jesuit Cosmology

Now remember that the Greeks and the Romans held to the motionless Flat Earth Cosmology as did all other ancient cultures. You can see the diagrams and the art that they've left behind that clearly shows the Flat Earth Cosmology with a form of dome covering this Flat Earth plane. And this incorporates the residual of understanding from Genesis and Adam and Eve, the first humans. So this knowledge has come down over a few thousand years and all cultures have this Flat Earth Cosmology. All cultures, before the Jesuit manipulation of the shape of the Earth, new that life was divinely created by a God. The idea of spontaneous generation from inorganic matter, air, or water totally denies any metaphysical or spiritual causal force, and relies on inert base materials generating life by itself, out of itself, which isn't empirically supported or anything resembling empirical science.

Science is merely a methodology for inquiry, but this is magic when things appear out of nothing. This entire Abiogenesis Evolutionary idea is Hermetic occultism, at best. Of course, these ideas were rejected by the religious mainstream of the day they because people saw was nonsense it all was. They believed that there was a God or Gods that divinely created all things. Any reference to the Theory of Evolution disappeared with the Fall of the Roman Empire many centuries later.

Naturalistic Cosmology

Lucretia's book had disappeared during the Middle Ages and reappeared during the Renaissance, around a thousand years later. Well wasn't that a lucky chance...or was it? Actually, there was a concerted effort at this time to bring in certain modes of Godless, Evolutionary thinking. Between the 14th century and the 18th century Evolutionary thinking came back out to the surface, and into the mainstream. and it happens in the foment of the Protestant Reformation, and then through The Enlightenment, which, properly called, was nothing but The Luciferian Era of Light. And these so-called "Enlightened people" tried to free Mankind of any religious or spiritual influences and anchoring.

The Invisible College

Invisible College is the term used for a small community of interacting scholars who often met face-to-face, exchanged ideas and encouraged each other. One group that has been described as a precursor group to the Royal Society of London, consisted of a number of natural philosophers around Robert Boyle. It has been suggested that other members included prominent figures later closely concerned with the Royal Society; but several groups preceded the formation of the Royal Society, and who the other members of this one was is still debated by scholars. Richard S. Westfall distinguishes Hartlib's "Comenian circle" from other groups; and gives a list of "Invisible College" members based on this identification. They comprise: William Petty, Boyle, Arnold Boate and Gerard Boate, Cressy Dymock, and Gabriel Platte. Miles Symner may have belonged to this circle, as well.

The Gresham College Group

The Gresham College Group was a loose collection of scientists in England of the 1640s and 1650s, a precursor to the Royal Society of London, also. Within a few years of the granting of a charter to the Royal Society in 1662, its earlier history was being written and its roots contested. There is still some debate about the effect of other groups on the way the Royal Society came into being. The composition of those other groups is unclear in parts; and the overall historiography of the early Royal Society is still often regarded as problematic. But the group centered on Gresham College has always been seen as fundamental to the course of events.

Naturalism and The Royal Society of London

The Royal Society, formally The Royal Society of London for Improving Natural Knowledge, is a learned society and the United Kingdom's national academy of sciences. Founded on 28 November 1660, it was granted a royal charter by King Charles II as "The Royal Society". The thing to understand by looking at how The Invisible College, The Gresham College Group, and other groups tuned into The Royal Society is that the core cause was to advance the epistemological view of a material and natural, Godless world. This naturalistic approach to science is based in Rosicrucianism and the esoteric doctrines preserved and exalted within the halls of the Masonic Society. This naturalistic approach to science comes out of a mixture of natural philosophy and occult Hermetic magic.

Further, one cannot divorce the connection between what we today call naturalistic science and occult mystical Hermeticism.. That connection is still very much apparent in modern theoretical science. It is all rooted in magic, which modern scientists like to call science. Spells and incantations are called equations and theorems. Theories and ideas are readily accepted on Faith, with zero empirical proof, now. And so, this Royal Society was set up by actual intellectual occultists with the explicit the purpose of controlling the epistemological narrative and disseminating what we today call science, which merely emerged out of what was termed natural philosophy.

The Enlightenment (The Luciferian Endarkenment)

During The Enlightenment, this period of time sees a knowledge explosion enabled by Protestant Reformation Freedoms, but at the same time there is a surge of involvement in the occult and witchcraft by the wealthy and privileged elite. They turned away from God and turn towards occultism. The Enlightenment is not a positive term but a period of darkening . It was the inverse of spirituality, the rejection of spiritual knowledge in preference for Satanic Luciferian knowledge. The Enlightenment marked the overt and popular worship of nature and gnosis or knowledge economy. It was out of this darkening of men's minds and the rejection of God the Creator that evolution reappears.

It is very important to understand by the 1660 founding of the Royal Society the Jesuits, and remember this whole story is centered around what the Jesuits have been doing for the last 500 years, the Jesuits had already been there in the background educating the powerful men of Europe for a hundreds of years in their elite schools and colleges. The Jesuits had effectively been shaping the minds of six generations of children through whom they would then control the flow of knowledge and invention through The Royal Society.

The Royal Society is still a gatekeeper of knowledge and works together with other world science bodies to promote only what is beneficial to the Jesuit Vatican cause of world control. All international science ventures are controlled by the Jesuits through The Royal Society through all these interdepartmental government panels, from The Smithsonian Institute and all its subsidiaries. What people are allowed to hear and learn regarding science is all controlled. All the science journals are controlled, and you cannot write whatever you want in a science journal. You must follow the party line and the party line is Evolution. Creation is not allowed.

Jean-Baptiste Lamarck

At the beginning of the 19th century, Jean-Baptiste Lamarck, who lived between 1744 and 1829, formulated the theory of the Evolution of Species with references to the early ideas of Anaximander and Empedocles. Jean-Baptiste Pierre Antoine de Monet, chevalier de Lamarck, often known simply as Lamarck, was a French naturalist. He was a soldier, biologist, and academic, and an early proponent of the idea that biological evolution occurred and proceeded in accordance with natural laws. He said that organisms develop and progress gradually from simple to more complex forms. Lamarck's theory was not accepted by the scientific world at the time but it laid the groundwork for Darwin's theory. Lamarck believed that animals would adapt to their environment, and so, again, we've got this reinforcement of evolutionary adaptation.

Nevertheless, there's no scientific evidence to support evolutionary adaptation, where we have massive changes from one type to another type or to a new type. It is simply a wild theory. No transitional fossils have ever been found, not one, which should be found somewhere over this 14 billion year period of evolution.

Erasmus Darwin

Erasmus Darwin who lived between 1731 and 1802 was Charles Darwin's grandfather. He was a Freemason and Luciferian and he formulated one of the first formal theories on evolution, building on Lamarck, which he developed in his book, Zoonomia or the Laws of Organic Life (1794), a two-volume medical work dealing with pathology, anatomy, psychology, and the functioning of the body. The book incorporates early ideas relating to the theory of evolution that were later more fully developed by his grandson, Charles Darwin. However, the younger Darwin denied any influence of his grandfather's work on his own ideas.

Charles Darwin

Charles Darwin appears on the scene (1809 to 1882), and he writes, On the Origin of Species by Means of Natural Selection, or the Preservation of Favored Races in the Struggle for Life, a racist treatise on evolution and essentially ideologically plagiarized from his grandfather, Erasmus Darwin. Darwin simply carries the Satanic evolution baton passed down by his grandfather into the last stage of the Industrial Revolution when Christian European societies are apostatized under the Jesuit influence. The infiltration of Atheistic Humanism through The Enlightenment into schools and colleges everywhere had sufficiently set the stage for the wide acceptance of Darwin's repackaged evolutionary nonsense.

Jesuit Front Group Illuminati

Remember, by this time, the Jesuits had control of world education through the schools, colleges, and the universities that they set up worldwide. And through Masonic government, the Luciferian Masonic religion was also waxing greatly at this time under the influence of Jesuit control through their secret Illuminati front group created by Jesuit Johann Adam Weishaupt, German philosopher, law professor, and founder of the Order of the Illuminati, a secret society in 1776. It doesn't take a genius to see the convergence of powerful forces that promoted the idea of evolution into the mainstream and the minds of the common man through education and popular culture. We can see this very clearly the dates and the times. It says that it all happened within a very short period of time relative to world history.

A Brief Understanding of Science

Okay, it's not possible to deal with the subject without laying out a brief history of science, so I'll try to be brief. Basically, there are two kinds of science:

- 1.) Empirical Science
- 2.) Theoretical Science

Empirical Science

Empirical science developed out of the knowledge explosion due to the new liberties found by men no longer constrained by despotic Roman Catholic control. Empirical science, based on repeat experimentation and universal observation instead of merely mathematical theories, was a formidable weapon for learning, where results can be confirmed with a methodology of tests and experimentation, and hypotheses can be proven in a lab. Results are seen with the eyes. This is important because when all can see the results, the wizardry of theoretical conjecture and mathematical mesmerism lose their power over the minds of Men.

Theoretical Science

In contrast to Empirical Science, we have Theoretical Science. Theoretical Science is based on nebulous mathematical equations and conjecture. It is the never ending tail chasing game that we see Astrophysicists and Quantum Physicists indulging in. It produces charlatans like Jesuit skill, Albert Einstein, who has given nothing to science but blackboards of relativistic noise that goes nowhere and only muddies the waters of pure empirical science, which was absolutely the reason for its being, in the first place.

The Scientism of Theoretical Science

In a nutshell, theoretical science is rife with unfalsifiable claims that cannot be proven nor disproven. It is the science fiction realm of the sciences. This is really important to understand. No experiment can be set up to prove the theories of theoretical science. Nothing can be observed, so faith and acceptance are demanded in order to establish credibility. Theoretical science is 100 percent religion and zero percent science, when you come clean with it.

Theoretical science begs for acceptance rather than taking the trouble to prove claims. It becomes a Faith called Scientism. The religious cult of the scientist as guru and priest is born. From there, wild claims about the universe, space, and time are made in order to establish a faith based mathematical theology. Scientism is pseudoscience pretending to be credible science when it is anything but claims which cannot be seen or verified in a lab with the eyes.

The Cornucopia of Theoretical Assumptions and Einstein

And so, we have empirical proven science as opposed to theoretical unproven science. But theoretical science predominates. Empirical science has been pushed to the backburner and basically forgotten. Oh sure, you learn a little bit about it in your science classrooms, but theoretical science predominates what we've been educated about over the last 200 years. All we hear about is:

- 1.) An Infinite Expanding Universe
- 2.) A Heliocentric Solar System
- 3.) Orbiting Planets
- 4.) A Spinning Ball Earth
- 5.) Invisible Mythical Gravity
- 6.) Unverifiable Billions of Light Years of Distance
- 7.) Absurdly Huge Magnitudes of Celestial Bodies
- 8.) Rockets Magically Flying In The Vacuum Of Outer Space
- 9.) Going To The Moon In A Tin Can
- 10.) Undetectable Mars Satellites

- 11.) A Magical Big Bang From Nothing
- 12.) Invisible Fantasy Dark Matter
- 13.) Invisible Fantasy Dark Energy
- 14.) Mere Aberrations in the Skies Repackaged as Black Holes
- 15.) Comically Unproven Natural Selection Based Evolution
- 16.) Random Mutational Based Species Change
- 17.) Freemason Created Global Warming
- 18.) Fantasy Invisible Unproven Super Virus
- 19.) Germ Contagion Theory with Zero Proof of Contagion
- 20.) Fantasy Science Nuclear Bombs
- 21.) Sparks in the Skies Spun as Lethal Asteroids and Comets
- 22.) Mythical Dinosaurs with No Legitimate Fossil Record

All are unsubstantiated theories and claims, rooted in magic and illusion, smoke and mirrors, and Faith based Scientism. It is important to understand that theoretical Luciferian cosmological science magic overtook real empirical science in the personage of Jesuit shill and Luciferian, Albert Einstein, who appeared on the scene in 1905 in his miracle year with four groundbreaking papers that he plagiarized, changing the predominant worldview on space-time and mass from one based upon solid empirical and testable science to wild, unproven mystical theoretical nonsense.

And gee, now where did his ideas come from? Remember, Einstein was a Patent Office Clerk processing patents and ideas from other creative people, and there's some documented evidence that alludes to the idea that Einstein may have simply helped himself to a veritable plethora of other people's intellectual property. I personally believe that Einstein is a fraud and all his ideas came from somewhere else. The Jesuits need front men. They need to make science heroes to peddle their Heliocentric religion. So they turn the likes of Darwin and Einstein into science heroes and everyone looks up to them is sort of demigods. In the background Jesuits, are very smart they know how to do this and fool the public over and over. We can infer a lot from the information that is available regarding Jesuit schools and Jesuits activity as to the veracity of this claim of the Jesuit masterminding of science heroics.

Then another Jesuit science fraud, Belgian Jesuit Priest George Lemaitre, writes his Big Bang paper and that is three giant home runs for the Jesuit criminal cabal: Darwin's Origin of Species in 1859, Einstein's Relativity nonsense, and Lemaitre's Big Bang. Bam! This is what is falsely called science today. These three pillars are what underpins science today, or pseudoscience today, I should say. The Jesuits were building the pseudoscience Evolution fiction incrementally, pulling in the building blocks for centuries to complete the perfect Satanic Beast Model. Three theories parading as fact, one two three POW! The world is fully deceived in less than 200 years. There is your Pythagorean triangular power play by the Jesuits. It took just three generations of media propaganda and changing the textbooks. Never underestimate Jesuitical genius. These men have the mind and patience and cunning of Satan himself.

Science Versus Scientism

The term science comes from the Latin word scientia, meaning “knowledge”. That's all it is. That's all the word means. It's not a subject. It's a methodology by which we can know something. Science or knowing was a philosophical pursuit up until 1543 when Nicholas Copernicus book on the revolutions of the heavenly spheres, which is often cited as marking the beginning of the Scientific Revolution. However, his publication was actually the advent of Scientism, as the biblical, Enclosed Cosmological Flat Earth model was twisted by the Luciferian cult of Heliocentric Sun worshippers. For thousands of years everyone knew that the Earth is a flat, motionless, non-rotating realm. It is a lie that the Greeks and other ancient civilizations believed in a ball Earth. This lie is asserted regularly by the Scientism Priests in order to bolster their claims. Pythagoras, who lived between 570 BC and 495 BC, is the source of this idea, being a practitioner of occult Sun worship, proponent of the spherical Sun as central in the cosmos, and a ball shaped Earth circling around it. But the majority a mainstream Greece society did not believe this.

Pythagoras was actually called the son of Apollo in his time and considered a supernatural worker of wonders. He was a powerful sorcerer, Pantheist, and traveled widely collecting esoteric occult knowledge like Kabbalah, Metempsychosis (referring to the transmigration of the soul)

Reincarnation, and Numerology, which he taught for 40 years to a group of initiates at Croton. This Pythagorean school became the torch bearers of the Luciferian doctrines now enshrined in what we call Freemasonry. Pythagorean teachings remained underground for almost two thousand years when they finally resurfaced in the late medieval period, and in particular, in Copernicus's model of the universe. The Roman Catholic hierarchy recognized in Heliocentrism the perfect methodology by which to invert the biblical writers worldview, and ultimately subvert Faith in God and the Bible and transfer allegiance to the bastions of science, and hence clandestine Jesuit rule. The Jesuit Order was ordained in 1540 only three short years prior to Copernicus's book being published. Coincidence? No way. It was all according to plan. The Jesuits wasted no time insinuating this heretical pagan teaching into every school in Europe, attacking the return of biblical truth in the Protestant Reformation which began in 1517 with Martin Luther, and thus destroying the faith of multitudes. This is a fight between the lie and the Truth, between the Truth of God's Word and the lie of occult belief.

This pagan belief structure incrementally spread over five centuries until modern day. This false Heliocentric premise was propagated in Luciferian Jesuit schools and universities in Europe and eventually worldwide, laying the foundation for the rise of false knowledge, leading ultimately to an Atheistic Pantheism or existential philosophy. All this was only possible because knowledge administered in the first schools was controlled by the Roman Catholic religion directly under the control of the Jesuit Military Order. It's important to remember here that the Jesuits set up hundreds of schools and colleges on every continent by January 23, 1789 when Georgetown University was founded in Washington DC. In fact, today the theoretical science and a revisionist history curriculums in the private and public education systems worldwide are 100% dictated by the Vatican through their puppet Masonic governments, and are the number one tool for brainwashing naive young people into false knowledge and a false Masonic worldview. And this applies also to China, Russia, Israel, England every country in the world. This Jesuit run Masonic education system has been there for generations and underpinned by The Big Bang de facto understanding of the origins and the cosmos, accepted without question by the brainwashed science establishment, and the uncritically obedient masses, worldwide.

Atheism, as a result of Luciferian Scientism, is rampant now. People have been brainwashed to hate the Bible and Christianity after centuries of having them both misrepresented and perverted by Jesuit agents. Bible Truth is mocked and scoffed at and social engineering is destroying morality and justice everywhere. The Jesuit plan inches steadily closer to completion bringing in their Neo-Babylonian Fascist One World Order under United Nations tyranny. Out of continuous world anarchy and chaos they have taken complete control of all systems necessary for life, thus enslaving all of humanity. Agenda 21 and Agenda 2030, under their ridiculous sustainability mandates, are close to squeezing all life out of homo sapiens in preference for the survival of the penguin, frozen tundra, and national parks. There will be no more sovereign governments. There will be a one-world fascist government, under the banner of Scientism, the one world religion, which is essentially a mixture of Astrophysics, Astronomy, Copernican Cosmology, and Quantum Physics.

That's the plan.

That's what's coming.

That's what's just around the corner.

It is already here, in fact, but it's just not out in the open, yet. Can we oppose it/ Of course. But it will require multitudes to accept their sin and turn back to God to accomplish this.

Will that happen?

We'll see.

Species Permanence and Change in Antiquity

In many respects, the general idea of the possibility of species change is an old concept. The reflections of Empedocles (ca. 495–35 BCE) and the views of the Greek Atomists among the Pre-Socratic nature philosophers formed a Classical heritage on which later speculations could be developed. These Pre-Socratic speculations combined naturalistic myths of origins with reflections on the workings of chance-like processes to create a naturalistic account of the origins of existing forms of life (see the entry ancient atomism). Particularly as the Pre-Socratic Atomist speculations were restated by the Roman poet Titus Lucretius (ca. 99–50 BCE) in book five of his On the Nature of Things (Lucretius [RN]), a source was available in Antiquity that set out a speculative account of the gradual origin of living beings from an initial atomic chaos through an undirected process that sorts out the best adapted forms and eliminates those not suited to their conditions.

The speculative accounts of the early atomists were, however, opposed on several levels by the subsequent mainstream Platonic, Neo-Platonic, Aristotelian, and Stoic philosophical traditions. The writings of Plato (427–327 BCE), particularly his long creation myth, Timaeus—the only Platonic dialogue available continuously in the Latin Western tradition—provided an influential non-Biblical source for arguments against the Atomist tradition. This dialogue serves as the locus classicus for the notion of an externally-imposed origin of living beings through the action of an intelligent Craftsman (demiurgos) who orders a mathematically-conceived matter into a rational cosmos that includes living beings in accord with eternal archetypes or forms, realizing through this activity both aesthetic and rational ends. Plato's account initiated the long tradition of reflection that was continued in Neo-Platonism and in aspects of Stoicism to form the foundation of the argument that organic beings could not be explained by chance-like processes either in their origins or in their complex design. Particularly as developed in the influential writings of the Greek physician Claudius Galenus (129–200 CE), a long heritage in the life sciences relied upon anatomy as evidence of rational design. These interpretations of “teleological design” interacted in complex ways with Jewish, Christian, and Islamic Biblical concepts of creation (Sedley 2007). One common meaning of “teleology” frequently encountered in discussions of evolution since Darwin—that of externally imposed design by an intelligent agency (demiurge, nature, God) on pre-existing matter— originates in these ancient discussions and is not accurately identified with the Biblical concept of creation ex nihilo (Carroll 2015).

In Aristotle’s (384–322 BCE) seminal biological writings, the external teleology of a designer-creator was replaced by an internal teleological purposiveness associated with the immanent action of an internal cause—in living beings their informing soul (psyche)— which functioned as the formal, final and efficient cause of life (Aristotle, De Anima II: 415b, 10–30). Aristotle also did not endorse the concept of an historical origin of the world, affirming instead the eternity of the world order (Physics, I: 192a, 25–34). At least this was how he was understood by a later tradition (Dales and Argerami 1991).

Another issue that Aristotle treated extensively with relevance to the conception of species—embryogenesis—also had important implications for later discussions. In the traditions indebted in some way to Aristotle’s natural philosophy, sexual generation and the subsequent embryological development of the individual from primordial matter, is a sequential process that occurs in time under the teleological action of the soul (psyche). In Aristotle’s own account, this soul-as-form is typically derived from the male parent, but it could also be derived even from the sun, as employed in his explanation of the origin of spontaneously-generated forms (Aristotle, De Generatione Animalium, III: 762a, 20–35).

This theory of the passing on of soul-as-substantial form in generation also formed the basis of one meaning of “species” (eidos) in Aristotle’s biological works—as the individualized enmattered form-as-soul that is perpetuated in generation eternally. Although connected by a complex theory of mental abstraction to the universal in thought and language, a “species” in this biological sense is not a universal, but an eternal serial sequence of one individual generating another individual (De Anima, II: 415b, 1–10). The importance of this meaning of “species” as distinct from the meaning of “species-as-universal” bears on several issues explored in Sections 3.3 and 3.4 below. One interpretive issue in the exegesis of Aristotle’s conception of species concerns the degree to which he was committed to asserting anything beyond the eternity of the three main groups (gene)—plants, animals and humans—rather than the eternity of each individual kind (eidos) (De Generatione Animalium, II: 731b, 32–732a5).

Scholastic Revisions

The implications of Aristotle’s complex thought for subsequent discussions of species, generated by the recovery of his writings in the Latin West in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, were varied. On one hand, Aristotle’s apparent metaphysical requirement that the soul-as-form (eidos) be permanent and enduring through the process of the generation of “like by like” seemed for much of the tradition to amount to a denial of the possibility that natural species could change over time in their essential properties, even though local adaptation in “accidental” properties was fully possible. Since individual beings were considered to be dynamic composites of a material substrate and an immaterial and eternal form, the accidental differentiation of the substantial form in individuals did not affect the metaphysical endurance of the species. It also made species extinction metaphysically impossible. In living beings, the soul-as-form is serially passed on through time in the act of generation to create an eternal continuity of the form. This supplied a metaphysical foundation for the notion of species permanence without reliance on an external creative agency.

In the background of the discussion of the high middle ages was also the theory of divine creation endorsed in inherited Jewish, Christian and Islamic thought. This required a distinction between the first origin of species in historical time, and the normal generation of the individual. If the origin of species was attributed to divine action, the temporal emergence of these species was not necessarily instantaneous. Such a doctrine was the basis of Augustine of Hippo's (354–430) theory of the original creation of primordial seeds (rationes seminales) of each species at an original moment in time, but with the emergence of species in historical time a possibility (Augustine, VI.13.23–25, [GL, 175–76]). This theory of a temporalized creation, put forth explicitly in detail in his treatise The Literal Interpretation of Genesis, allowed Augustine to argue that species emerged sequentially in historical time rather than all at once.

The great textual recoveries in the Latin West of Greek science, medicine and philosophy of the twelfth through the fifteenth centuries, generally accompanied by Islamic commentaries, introduced these texts into a theological context that had been strongly defined by Augustinianism and Neo-Platonism. The interplay between this pre-existent tradition with new philosophical views defined a complex period of intellectual ferment that defined much of the subsequent intellectual and scientific history of the West (Gaukroger 2006: chp. 2). The sustained efforts of major synthesizers, such as Thomas Aquinas (1225–1274), to bring the massive body of newly-recovered Aristotelian works into dialogue with Christian Neo-Platonism and Augustinianism, demanded new insights into the conception of the soul-body relation, the autonomy of the natural order and the role of secondary causes in the creation of the world.

Concerning the issue of species-permanence and origin, Aquinas treated this in dialogue with Augustine's theory of serial creation. As he comments in his major synthesis, the Summa Theologiae: "New species, if they appear, pre-exist in certain active powers” (Pars I, Qu. 73, Rep Obj. 3). This claim suggests a reading of Aristotle that assumed the essential fixity of each definable substantial form, and the eternity of each species since creation. But this conclusion must be read in the context of Aquinas’s complex theory of creation and the discussions of the problem of universals in late Scholastic philosophy (see the entry medieval problem of universals, and Wilkins 2009: Ch. 3). This context prevents any simple picture of Scholastic thought concerning the issue of species permanence, and it cannot be claimed that either Aristotle or later Scholastics such as Aquinas are responsible for the strong “essentialist” position often attributed to them in the literature (R.A. Richards 2010: chp. 2). As developed below, it can be argued that the species concept was “hardened” only in the early modern period with the rise of the mechanical philosophy and its attendant preformationist embryology. The “strong essentialist” position often attributed to Aristotle and Scholasticism (Hull, 1992), is demonstrably a product of later historical developments (R.A. Richards 2010; Wilkins 2009; Oderberg 2007: chp. 9; Winsor 2006; Lennox 1985, 1987).

Cartesian History of Nature

The re-introduction of Greek and Roman atomism in the Renaissance, with the recovery (1417) and printing (1473) of Lucretius’ philosophical poem On the Nature of Things, introduced to a literate European audience a series of influential cosmological speculations that included a naturalistic account of the origin of species integrated into a non-teleological materialist cosmology that contrasted markedly with the received Scholastic, Aristotelian, and Augustinian-Platonic traditions. Into the eighteenth century, these speculations, and those drawn from other atomist sources (see the entry on natural philosophy in the Renaissance), were often in the background of novel early modern reflections on species origins and their possible transformation in time throughout the eighteenth century (Bowler 2003: chp. 2; Oldroyd 1996; Greene 1959).

A new starting point in systematic reflections on the origin of the earth and living beings, showing both some similarity and also major differences from atomist speculations, dates specifically from the synthesis of natural philosophy and metaphysics put forth by René Descartes (1596–1650) in his Principia philosophiae (1st ed. 1644; 2nd ed. 1647). This treatise expanded and summarized issues he had developed earlier in Le Monde (The World, or Treatise on Light), a work published only posthumously in 1664, with an improved edition appearing in 1677.

It is important for understanding the subsequent reflections on the “history” of nature to recognize that these Cartesian speculations on the history of the earth and solar system were introduced in the form of a counter-factual hypothesis that explicitly sought to avoid conflict with accepted theological interpretations of origin (Descartes 1647 [1983: 181]). In the hypothetical account offered in the Principles of Philosophy, Descartes derived the earth from a cooled star “formerly...like the Sun” (ibid.). By its gradual solidification in a great celestial vortex, the Earth took form. Subsequent drying and cracking formed the ocean basins, the continents and the mountain ranges.

An outstanding lacuna in Descartes’s account, however, was his failure to incorporate the origins of living beings into his naturalistic story of creation by natural laws. Although manuscripts display the degree to which Descartes attempted on several occasions to work out some linkage between his general natural philosophy and the embryological formation of living beings, these reflections did not appear in print during his lifetime (Aucante 2006). The Principles simply skips over the issue of a naturalistic account of the origins of life and the origin of individual species. Instead in Part IV, devoted generally to the origin and physical properties of the Earth, he jumps (Proposition 188) from a discussion of magnetism to a brief allusion to projected Parts V and VI of his Principles that would deal with animals and humans (Descartes 1647 [1983: 275–276]). But the Principles only offers a brief discussion of the various senses and body-soul interaction similar to that put forth in his early unpublished Treatise on Man (1st Latin ed. 1662, 2nd French ed. 1664). These speculations were grounded on the concept of a hypothetical statue-machine created directly by divine action, and possessed immediately of all human functions and structures (Descartes 1664 [1972: 1–5]).

Descartes's speculations conveyed to his successors at least two issues relevant to the origin and history of living species. First, by presenting the historical account of the origin of the solar system and the world as a counterfactual hypothesis, a means of understanding the history of nature that was adapted to the limitations of the human mind, rather than as a literally true account, Descartes provided the option of a purely fictionalist reading of historical science that persisted into the nineteenth century (Sloan 2006a). Second, the integration of living beings into the new natural philosophy of mechanistic naturalism was left unresolved. If anything, Descartes's reflections accentuated the problem of providing a naturalistic explanation of the origins of living beings.

Two traditions can be traced in the wake of Descartes's reflections. Beginning with the De Solido Intra Solidum Naturaliter Contento Dissertationis Prodromus of 1669 by the Danish Cartesian Nicholas Steno (1638–86), efforts commenced to draw the historical origins of living beings into the Cartesian cosmology, in this case primarily by granting that fossils were the remains of once existing organisms on an earth that had formed historically. There was, however, no effort made to account for the origins of these beings on Cartesian principles (Rudwick 1972).

A second tradition established a series of published reflections in the later seventeenth and early eighteenth centuries that came to be known in subsequent literature as “theories of the earth”. This tradition commenced with the Telluris Theoria Sacra, published in 1681 (English edition 1684) by the English clergyman, Thomas Burnet (1635–1715). Burnet sought to reconcile a Cartesian-derived historical account of the origins of the Earth with the creation account of the Mosaic tradition. In Burnet's account, the Earth began from an original chaos fashioned by divine action into the existing Earth through a series of changes that involved the gradual separation of the continents, the reversal of the poles, and the Mosaic flood. To explain the origin of living beings, Burnet relied on the “spontaneous fruitfulness of the ground” in the primeval Edenic world, rather than on the direct creation of forms through divine action (Burnet 1684: bk 2, chp. 2, para. 4, p. 187 [1965: 141]). By connecting this account to the Biblical story of the first chapter of Genesis, Burnet broke with Cartesian Counter-factualism, offering for the first time a presumably literal interpretation of a Cartesian-style developmental history of nature that also included the origins of living forms.

Luciferian Jesuits and Freemasons are the Synagogue of Satan

The Jesuit Vatican's Shadow Empire rules all governments today through its United Nations world government apparatus, and is waging war against humanity on all fronts. This control has been accomplished through a complex network of corporate umbrella organizations, both commercial and governmental, and the infiltration of Freemasonry to the 33 degree Illuminati level based on ancient Babylonian and Egyptian mystery school teachings and rituals. These networks have enabled the Jesuits to infiltrate all power structures through its membership in elite circles.

The mechanics of conspiracy utilizes deception and subversion for the purpose of attaining control and absolute power. It stands to reason that if absolute power is to be achieved, it can only be done so by a group that has invested all its resources and allegiance in achieving that purpose. There is no room for competing interests. Tyrants know that there's only room for one at the top, and all other competitors must be vanquished and made subservient to the one, particularly with world power. The Jesuits and their agenda for world dominance is the one. Their singular agenda for world dominance is what has been occurring over the last two hundred plus years since the suppression of the Jesuits was revoked in 1814. The suppression of the Jesuits was the government-initiated and Papal-approved removal of members of the Society of Jesus from most of the countries of Europe and their colonies beginning in 1759. In 1814, Pope Pius VII restored the Society where it had been and Jesuits began resuming their works in these countries. Of course, prior to that, they operated under the radar as infiltrators and assassins and especially as Illuminati level Freemasons, but their vengeance really took flight unhindered once reinstated in full public regalia as the public stewards of philanthropy, media, and educational learning.

The process is now almost complete. The Jesuits, cloaked behind multiple layers of proxy agents, public servants, and media distractions, have taken control of all world systems and religions. There is only one thing holding them back, and that is the true Christian Church which is outside the mainstream Babylonian religions of Pagan ritual and occultism. Christianity is the only faith that does not have its roots in the Babylonian mystery religions instituted under Nimrod, the first world dictator. Christianity is the great enemy of the Luciferian New World Order. And so, continuous Inquisition are being waged against the true Church of Jesus Christ. In many countries, statistics estimate one Christian is murdered for his faith every 5 minutes, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, somewhere in the world, totaling more than 100,000 people each year. And I dare say that number is conservative. I do believe that if everything was taken into account, people being murdered for their Christian faith would number a far greater than a hundred thousand per year. Being a Christian is one of the greatest causes of intentional premeditated death in the world today. And the Jesuits, through their proxy communists puppet regimes and agencies, are 100% responsible for this horror. I lay the blame directly at the feet of the Jesuits, who are The Synagogue of Satan. Let's take a look at how the Jesuits carried out their nefarious plans for world domination by creating and controlling all the secret societies and governments under the infiltration and tentacles of Freemasonry.

All men and women in positions of importance, worldwide, are promoted and controlled through their involvement and allegiance to secret societies. Freemasonry imbues society with ancient occult Babylonian religious values. That's where we are today. Most societies, worldwide, are totally imbued with Luciferian values and most people don't even know it. If we were to compare society today to society even a hundred years ago, we're not looking at the same thing. Rome's minions expedite Masonic New World Order by employing their tried-and-true strategy of an Order Out of Chaos (Ordo Ab Chao). Freemasonry has been used by the Jesuits to subvert Protestantism over the last 250 years.

Systems Of Control: From Religious Knowledge To Science Knowledge

Here's a portion of a speech from page 13, titled "The Duty of Americans, at the Present Crisis, Illustrated in a Discourse" given by Dr. Timothy Dwight at Yale College in 1798, warning about the dangers of Freemasonry, 220 years ago. If it was a cause for alarm then, how much more should we be alarmed today in the final days of this age. The enemy of God and humanity is being exposed.

"While these measures were advancing the great design (New World Order) with a regular and rapid progress, Doctor Adam Weishaupt, professor of the Canon law in the University of Ingolstadt, a city of Bavaria (in Germany) formed, about the year 1776, the order of Illuminati. This order is professedly a higher order of Masons, originated by himself, and grafted on ancient Masonic Institutions. The secrecy, solemnity, mysticism, and correspondence of Masonry were in this new order preserved and enhanced; while the ardor of innovation, the impatience of civil and moral restraints, and the aims against government, morals, and religion, were elevated, expanded, and rendered more systematical, malignant, and daring.

In the societies of Illuminati doctrines were taught, which strike at the root of all human happiness and virtue; and every such doctrine was either expressly or implicitly involved in their system. The being of God was denied and ridiculed. Government was asserted to be a curse, and authority a mere usurpation. Civil society was declared to be the only apostasy of man. The possession of property was pronounced to be robbery. Chastity and natural affection were declared to be nothing more than groundless prejudices. Adultery, assassination, poisoning, and other crimes of the like infernal nature were taught as lawful, and even as virtuous actions. To crown such a system of falsehood and horror all means were declared to be lawful, provided the end was good.

Collectivism and Materialist Ideology For Children

The system of control has merely changed in appearance. The substance is the same and the method of implementation is the same. Satan and his ministers of evil have no new tricks except to change the disguise they hide behind! They always employ the same methodology; lies and deception. knowledge is the bait this "Criminal Cabal" uses to lure mankind into a one world dictatorship trap from which there is no escape! Roman Catholicism has been the religious control system used to keep people in fear and darkness for more than 1500 years; at least since 606 AD.

The Enlightenment instituted the new control system of philosophical Scientism in the early 1700's. During the transition to 'rationalism' the Luciferian brotherhood kept their hands tightly on the controls of society and scientific and historical knowledge/narratives. The Luciferian brotherhood are Nimrod's heirs and they aren't ashamed to admit it.

Freemasons today still make a Nimrodian oath as part of their rituals. The re-instatement of Nimrod's ancient one world empire is the end goal and climactic historical event for the Luciferian criminal cabal! Already scientific atheism and "EVOLUTION" are under assault as Roman Catholic "Ecumenism" squeezes people back into some kind of gnostic 'Spirituality' and expectation of the 'World Leader' who will solve all of mankind's problems. This false Golden Age of peace and love was foretold by many including Helena Blavatsky, Alistair Crowley, Alice Bailey and Robert Muller who created "World Core" education curriculum and strongly supported the United Religions Initiative at the UN.

Muller stated:

"We must move as quickly as possible to a one-world government; a one-world religion; under a one world leader."

And:

"The world's major religions in the end all want the same thing, even though they were born in different places and circumstances on this planet. What the world needs today is a convergence of the different religions in the search for and definition of the cosmic or divine laws which ought to regulate our behavior on this planet."

If you've been led to believe that this is a 'good' thing then you have been deceived. It will be a Fascist nightmare unparalleled in the history of the world, making the horrors of Hitler, Stalin and Mao look like a pleasant day in the park by comparison!

History is coming round full circle as Satan brings all Babylonian world religions and cultures back together under a New World Order controlled by 1 currency and 1 religion under 1 Anti-Christ world leader. The 'new' Babylon is being created before our eyes!

(GLOBALISM = BABELISM)

Popular novels like 1984 and Brave New World have warned of the dystopian nightmare that is coming. The problem is most people think these stories are fiction to be read for entertainment. No, they are warnings written by Masonic Luciferians, Orwell and Huxley, who knew about the future Jesuit New Age agenda.

Goals of The Jesuit Luciferian Cabal:

- 1) The abolition of monarchy and ordered governments
- 2) The abolition of property
- 3) The abolition of inheritance
- 4) The abolition of patriotism
- 5) The abolition of family
- 6) The abolition of Christian Faith

Yes, all this is coming under a worldwide Jesuit Communist Dictatorship. In fact, we can already see this now in many parts of the world as laws are being changed eroding personal choices. These tenets are already enshrined in UN Agenda 21, which promotes the Jesuitical Collectivization of property and the implementation of Bellarminian social justice principles. These practices, rooted in Natural Law, were espoused by Aristotle and later Thomas Aquinas, but strip away fundamental human dignity and freedoms.

Masonic Infiltration - Luciferian Society: What is Freemasonry?

Ok, if you're not familiar with Freemasonry it is simply the name given to a system of ancient rituals and symbols originating from Babylon then passed down via Persia, Egypt, Greece and Rome by, which initiates (the brotherhood) are bound by blood oaths and secrecy. Members must believe in a higher 'power' termed the "Great Architect" meaning all religious affiliations are welcome (Deistic Universalism) and all initiates must also adhere to a strict code of conduct and secrecy.

The official story is that sometime during the Medieval period, stonemasons evolved this system of symbols in order to identify each other, guard trade secrets and secure work on building projects. After much study, I don't buy this story. Satanic rituals, human sacrifice, pedophilia and the worship of idols were just carried over from the mystery cults into the pagan Roman Catholic priestly cult and practiced covertly. Secrecy is repugnant in any 'free' and 'open' society. Freemasonry is just "Satanism" hiding behind a very public facade of 'good works.' This is what deceives people into believing Freemasonry is harmless. it is a very serious misperception.

Also, the story that Freemasonry and Catholicism are in opposition or are enemies is a blatant lie perpetuated by the Roman cult to divert suspicion away from their occult religion and its Masonic practices. It is a fact that popes, priests and cardinals are Freemasons as there are many photos showing them in the company of Masons, exchanging Masonic signs and handshakes and wearing Masonic rings and regalia. This Satanic cult has infiltrated every area of social activity in every region of the Earth.

The Central Goal Of Freemasonry

So many claims have been made about Freemasonry that it is sometimes confusing to see what it is and what it isn't. A little bit of study reveals that it's NOT just a "good ole boys club" or center for a little harmless socializing. Freemason front groups always tout the 'good works' they do like building hospitals and helping disadvantaged children. This is the PR facade that obfuscates the dark reality behind the reason for the existence of Freemasonry. The central undeclared goal is the infusion and propagation of the first lie spoken in the world. This is what the Masonic religion is all about.

Deceiving Eve by appealing to her pride, Satan said, " You shall be as gods" in Genesis 3:5. Today, it's the same lie being presented as "Evolution." The lie is, mankind is evolving toward perfection through 'knowledge' or "Science." This idea is powerfully pervasive in society today. It's all pushed through Pop culture in movies, music, books, plays and TV advertising. Characters in these FICTIONS are transformed through knowledge over and over again. Generations of children have been propagandized into believing in this occult concept of "Becoming." The mantra supporting this idea is "believe in yourself," "follow your heart" and "dreams come true." Metamorphoses, transcendence and transformation are so ingrained into social thinking that few recognize it for the Luciferian concept that it is.

Occult Masonic religion is built around this lie of evolution through self-improvement or "Betterment." It is another false religion of WORKS, earning your way to eternal reward. It is Babylonian in origin and inspired by Lucifer himself. It is a system of coercion, making false promises, controlling all those who are in it. Freemasons manage all print and electronic media under the Jesuit worldwide corporate structure and so disseminate this lie in a continuous 24/7 barrage to those watching TV and Hollywood movies and listening to popular music.

The USA has been vital over the last 80 years in developing a large market in which to test increasingly darker and darker media products on UNSUSPECTING subjects. Jesuit 'front' companies like Disney, Warner Chappell, Universal, and Sony/ATV effectively hold a monopoly on what creative output most of the world will receive. The rapid rise of comic book "Superhero" characters is not accidental but planned because of the central concept of transformation. 'Mere' men become 'gods' with supernatural powers through occult or technological Evolution. The Jesuits are showing us the preferred dystopian futures they have planned for us as mind controlled zombie gods! Is it possible? Yes.

Lorenzo Ricci - 18th Jesuit Superior General: The Jesuits Subsume Freemasonry

There is much speculation about the events that occurred during the time period 1773 to 1814. Many learned scholars and writers point to the importance of this period in world history. Why? something strategic happened for which there is no conclusive documented evidence. I believe as do some others that the Jesuits performed one of their greatest feats of illusion! the researcher has to follow the breadcrumbs and join the dots by making calculated inferences. The Jesuits truly are the masters of deceit and treachery!

In 1775, 2 years after the Papal suppression of the Jesuits by Pope Clement XIV, Lorenzo Ricci the Jesuit Superior General is 'said' to have died in Castel Sant' Angelo prison after his incarceration there in August 1773. Strangely, scant details are available as to his funeral and burial so speculation abounds as to his 'real' or 'faked' death. It is a red flag because the Jesuits have been typically meticulous chroniclers. It would not have been the first time though that people of position 'died' and later 'resurrected' themselves according to historical documents. Personally, knowing the satanic mind of the Jesuits as stated in their bloody 4th oath of induction, they are capable of any nefarious deed!

Resurrecting from the dead secretly and continuing to command his Jesuitical priestly troops as a "Ghostly" Father moving about incognito would have been the Jesuits supreme act of duplicity! This is in fact what I believe happened. The whole world was taken off guard thinking the Jesuit threat was gone. It simply went underground and morphed into a greater monster, a HYDRA with many tentacles wrapped around every system fundamental to human health and liberty!

Napoleon 1812 - Jesuit Coadjutor and Freemason

Between 1782 and 1814 there were 4 interim Jesuit Generals appointed during the suppression period primarily from the Polish-Lithuanian sector of Eastern Europe. The 19th Jesuit Superior General to be numbered is Tadeusz Brzozowski elected in 1814 at the lifting of the Papal suppression order. I personally believe Lorenzo Ricci was in command for part of this period until at least 1782 at which time he would have been 79 years old. Jesuit SG's hold tenure for LIFE!

Ricci may even have lived and been in command longer, having overseen the preparations for the Jesuitical "French Revolution" in 1789 and the rise to power of Jesuit coadjutor Napoleon Bonaparte (b. 1769) out of Jesuit controlled Corsica, as their 'instrument' of revenge on the nations of Europe and even Islamic Egypt! Napoleon was trained by the Jesuits in Corsica and would have been 13 years old in 1782. Hypothetically, if Lorenzo Ricci had lived to a ripe old age he would have been 86 when the French Revolution broke out and Napoleon became a general at the age of 24. He would have observed gleefully and wickedly the end result of Jesuit orchestrations in usurping power over monolithic world power structures (European Colonial Empires) and bringing them further under Rome's control through Canon Law, debt and the Roman "Corporate" structure.

With closer observation it is possible to see Ricci's hidden hand behind the momentous events closing out the 18th century. He wasn't the meek, hesitant victim of fate history records but a genius and master of EVIL demonstrating how even the "Suppression" may have been done in collusion with the Pope at the time to create a 'smokescreen.'

Adam Weishaupt - Jesuit, Illuminist, Luciferian

Lorenzo Ricci is elected Jesuit Superior General in 1758. The American Revolution occurs in 1775 shortly thereafter. Between 1773 and 1814, VERY important historical events occur that CREATE the world we live in today. In 1773 the Jesuits are suppressed. In 1775 Lorenzo Ricci 'dies?' On May 1st, 1776, the very next year, Jesuit Adam Weishaupt forms the "Illuminati" in Ingolstadt, Germany. In 1789 Napoleon is appointed a 'general' and the French Revolution begins. Mayer Amschel Rothschild begins his banking business in the 1760's. With the help of who? All coincidence? I think not! The Vatican was behind these developments every step of the way. I believe the Jesuits learned the lesson well from their predecessors, the Knights Templar. Just as the powerful Templars had gone underground after they had been scapegoated, disbanded and their assets seized by Philip IV of France in 1307 AD with many executed publicly, the Jesuits chose to 'disappear' in a similar way by 'suppressing' themselves. It fooled everyone!

All these powerful characters are converging at the same time and hey, notice that they're all Freemasons and Illuminist Cabalists. They are all working together under the GRAND Jesuit plan for a New World Order controlled from Rome. Adam Weishaupt was commissioned to infiltrate all Continental Freemason Lodges and bring them under the control of the Jesuits. He, himself was initiated into the Masonic Lodge "Theodor zum guten Rath", at Munich in 1777. He also would have had a hand in laying the groundwork for the French Revolution. Illuminati is just code for Jesuits. It's another mysterious organizational name by which to confuse those trying to uncover the truth. It's the BABUSHKA DOLL strategy. A complex spider web or layering of organizations the Jesuits hide behind. They use it to great effect! Today, all Freemasons acknowledge the unknown, mysterious voice that issues directives from the ether, controlling the direction and development of Freemasonry. They don't know where it comes from but it is undoubtedly the voice of great 'authority' and that of the "Black Pope," the Jesuit Superior General.

Between 1776 and 1814 when the Jesuits re-emerge, the world is a different place. What happened?

- 1) The Jesuits are in full control of the Vatican and the Pope.
- 2) They control Freemasonry worldwide.
- 3) They control most European rulers and states.
- 4) They control European Banking.
- 5) They have begun to roll out their master "Counter Reformation" plan, stage 2, birthed at the Council of Trent (1545-1563) 251 years prior, to destroy Protestantism in Europe and worldwide via a myriad of smaller civil wars and 2 major World Wars.

For 38 years the Jesuits, unobserved, were hard at work taking control of every power 'hub' in the world.

The Jesuits did not yet control America in 1814 but they would do so by 1913, 100 years later when they set up the Jesuitical Federal Reserve Bank and take control of the American money supply plunging the American people into perpetual debt servitude unbeknownst to them! (They will do the same in nearly every country by 2018, installing a Central Bank run by the Vatican Bank) What most people fail to understand because the truth has been obfuscated or excluded from the history books, is that, the USA was NOT founded on Christian principles but on a Masonic foundation. Nearly all the founding fathers were Deists and Freemasons including Washington, Jefferson and Franklin. When they write about 'God' or 'Divine Providence' they aren't talking about the God of the Bible but Lucifer the Light Bringer! The Jesuits and Freemasons were there in the USA from nearly the beginning, arriving shortly after the Protestant Puritans, guiding the destiny of America as their New Atlantis, a Masonic Republic under the All Seeing Eye Of Lucifer using their Masonic foot-soldiers to create the structure of control.

Read how a mysterious 'Stranger' intervenes at critical junctures in the formation of America, in Chapter 19 of "Rulers Of Evil" by Tupper Saussy. Was it the "Ghostly Father" Lorenzo Ricci? I personally believe the Jesuits created America and control it lock, stock and barrel today.

The Criminal "Company" And Its Final Goal

The Jesuits or the "COMPANY" have just 1 goal and that is to set up their dark version of Plato's. Republic, as the final world kingdom. For Luciferians, whether Jesuits, Freemasons or New Age occultists, "The end justifies the means." This simply means that whatever measures it takes to implement the New Age and its New World Order must be done regardless of the misery, suffering and death to humans that might occur in the process. All occultists use this phrase like a mantra. It is just another way of saying "Survival of the fittest." In a nutshell the NWO has been and will continue to implement their Fascist program of Eugenics, state control of children, military regimentation, the banning of marriage and family, and the banning of individual freedoms. People will be mind-controlled and enslaved and those that dissent or refuse to comply will be viewed with hate and eliminated. The process will be merciless and devoid of care or compassion.

There have been many dystopian Hollywood films produced that illustrate what that bleak future 'may' look like. Starting way back in 1956 with "1984" then "Fahrenheit 451" in 1966, "A Clockwork Orange" in 1971, "Mad Max" in 1979, "The Terminator" in 1984, "12 Monkeys" in 1995, "The Matrix" in 1999, "In Time" in 2011, and "The Hunger Games" and "Snowpiercer" in 2013, being just a small selection from many. Why the recent deluge of DARK movies? It's simple. The Jesuits are preparing human minds to accept darkness and enslavement as normal through psychological indoctrination! People think this is just harmless entertainment. No, it's Luciferian truth being expressed in film.

Warning To British Masons Who Contravene Antient Charge VI.4: From Pro Grand Master, Brother the Rt Hon Earl Cadogan, 10 June 1981

"We have nothing to hide and certainly nothing to be ashamed of, but we object to having our affairs investigated by outsiders. We would be able to answer many of the questions likely to be asked, if not all of them, but we have found that silence is the best practice. Comment or correction only breeds further enquiry and leads to the publicity we seek to avoid. We respect and do not comment on the attitudes of other organizations. It is unfortunate that sometimes they are less respectful of ours. If therefore any of you is approached by any reporter. .. you will only be carrying out our practice if you gently decline to comment.

Do not be drawn into argument or defense, however. Remember the Antient Charge, 'Behavior in Presence of Strangers, Not Masons': You shall be cautious in your words and carriage, that the most penetrating stranger shall not be able to discover or find out what is not proper to be intimated; and sometimes you shall divert a discourse, and manage it prudently for the honor of the worshipful fraternity. . ."

Why the stern warning? What is so secret that needs to be hidden?

NOTHING in Christianity is secret or hidden.

Everything is in the open.

Christ said:

"For every one that does evil hates the light, neither comes to the light, lest his deeds should be reprov'd." John 3:20

All Secret Societies are to be regarded with deep suspicion, even loathing. Any religion that binds its adherents with bloody oaths and secrets under threat of death is Satanic and to be avoided at the threat of eternal peril.

Both the Jesuits and Freemasons are guilty of these practices.

The world is run by a satanic criminal cabal controlled from the top by the Jesuit order, intent on enslaving humanity under their One World Dictatorship. They are working tirelessly at every level to usher this system in. This isn't something new though. It's been done before, many times in history but not on this grand a scale. (The Babylonian Empire, the Persian Empire, the Greek Empire, the Roman Empire, the Muslim Empire, the Mongol Empire and finally the Jesuitical Roman Catholic Empire etc.) According to the Bible, this is the last time it will happen. God is going to set up his kingdom on Earth after Satan's Jesuit Vatican kingdom is destroyed. That's the Good News.

The Jesuit-Vatican NWO Chemical Depopulation Agenda

W.H.O, F.A.O, C.D.C and F.D.A Are Vatican Controlled Agencies World "Health Programs" Are Designed To Kill, Not Save People

The following quote from 'The First Global Revolution, a report by The Club of Rome (Jesuit 'roundtable' group) summarizes why people have become the enemy and need to be eliminated!

“In searching for a new enemy to unite us, we came up with the idea that pollution, the threat of global warming, water shortages, famine and the like would fit the bill. All these dangers are caused by human intervention, and it is only through changed attitudes and behavior that they can be overcome. The real enemy then, is humanity itself. Democracy is not a panacea. It cannot organize everything and it is unaware of its own limits. These facts must be faced squarely. Sacrilegious though this may sound, democracy is no longer well suited for the tasks ahead.”

It is vital for you, the reader, to understand that the Roman Catholic Vatican Political State, the real 'WHO' behind 'depopulation,' always has 2 policies on any issue. Its public policy is expounded in the Jesuit controlled press worldwide as truth but is in fact a lie. The private policy, which is never disclosed publicly is the truth. This is done to create confusion when the Vatican publicly says (words) one thing but does the opposite (actions) causing a disconnect and then deceives the people of the world by deflecting any suspicions they may have about the Vatican's true intent by public 'apology' in a media release.

This Jesuitical "double entendre," 'double purpose' is revealed in a speech given by NWO Luciferian spokesman Dr Richard Day, March 20, 1969, where he outlines the steps to a one world government/order.

He states:

“Everything has two purposes. One is the ostensible purpose, (public) which will make it acceptable to people; and second, is the real purpose, (secret, private) which would further the goals of establishing the new system and having it.”

Failure to understand the importance of this strategy to deceive will result in a total misreading of the Roman Catholic political agenda for world domination.

The inversion of all things good is Rome's Satanic "modus operandi."

The United Nations Luciferian Connection

The World Health Organization or W.H.O is an organization operating under the Vatican governed United Nations umbrella along with 41 other agencies controlling regulations on every facet of human life. The UN, itself, evolved out of the League Of Nations, founded January 10, 1920 in Geneva, Switzerland, coming into existence in 1946. The League Of Nations is said to have been an intergovernmental organization emanating from the Paris Peace Conference, following WWI, but it was much more than that. The L.O.N. and UN were (publicly) mandated to maintain world peace but actually (secretly/covertly) were designed to be IMPOTENT, mere hubs of activity giving the 'illusion' of promoting world UNITY and PEACE, while in reality, silently, incrementally implementing the Jesuit agenda of a one world communist style 'collective,' without alerting the people of the world to the scam. The development of international organizations due to conflict is a form of Jesuitical trickery. The Luciferian cabal hide behind official organizations which are nothing more than bureaucratic smokescreens.

Note: After WWI = the League Of Nations suddenly appears and after WWII = the United Nations also appears, like magic!

Here's what General Brock Chisholm, the first Secretary General of WHO had to say about the future aims of the UN and WHO, "For many generations we have bowed our necks to the yoke of the conviction of sin. We have swallowed all manner of poisonous certainties fed us by our parents, our Sunday and day schoolteachers ..it has long been generally accepted that parents have a perfect right to impose any points of view, any lies or fears, superstitions, prejudices, hates, or faith on their defenseless children gently put aside the mistaken old ways of our elders if that is possible. If it cannot be done gently, it may have to be done roughly or even violently"

And violently they have done since 1946 and are doing today relentlessly in many parts of the world! The UN and who have never brought any peace, only ever increasing agitation and violence toward the people of the world!

WHY?

Is it really possible that people can't or are unable to live in relative peace? No way! People become aggressive because they are continuously being forced to struggle, fight and comply with fascist UN policies such as Agenda 21 and 30, which are being thrust upon them without consultation or referendum.

The Usual Suspects

Brock Chisholm was a Jesuit agent who was highly rewarded in his life for the part he played ushering in the Satanic New World Order. He was a HUMANIST, EUGENICIST and COMMUNIST, who worked with prominent Luciferians of the early 20th century such as Julian Huxley, Richard von Coudenhove-Kalergi, HG Wells, Wundt, Otto Gross, Wilhelm Steckel, Max Horkheimer, Erich Fromm, Wilhelm Reich, Kurt Lewin, Herbert Marcuse, Walter Benjamin, Theodor Adorno, Robert Owen, A.S. Neill, Havelock Ellis, John Rawlings Rees, Sigmund Freud, Antonio Gramsci, Anatoly Lunacharsky and Georg Lukacs among others, in order to build the framework of the satanic system of World Government controlling everything today.

Lucis (Lucifer) Trust - Alice Bailey's 10 Point Plan

Alice Bailey's 10 point plan to institute the occult New Age Order (New Age) was given to her by demon spirit guides and these underpin the UN's world strategy for the implementation of that New World Order, put in place in 1933. This process really accelerated after the Jesuit planned and orchestrated 9-11 event in New York in 2001, 68 years later, for the purpose of creating an endless "War On Terror" with a 'fictional' enemy. This gave the Jesuits the reason to change 'LAWS' and begin enforcing Agenda 21, which is the reason why everything is becoming so chaotic and evil. The plan is from the black heart of Satan himself.

The starting premise for Bailey's strategy is this: "Don't bother with the adults; target the children. If you can train the children, every generation that follows will be more receptive to "The Plan" than the previous generation. Eventually "The Plan" will become such a normal part of life, because mindsets have been created to accommodate its implementation." Does this look, sound and feel familiar? She basically developed a plan that would be a fail-proof way to usher in the new world order.

Point #1: Take God And Prayer Out Of The Education System

She said: "Change curriculum to ensure that children are freed from the bondage of Christian culture. Why? Because children go to school to be equipped to face life, they are willing to trust and they are willing to value what is being given to them. If you take God out of education, they will unconsciously form a resolve that God is not necessary to face life. They will focus on those things the school counts them worthy to be passed on and they will look at God as an additional, if one can afford the additional."

Point #2: Reduce Parental Authority Over The Children

She said: "Break the communication between parent and child."

(Why?) So that parents do not pass on their Christian traditions to their children, liberate children from the bondage of their parent's traditions.

(How?) a) Promote excessive child rights; Child rights legislation – UNICEF Charter; Today a child is able to say to parent 'I do not want to hear that, I don't want to (or have to) do what you are telling me. If you beat me I will call child protection services.

b) Abolish corporal punishment; (this has been made law). On the other hand the Bible says 'Do not withhold correction from a child, for if you punish them with a rod, they will not die. Punish them with the rod and save them from death.' (Proverbs 23: 13-14) Educators are no longer able to discipline children physically [in some cases by talking to them either]. (

NOTE: Jesus said in the last days – wickedness will increase, there will be rebellion and children will not obey their parents. It is not a trend-it is organized (Matt 10:21)

c) Schools are the agents of implementation (because where do most children spend most of their awake time?) – teachers tell children "you need to discover yourself"; self-expression, self-realization, self-fulfillment are all buzz words.

Point #3: Destroy The Judeo-Christian Family Structure Or The Traditional Christian Family Structure

She said: “Liberate the people from the confines of this structure. It is oppressive and the family is the core of the nation. If you break the family, you break the nation.”

(Why?) So that the youth will not grow up with a sense of belonging, identity or structure.

(How?) a) Promote sexual promiscuity – free young people to the concept of premarital sex, let them have free sex, lift it so high that the joy of enjoying it (sex) is the highest joy in life, fantasize it, that everybody will feel proud to be seen to be sexually active, even those outside of marriage.

b) Use advertising industry, media – T.V., magazines, film industry to promote sexual enjoyment as the highest pleasure in humanity. (Propaganda)

Have they succeeded? Have they done it? If you want to see whether they have succeeded or not, go to the advertising industry, it does everything to catch your attention and today almost no advert comes out without a sexual connotation. Even when they advertise ice cream, they must show you a thigh of a woman and a bikini, they must do something to set off a trail of thoughts. They will show you more thighs than ice cream. Even pine-sol is sexy these days! Why? Because, that is what must be in the minds of the people.

Point #4: If Sex Is Free, Then Make Abortion Legal And Make It Easy

She said: “Build clinics for abortion and put health clinics in schools. If people are going to enjoy the joy of sexual relationships, they need to be free of unnecessary fears. In other words, they should not be hampered by unwanted pregnancies and diseases.”

‘Abortion as told by Christians is oppressive and denies our rights, we have a right to choose whether we want to have a child or not. If a woman does not want the pregnancy, she should have the freedom to get rid of that pregnancy in the easiest and painless way possible’. Besides, if you carry the unwanted pregnancy, then give them up for adoption, that system is so unkind to them - so just get rid of them and spare them that life and the hindering of yours.

*This also ties into the strategy to curb population control together with the use of condoms and ‘pill’ (Eugenics).

Point #5: Make Divorce Easy And Legal, Free People From The Concept Of Marriage For Life.

She said: Love has got a mysterious link called the love bond. It is like an ovum that comes out of the ovary, as it travels through your system, it clicks a love favor in you and there’s one other person in the world who can respond to that love bond, when you see that person, everything within you clicks, that is your man/woman, if you miss him, you’ll never be happy until that love bond cycles past, for many years, so for you to be happy get that person at whatever cost. If it means getting him/her out of that marriage, get him/her that is your man/woman. It’s a mistake for him/her to be elsewhere. And if you go together for some time and find that love has died, don’t be held in bondage by the Christian values. It will never come back, what you need is an easily arranged divorce and allow another love bond to come forth, just like an ovum comes up, and when it comes forth you’ll enjoy life again.

Why? So the youth will not feel they must stay tied down to one person. This will also promote multiple sex partners. We must be free to enjoy life, not tied to one person for eternity. This will also produce broken homes and possibly broken children who will carry the brokenness forward.

How: Degrade the value of marriage over time. Decrease the difficulty of getting a divorce by advertising divorce law and making it an easy and understandable process to obtain one.

Note: People ENTER into marriage having signed contracts of how they will share their things after divorce. In other words, people enter with one foot and another behind. Divorce is way more common today than it was, say, 50 years ago. Marriage is now treated like a high school relationship - easy come...easy go.

Point #6: Make Homosexuality An Alternative Lifestyle

She said: Enjoying sexual intercourse is the highest pleasure in humanity. No one must be denied or restricted in how to enjoy themselves. People should be allowed to experience sex however they want, whether it is homosexuality, incest or bestiality, as long as the two agree.

WHY: to demolish the restraint of tradition that establishes sex between a man and woman, to further the agenda of population control, to abolish creation roles and to incorporate the satanic mantra "do what thou wilt"

HOW: Preach tolerance and acceptance. Give the homosexuals a voice in numbers, as the numbers grow: tolerance and acceptance will too. Pass laws and implement legislation that legalizes gay marriage and shuns "hate speech". Silence the voice of the preacher in the pulpit through 501c3. Put it everywhere it is now forbidden: on tv, on billboards, in church. Advertise it! Encourage foods that increase estrogens in males (like soy). Males will no longer grow to be strong fathers in a traditional home as they will have no desire (

Point #7: Debase Art, Make It Run Mad

She said: The arts are one of the primary keys to changing culture.

WHY? To break down social norms of what is acceptable and forbidden. To encourage creative expression of self outwardly and inwardly in whatever way is pleasing to the individual. To corrupt the minds of the youth into accepting what was once forbidden as normal.

HOW? Promote new forms of art which will corrupt and defile the imagination of people because art is the language of the spirit, that which is inside, you can bring it out in painting, music, drama etc.

Note: Look at the quality, spirituality and message of the art, music and the films that are coming out present day and think about how that has changed drastically (and in provocative ways) throughout history.

Point #8: Use Media to Promote and Change Mindset

She said: The greatest way to change human attitude is media (again, the arts).

WHY: To foster groupthink around normalizing deviant behavior; to encourage pleasure over social norms; to revise the social norms in accordance with the NWO.

HOW: Use the press, the radio, T.V, cinema, any form of public media to influence people in the way you want them to think! Break up the traditional home by using media to encourage females to be independent and to "have their own" or to "not need a man". This will further deteriorate the traditional "long-term" family structure.

Note: So much money is pumped into media and advertising and the spreading of violence, pornographic material and other sources. Sex outside of marriage is thrown in your face 80-90 times more than sex in marriage through media. Promiscuity is being promoted as natural, you watch gay sex on T.V. in homes where children's minds (and yours) are being neutralized to sensitivity to these things . Everything is promoted in a sensual way, even pine sol is advertised on tv by using sex! So those who believe it is just art, it is art, but with an agenda!

Point #9: Create An Interfaith Movement

SHE SAID: "Promote other faiths to be at par with Christianity, and break this thing about Christianity as being the only way to heaven, by that Christianity will be pulled down and other faiths promoted."

WHY: To increase the levels of tolerance & acceptance among man that all religions are equal thereby promoting a false peace; to employ the thought that all religions/spirituality lead to God; to lay the groundwork that will usher in the one-world religion

HOW: promote the importance of man in determining his own future and destiny” – HUMANISM. “Tell man he has the right to choose what he wants to be and he can make it happen, he has the right to determine his cause.”

Point #10: Get Governments To Make All These [Points] Law And Get The Church To Endorse These Changes.

SHE SAID: “the church must change its doctrine and accommodate the people by accepting these things and put them into its structures and systems.”

How?: mainly through the implementation of the points 1-9 and 501c3s. Convince people to grow numbers and the rest will come.

Why? To usher in the new world order in a almost seamless effort.

Have they succeeded?

Today, some may wonder why our governments are legislating laws contrary to the Bible and why the church is compromising the Word of God. It is the process of implementing This 10 Point Plan - A 50 year strategy of the NWO to fulfill its ultimate goal to establish a One World Government, a One World Economic system and a One World Religion. Today the strategy, almost in its entirety has been adopted by the United Nations and today a lot of it is already law in many nations. This deception has crept up by increments, unobserved by most people.

It can best be demonstrated through the well-known analogy of the frog in the pot of water. If you put a frog in a pot of boiling water, it is smart enough to know that it is in terrible danger and will immediately jump out to safety. But if you turn up the heat very slowly, a little at a time, it doesn't notice the changes that are taking place and will slowly cook to death. Many people today are slowly cooking to death and don't seem to realize how far they have come from where they once were.

NOTE: Today the Western World is not struggling to resist these points because the NWO and the New Age Movement focused primarily on the West from its inception. Contrary to popular belief and folklore, our country was not founded on Christianity.

It is interesting to note that Alice Bailey was a well-known affiliate of freemasonry in her day. Albert Pike, a freemason you should research, referred to Freemasonry as the 'custodian' or special guardian of these occult secrets and revealed the hidden agenda of his institution, the forming of a Luciferic One World Government. I would also like to note that when I reference freemasonry, I am speaking of the York or Scottish Rite, not Prince Hall, EVEN THOUGH they take the same oaths, they do not "enjoy the same privileges". They do share the same spiritual bondage, though, because they take the same oaths.

The Jesuit Media Octopus: "Dumbing Down" The Masses

Now, you may be starting to wonder what does all this have to do with the Jesuits, healthcare and depopulation! Well, the simple answer is, the Jesuits had to incrementally DUMB DOWN society from every angle in order to get people to BLINDLY accept what EXPERTS say about every facet of life WITHOUT question! The Jesuits are experts in psychological manipulation and have been practicing propaganda techniques, mind control and social engineering for 5 centuries. The USA has been their prime target during the 20th century.

Over the last 500 years the Jesuits have created a university system of Educated Experts in law, medicine, science and the humanities, who serve the Luciferian mindset. These experts, educated into a liberal world view are mostly atheistic humanists following Darwinian thought, viewing people as nothing more than animals or units of labor for exploitation and social engineering.

They serve the Jesuit power structure for personal gain with bare regard to morality or conscience.

Through the use of EDUCATION, MEDIA, particularly TV and CHEMICAL AGENTS introduced through PROCESSED FOOD, WATER, DRUGS, AGRICULTURE and WEATHER REMEDIATION these experts have reduced people's ability to THINK CRITICALLY and PROTEST/RESIST this relentless onslaught against healthy minds and bodies!

Few people today question what is being done to them. In fact, they become angry when told the TRUTH, calling it an impossible LIE preferring to TRUST the experts and believe the ILLUSION, not understanding the DANGER ahead. The Jesuit systems working in combination have done an extremely effective "BLANKET JOB" of INVERTING human psychology and behavior! The messengers of truth will soon become the ENEMY to those who are deceived. As their forebears did in the past, they will persecute and kill those who are warning and attempting to help them!

The Jesuit Created, Owed, and Operated W.H.O. and CDC

Now, let's be clear about this. Pedophile Bill Gates and Mafioso Doctor Tony Fauci are simply Jesuit sponsored puppets, handsomely paid for helping out in the Jesuit Depopulation Agenda, otherwise known as Jesuit Vatican United Nations Agenda 21.

In Star Wars it is called "Order 66".

In every country there are powerful branch organizations or agencies that report to and extend the W.H.O.'s programs from Rome such as the Center for Disease Control or CDC in the USA. Another big agency is the Food and Drug Administration or FDA also in the USA. These offices are doing the same work everywhere, monitoring and escalating synthetic chemical content in what people eat, drink and take for medication. The Drug Enforcement Agency DEA controls all illegal drugs and is reportedly under the jurisdiction of the American Justice Department AJD, which is more than likely also under wider jurisdiction of the UN run International Court Of Justice ICJ and International Criminal Court ICC, in the Hague. These courts are ALL connected, contrary to the picture the media paints for the public, and the central hub of it all is The Jesuit Vatican.

This chemical invasion into health care (body) products, food, beverages, water and home products really escalated from 1945 post WWII as middle class prosperity in the West increased and affluent consumers went on a decades long spending spree.

Additionally, a criminal stranglehold on “justice” enables the Vatican to control the worldwide illegal drug trade with impunity, using crime syndicates like the Russian, Jewish, Chinese, and Italian Mafia as it has done since the Portuguese "Black Ship" Opium trade to China began in the early 1600's under the covert direction of the Jesuits, who were already in China by 1582. By 1773 the trade was taken over by the Jesuit controlled British East India Company ultimately corrupting Chinese society and resulting in the Opium Wars of aggression between 1839 and 1860 against China by the Jesuits using their British military proxy.

Revisionist history books have deleted all reference to the Jesuits involvement in the drug trade past and present. Addictive illicit and allopathic drugs have a two-fold purpose for the Jesuits:

1. Destroying families and corrupting society making it easier to control
2. Earning enormous profits, which funds their expensive propaganda, media, and war operations.

Ultimately, the Jesuits maintain their criminal cartel world power PYRAMID and its illicit and allopathic drug operations (Big Pharma) by thwarting fair-play and honest business practices. They do this by controlling every level of human enterprise including 'Law Enforcement' and always dictating justice in their favor because all courts are operated by high level

Masonic judges who are in turn under the jurisdiction of the Jesuits. Of course don't expect W.H.O's website to tell you how they operate or describe the chain of command as it is a ghostly mechanism run just like the Jesuit order.

To get a glimpse of the Jesuit criminal operation watch the James Bond film, Spectre. The Jesuits control Hollywood and this is yet another film where they boast about their power. This is not harmless fiction; Spectre IS the Jesuit order.

There isn't a place on the Earth today that isn't being exposed to a chemical barrage; in the air (chemtrails- barium, strontium and aluminum,) in the water (fluoride/chlorine/atrazine,) on the land (synthetic fertilizers, herbicides, pesticides) and in the home (plastic based synthetic estrogens.) Many of these more than 30.000 chemicals are produced from fossil oil, which is also controlled by the Jesuits through their many multi-national corporations like BP, ExxonMobil and Shell. Large corporations like Bayer-Monsanto, ChemChina-Syngenta, Dow and BASF are all producing without conscience, chemicals that pollute every ecosystem and threaten to end all life on Earth. W.H.O has done nothing to stop this chemical proliferation so far because that's not their purpose. In fact, they permit all things poisonous and harmful to health.

The whole cycle of production and usage is controlled by Jesuit controlled UN regulations all slanted in favor of Jesuit run multi-national corporations and profits. Nothing is going to change because only chemicals achieve the massive incremental depopulation effect the Jesuits want while simultaneously making enormous sums of money.

Jesuit Infiltration And Conquest Of China

Founding Jesuit Francis Xavier died in 1552 trying to gain entry to China. The honour of being the first Jesuit into China would fall to Matteo Ricci who resided in Macao and then Guangdong from 1582 to 1592 before establishing a house in Beijing in 1601. German Jesuit Johann Adam Schall Von Bell and Belgian Ferdinand Verbiest were Ricci's companions in that advance guard and cleverly used western knowledge to leverage (infiltrate) themselves into the Chinese royal court as mentors to kings.

Obeying Ignatius instruction to "be all things to all men" they became Chinese (disguised at first as Buddhist monks) in order to obtain favor and kick open the door for those that would come behind. This advance guard of 1000 Jesuits would lay down the foundation- the seeds for the future destruction of and re-making of traditional China for control by Rome. Schall von Bell was sentenced to death after young Emperor Shunzhi's untimely death at the age of 23, likely due to poisoning but somehow he escaped due to an earthquake received as an omen by the Empress Dowager Xiaozhuang. Bell triggered an intense power struggle in China that ultimately claimed his life in 1666. Political intrigue and subversion is what the Jesuits are famous for!

The headstones of 63 Jesuits still stand today at the Zhalan Cemetery, repaired and re-arranged by ignorant adoring people, after the anti-colonial and anti-Jesuit destruction of the Boxer Rebellion and Cultural Revolution, on the campus of the Beijing Administration Institute. If only the Chinese people knew the real truth about these wicked men who came to China to CONQUER their country from within for Rome. The Jesuits are a TROJAN HORSE wherever they go, awaiting their chance to destroy from within.

"The Jesuits serve the emperors as mathematicians, astronomers, cartographers, interpreters, painters, and musicians. Missions are established in Zhaoqing, Shaozhou, Nanxiong (Guangdong province) in the south, in Ganzhou and Nanchang in Jiangxi province (SE), in Nanjing, Huai'an, and Jinan. By the end of the Ming Dynasty (1644) they had spread to almost all provinces, but most of their missions concentrated in the lower Yangzi area and in Fujian province in Eastern China.

Major points of confrontation between the Jesuits, the Chinese authorities, and Chinese converts:

The Jesuits initially (and the Vatican throughout their active period as missionaries) did not tolerate the ancestor cult.

- 1) Converts could not have concubines.

- 2) The Jesuits did not tolerate statues related to Chinese cults.
- 3) The Jesuits were accused of creating secret societies when they held secret meetings for mass with members of the lay community.
- 4) They were also accused of spying for the Japanese and the pirates at the coast.
- 5) The Christian belief focused on a rebellious person who had been convicted as a criminal by the local authorities.

Matteo Ricci in one of the theological disputes held in Nanjing Ricci eloquently but in an arrogant manner ridiculed the famous Buddhist teacher, Zhuhong who shortly after the discussion died. It was believed by some that Zhuhong died of a broken heart because Ricci had mocked the concepts of 'releasing life', vegetarianism and reincarnation."

The Jesuits were expelled from China in 1623 and again in the mid 1800's but by the 1900's they had hundreds of schools all over China being run by Chinese Jesuit converts. By the turn of the 20th century the Jesuits had had 300 years of educating generations of Chinese with Luciferian (Roman Catholic) doctrines and by socially engineering the Chinese mind were deliberately fomenting revolution (class division) in the young by provoking hatred toward the 'imperialist' West and the Chinese ruling class through their communist ideology.

When Jesuit controlled Skull and Bones came to China from Yale USA, they found a disaffected young man named Mao Zedong in whom they recognized the wicked potential to lay his land waste and so they groomed him in the tenets of atheistic Communism stirring up his pride and hatred and the rest is history. Mao was a Jesuit puppet who destroyed his country and then handed control of it to Rome. It took the Jesuits more than 300 years but their persistence in infiltration and subversion bore wicked fruit in the 'bloody' 20th century!

"However, one should not overlook the fact that the Jesuit financial policy grievously aggravated the difficulties of that church. Their missionaries involved themselves in business ventures of various sorts; they became the landlords of income-producing properties, developed the silk industry for Western trade, and organized money-lending operations on a large scale. All these eventually generated misunderstanding and tension between the foreign community and the Chinese people. The Communists held this against them as late as the mid-twentieth century."

Portuguese shipping first arrived in Japan in 1543 but it wasn't until 1549 that Francis Xavier with the help of a Japanese man was able to land at Kagoshima in Kyushu. The Jesuits realized that it was going to be difficult to convert Japanese from Buddhist and Shinto beliefs due to the Japanese language and hierarchical power structures controlling people. As in China, the Jesuits attempted to insert themselves into the emperor's royal enclave unsuccessfully but had some success converting regional Shoguns and populations under their jurisdiction using trade to entice them.

"The Jesuits approached daimyō (Shogun) in southwestern Japan and succeeded in converting some of them. One reason for their conversion may have been the Portuguese trade in which the Jesuits acted as brokers. The Jesuits recognized this and approached local rulers with offers of trade and exotic gifts.

The Jesuits believed that it was most effective to seek to influence people in power and to pass the religion downward to the commoners. At the least, they needed to gain permission from local rulers to propagate Catholicism within their domains. Indeed, as feudal lords converted to Catholicism, the number of believers within their territories also drastically increased."

For 45 years, only the Jesuit influence prevailed in Japan and then the Franciscans and Dominicans started to arrive. Although Emperor Ogimachi issued bans on Catholicism in 1565 and 1568, by 1579 there were reported to be 130,000 converts. By 1590 there were already 70 native Japanese Jesuits and there were 100's of churches across many provinces. Land in Nagasaki was granted to the Jesuits in 1571, then leased to them in 1580 and set up as a vital port for the "Black Ships" trading between Goa, Malacca and Macau. Nagasaki was called the "Rome" of Japan and by 1611 it had 10 churches and 8 parishes. (These details are vital to remember when trying to understand why the Jesuits detonated a nuclear bomb there more than 300 years later in 1945.) In 1614 missionaries were expelled and Catholicism banned.

"In the statement on the "Expulsion of all missionaries from Japan", drafted by Zen monk Konchiin Suden (1563–1633) and issued in 1614 under the name of second Tokugawa shōgun Hidetada (ruled 1605–1623), was considered the first official statement of a comprehensive control of Kirishitan. It claimed that the Christians were bringing disorder to Japanese society and that their followers "contravene governmental regulations, traduce Shinto, calumniate the True Law, destroy regulations, and corrupt goodness". It was fully implemented and canonized as one of the fundamental Tokugawan laws." Wikipedia - History of the Catholic Church - Japan Between 1637 and 1853 when the Jesuits used Matthew Perry and US Naval force to re-open Japan, Catholicism remained a secret practice kept alive for 250 years by the native Jesuit influence. The "Exclusion Edict of 1639" had banned the Jesuits and all missionaries from Japan and forced Catholics to recant their beliefs under threat of death. In 1873 the Edo ban was lifted, many exiles returned, and Urakami Cathedral was rebuilt and completed in 1895.

The Jesuits Install Their Puppet Emperor Meiji

"In 1868 the Jesuits in the Vatican created the Japanese Imperial Empire, the same year the Black Pope would create his "Holy Roman" Fourteenth Amendment American Empire on the ruins of George Washington's Protestant Federal Republic of "These United States of America." vaticanassassins.org

The rise of Japanese imperialism, the invasions of China, Korea and Russia and World War II were all part of the Jesuit program to re-engineer Asian societies for CONTROL and the destruction of all forms of indigenous beliefs, Buddhism and Christianity moving toward the implementation of their Luciferian Roman Catholic New World Order Empire.

Today, Japan is totally controlled by the Jesuits of Rome!

The Jesuits using the 'cover' of 'missions' arrived in Brazil only 9 years after their founding. Possibly the first Jesuits, Manoel da Nóbrega and José de Anchieta set up schools and mission towns including Sao Paolo converting and enslaving many Indians by 'forced' conversion to Catholicism at the point of a sword. By 1568 Jesuits were at work in Mexico and Peru, then Paraguay by 1587 where they set up the first massive experimental "communist" settlements called "Reductions" and then Chile in 1593 and Argentina by 1599 where they established the center of Cordoba. The first Jesuits are recorded as arriving 90 years later at San Javier in Bolivia in 1690.

So you can see that as early as 1700, the centers of subversion had been established in every sector on the South American continent and the Jesuit influence and power so great that already in 1647, Pope Innocent X said "all the wealth of South America is in the hands of the Jesuits."

Dear reader, if that was the situation more than 300 years ago, then what about now?

It's no surprise that Paraguay today has a population that is 88% Roman Catholic. Ecuador is next at 81%, then Venezuela at 79%, Argentina and Peru at 77%, Bolivia at 76%, Columbia and French Guiana at 75%, Brazil at 63%, Chile at 57%, Uruguay at 41%, Suriname at 21%, and Guyana at 7.1%. Did the Jesuits accomplish their task of Romanizing South America with pagan religion and exploiting the vast wealth of this continent for their own enrichment and pursuit of power to the detriment of the indigenous peoples? Indeed they did. They PRETEND to be poor but are RICH beyond human IMAGINATION!!!!

South America has been a hotbed of Jesuitical fomented and led communist revolutions, civil war and bloodshed ever since they landed in Paraguay nearly 500 years ago. Their purpose is to keep American people DIVIDED, downtrodden and angry. People in this condition are always EASY to CONTROL!

Some recent conflicts fomented by the Jesuits and their agents:

- 1) Grenada - New Jewel Movement - 1979 - 1983

- 2) Nicaragua - Revolution 1979 - 1990
- 3) Salvador - Civil War, FMLN - 1979 - 1992
- 4) Peru - Civil War - Shining Path - 1980 - 1997
- 5) Columbia - Civil War - FARC - 1948 - 2014
- 6) Venezuela - Political instability from 1992 - present
- 7) Chile - Civil War - 1973 - 1990
- 8) Argentina - Dirty War - 1974 - 1983
- 9) Bolivia - Ongoing Internal Dissension - 2005 - present
- 10) Honduras - Regional Wars - 1969 & 1988

All South American government leaders pay homage to the POPE and are controlled today by the Jesuits of Rome!

The conquest of the Arabic peoples began under Muhammad, a Roman Catholic 'agent' in 610 AD who was trained and supported for the purpose of conquering and UNIFYING (bringing into submission) all POLYTHEISTIC Arabic peoples under 1 religion with 1 god = ISLAM so they could be CONTROLLED and used as a SWORD of CONQUEST for Rome. Few people know or understand that Muhammad's wife was Roman Catholic and he was mentored by Roman Catholic priests. Roman Catholic theologians WROTE the Koran (Quran) for Mohammed. Most of the stories Muslims are taught about Mohammed are FALSE!

Please note: Muhammad underwent the SAME occult experience of demonic angelic 'visitations' in a CAVE like Inigo Loyola did at Manresa, which was later used as PROOF to give AUTHENTICITY to him as a MESSENGER or PROPHET of God. In the case of both men there were NO witnesses and NO way to corroborate events. Yet the FRUIT of their lives dear reader has always been and is today, VIOLENCE, DECEPTION and DEATH!

Rome has been using the Muslims 'covertly' for 1400 years to bring into 'submission' tribes and nations hostile to Rome and to 'destroy' Judaism and Christianity wherever they found it. Islam is a pagan religion based on IDOLATRY very similar to Roman Catholicism, so similar in fact that it is a 'daughter' religion to Romanism. Rome has been playing with the ancestral animosity between the Arabic descendants of Ishmael the son of Hagar and the Hebrew descendants of Isaac the Biblical son of promise of Sarah and Abraham (read the story in Genesis 16.)

The Jesuits simply accelerated their intrigues in the Middle East after their formation in 1540. Over the last 500 years we can see the gradual formation of Arab states being created by the imposition of boundaries by the Jesuit controlled British Empire exacerbating ongoing tribal squabbles, division and armed conflict. The 2 main Muslim factions, Sunni and Shia, of which Sunni is the majority, have been warring with each other for supremacy under the control of "Wahhabism" for a few centuries and of course being manipulated by the Jesuits to always gain the ascendancy for Rome over them and the control of their vast oil reserves.

"Wahhabism is named after an eighteenth-century preacher and activist, Muhammad ibn Abd al-Wahhab (1703–1792). He started a reform movement in the remote, sparsely populated region of Najd, advocating a purging of such widespread Sunni practices as the veneration of saints and the visiting of their tombs and shrines, all of which were practiced all over the Islamic world, but which he considered idolatrous impurities and innovations in Islam (Bid'ah). Eventually he formed a pact with a local leader, Muhammad bin Saud, offering political obedience and promising that protection and propagation of the Wahhabi movement meant "power and glory" and rule of "lands and men".
Wikipedia

The above has come to pass as the Jesuits have been supporting the House of Saud and the Wahhabi faction and keep tight military control of the Middle East. This is the source of ISIS, ISIL and the current FAKE "War On Terror" the Jesuits are waging against Western society and culture in order to 'erode' Western freedoms!

The earliest dates i could find for Jesuits in this region are 1578 for Egypt and Ethiopia, 1579 for Syria, 1583 for Turkey, 1596 for Lebanon and 1606 for Iraq. It is clear that the Jesuits moved swiftly after their formation and were on every continent of the world by 1600. The Jesuits have had centuries to lay down the groundwork and foundation for the infiltration and subversion of all world cultures with Romanism and unquestioning fealty to the Roman Papal Caesar.

The political turbulence today between antagonistic Arabic states, aided and abetted by Jesuit controlled Western nations like the USA, Great Britain and France as well as Russia and China is aimed at fomenting hatred for Zionist-Communist Israel, which is also a Jesuit controlled Papal State unbeknownst to most people. Agitation, agitation, agitation plus violence, division and confusion is the Jesuit game being played with the aim of moving all the pieces on the Vatican's chessboard in the Middle East into violent confrontation and CHECKMATE!

Incredibly, Iraq, Kuwait, Bahrain, Yemen, Oman, Sudan, Algeria, Libya, Jordan, Lebanon, Tunisia, Morocco, Mauritania, Saudi Arabia, Djibouti, Western Sahara, Palestine, Egypt and Syria had all been targeted for demolition or reconstruction starting in 2010 (Arab Spring) and ending in February 2012 so the Jesuits could install puppet dictators (Muslim Brotherhood) that are totally compliant and complicit with Vatican dictates. Iran is next in the cross hairs as the agitation against it continues to grow for no legitimate reason.

"The Arab Spring caused the "biggest transformation" of the Middle East since decolonization." Wikipedia - Arab Spring

Today all the Masonic Arab leaders pay homage to the Pope and he in turn controls all countries in the Middle East through Shriner Freemasonry and its powerful links to Islam.

Jesuit Infiltration and Conquest of Africa

The Jesuits were also active on the African continent from the outset, working with European governments and capitalizing on early colonization and the plundering of African territories. Francis Xavier, Micer Paulo Camerino and Francisco Mancillhas on their way to Goa in India had an extended stay on Mozambique as early as 1541 only 1 year after Papal sanctioning of the Jesuit order. Xavier also stopped in Kenya on the way to Goa and then later Japan where he died. This reveals the extreme ambition and dedication the early founding Jesuits had in CONQUERING the world for the Pope of Rome. A second mission to Mozambique instigated by Claudio Acquaviva, 5th Jesuit Superior General in 1610, called the Zambezi Mission, lasted until 1759 due to the Jesuit expulsion from all Portuguese dominions.

Goncalo da Silveira appears to be an early statistic, killed in the Kingdom of Monomotapa (modern day Zimbabwe) in 1561 and recorded by Nicolau Godinho during a mission involving 3 Jesuits that lasted 12 years between 1560 and 1572.

João Nunes Barreto (ca. 1510–1562), a Portuguese Jesuit worked as a missionary at Tetuan in Morocco, supposedly serving African slaves between 1548 and 1554.

Ethiopia received its first Jesuit mission in 1557 without much impact but later the Jesuits would return determined to establish a centre of influence with eventual success.

A Jesuit mission went to the Congo-Angola region, which was already under heavy Portuguese influence. Four Jesuits Jorge Vaz, Cristovao Ribeiro, Jacome Dias and Diogo do Soveral reached Mbanza, capital of the then Kongo kingdom, in 1548.

Pope Leo XIII sent Jesuits to open a minor seminary in Cairo, Egypt in 1879. Jesuit presence grew fairly steadily both in Cairo and in Alexandria. In 1900 there were about forty-four Jesuits in Egypt.

Madagascar was visited by Jesuits in 1832, Algeria in 1842, Sudan in 1848 and South Africa in 1875 when Jesuits took over St Aidan's College in Grahamstown becoming an international centre. This mission came to be entrusted with a territory that covered the whole of today's Zimbabwe, Zambia, and Malawi, and parts of Botswana, Angola, the Democratic Republic of Congo, and Tanzania. This extensive enterprise was known as the 2nd Zambezi Mission. The mission also covered the region of Mozambique between 1881 and 1910.

So you can see that the Jesuits infiltrated themselves into key African nations AFTER the people had been subdued by colonial military FORCE.

Through quiet persistence they returned again and again until they had indoctrinated a core group of natives. Building on this generational faithfulness, they were able to 'educate' the young with 'social justice' and 'natural law' ideologies that would eventually 'radicalize' future generations and dictators ruthlessly employing godless agitation, violence and anarchy!

"Today there are over 1,600 Jesuits in Africa, a majority of whom are indigenous Africans. They are organized in nine provinces and regions and they work in thirty-six African countries, in parishes, schools and colleges, as well as in advocacy, social development, and spirituality centers. In recent years their focus has moved considerably toward secondary and college education in their own institutions and in those that are owned by others. Currently, plans are at an advanced stage for the establishment of Jesuit university structures in Madagascar, Nigeria, the Democratic Republic of Congo, and Kenya. Along the same line, the Jesuit Historical Institute in Africa (JHIA) was recently established in Nairobi, Kenya."

Need I say more? The Jesuits have been laying a foundation of FALSE Catholic doctrines that advocate 'social justice,' 'revolution' (natural law) and Papal hegemony for centuries. Do you think the Jesuits have been preaching the true Gospel of Jesus Christ according to the Bible and really caring for souls? If you think so then sadly, you are mistaken. The Jesuits are priestly MILITARY "insurgents" whose mission is to 'blindly' obey orders, INFILTRATE, SUBVERT and SUBORDINATE all peoples to ROME using the deceitful undercover DISGUISE of RELIGIOUS PIETY!

During the 20th century Africa was torn apart by continuous revolution, war and genocide, caused by both Muslim and Marxist insurgents aided and abetted by the USA and Russia, preventing peaceful transitions from colonial subservience to democratic self-rule with dignity. Today, Africa is largely under international control through indebtedness to China and under the rule of a succession of, for the most part, vicious psychopathic criminals, trained by Jesuits, who enrich themselves by allowing Jesuit controlled Multinational Corporations to pillage all natural resources for pennies on the dollar. The Jesuits have kept Africa mostly divided, weak and impoverished, unable to progress and enjoy prosperity from the natural wealth of the land. This was the Jesuit plan from the beginning!

Final Remarks:

Dear reader, no matter where you are, what country you call home; your government is controlled by the Jesuits of Rome! You are living under Rome's UN world government and are subject to ALL its systems whether you deny it or admit it. This is the PRESENT WORLD REALITY!

Jesuits at all levels whether novices or 4th vow veterans have unwittingly or knowingly contributed to the building on ALL continents, the SUPERSTRUCTURE of the 4th Beast described in the book of Daniel chapter 7. For 500 years with blood, sweat and tears, Jesuits labored in hostile environments working and dying for what they believed to be the Kingdom of God. They were/are in fact, building the WORLD BEAST SYSTEM described also in Revelation chapter 17. Loyola's satanic vision has been realised through his multi-generational army of mindless, obedient Jesuit automatons. Satan's short hour of 'triumph' in world COMMUNISM is fast approaching!

All world political, military, educational, cultural, religious and business systems have been brought under the control of the Jesuit Superior General or "Black Pope," the most powerful man in the world. It is just a matter of time before financial and religious freedoms are erased and the world chooses to WORSHIP the one world, Antichrist, god-man dictator as "God!"

Should I Care?

Yes, you should because your eternal destiny depends on the choices you make NOW! If you follow the world system and take the 'mark' of the Beast, you will DIE - forever, separated from God in Hell! If you choose to submit yourself to God, ask forgiveness for your SINS and turn away (REPENT) from doing EVIL then God will forgive you and SAVE you. You will spend eternity with God in the Kingdom of Heaven!

God says to:

"Call unto me, and I will answer you, and show you great and mighty things, which you know not." Jeremiah 33:3

"And you shall seek me, and find me, when you shall search for me with all your heart." Jeremiah 29:13

"Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost." Acts 2:38

Jesus Christ said, "All that the Father gives me shall come to me; and him that comes to me I will in no wise cast out." John 6:37

So the message is clear and has been for 2000 years. However time is running out for you and all of mankind. The Jesuits have BUILT the world Beast system that will ENSLAVE all people everywhere soon. No one can stop this - we can only delay it through REPENTANCE and PRAYER asking for God's mercy and deliverance from EVIL!

The Jesuit Strategy to Deceive and Destroy Mankind

- 1) Create a smokescreen to operate behind covertly (bogeyman to blame for every evil) - the Jews, Illuminati, Freemasons, Bankers, CFR, Bilderberg, CIA etc., etc in order to DISTRACT the people's attention away from ROME
- 2) Erode and destroy all autonomous authorities (nations) not subject to Rome via subterfuge, intrigue, sophistry, revolution and war.
- 3) Usurp control over world military forces, intelligence agencies, all politics and banking.
- 4) Appear pious and virtuous while covertly undermining the morality of the nations with vice of every kind including pornography, gambling and drugs.

- 5) Institute and control an education system of "learning against learning" in order to "dumb down" children, implement "mind control," materialism and a belief in "evolution" and "scientism." (NASA)
- 6) Attack and deride Biblical "truth" through Hollywood & mainstream media (MSM) to destroy all "faith" in God via "Scientism" (false science)
- 7) Promote world "unity" and "ecumenism" in order to create a "one world government and religion" and usher in a worldwide "fascist" system.
- 8) De-populate the planet using abortion, vaccines, GMO foods, fluoridation of water supplies, processed (fake) foods, glyphosate, weather and bio-warfare under the guise of UN Agenda 21 and WHO "save the planet" Green programs.
- 9) Through advanced bio-technology (trans-humanism) offer a FALSE "immortality" through implants in the brain, (neural lace) and hand, (RFID chips) as well as "transfer of consciousness" uploaded into a "synthetic body." This will result in total "POSSESSION" (the HIVE-MIND) and CONTROL by the final Antichrist world DICTATOR.

 This first choice (taking a technological MARK) will result in the loss of the human "soul" for all eternity = DAMNATION = separation from God in HELL forever.

10) This second choice is the BIG ONE!!!! The Jesuits are carrying out SATAN's Number 1 objective and that is to DECEIVE all people into DISOBEDIENCE if that were possible with receiving a MARK = FALSE CHRIST IMAGE. In the Bible, this is described as the IMAGE of the BEAST!

Revelation 13:

“It ordered them to set up an image in honor of the beast who was wounded by the sword and yet lived. 15 The second beast was given power to give breath to the image of the first beast, so that the image could speak and cause all who refused to worship the image to be killed.

16 It also forced all people, great and small, rich and poor, free and slave, to receive a mark on their right hands or on their foreheads, 17 so that they could not buy or sell unless they had the mark, which is the name of the beast or the number of its name.

This false Messiah/ Saviour/ Hero god IMAGE that people will construct for themselves and WORSHIP as GOD is NOT Biblical and deludes them into believing they are SAVED and going to HEAVEN but in fact is taking them to ETERNAL DAMNATION! This is the FALSE GOSPEL DECEPTION the Lord Jesus Christ warned about! The WIDE ROAD to DESTRUCTION!

Roman Catholic Jesuit Vatican Logo with “IHS” in the Center

Here is more proof that the Papacy is the font for the use of the evil Hexagram on its pagan religious temples. Centered in that Hexagram is the symbol of the Jesuit Order as created by Jesuit Superior General Ignatius Loyola—IHS.

The murdered and risen Horus proceeds from his female mother Isis: the murdered Pope/Seventh Roman Caesar rising from the dead to be the Eighth Roman Caesar proceeds from the “Holy Mother Church.” The risen Horus is to then be possessed by Set, the Devil of Egyptian lore: the risen Pope/Eighth Roman Caesar is then to be possessed by Satan according to the Holy Scriptures.

Horus then reigns as invincible:

The Risen Pope/Eighth Roman Caesar now the Antichrist/Man-Beast then reigns as invincible for 42 months. The entire fulfillment of the “Ancient Babylonian Myth” perfected in Egypt reflected in the mythology of the personified Isis-Horus-Set (IHS) is but a Satanic copy of the prophesied Antichrist/Man-Beast (Revelation 13:3-10), the coming Eighth Roman Caesar (Revelation 17:10), who will oppose the risen Lord Jesus Christ at His Glorious Second Coming to Earth.

Jesuit Governed Secret Societies

This is a short list of some of the more influential secret societies active in the world today.

Secret societies are never 'harmless' and appear to be 'benign' channels of "patronage" and "fraternal fellowship" for the benefit of society. In reality they harness the energies of millions of both men and women into 'good' works to balance the 'dark' occult beliefs and activities they engage in. Although members talk of a belief in a 'higher power' this power remains unnamed and actually is 'satanic.' All secret societies are busy extending the mystical, ancient Babylonian 'Kingdom of Darkness' and are of necessity, opposed to Christianity and the 'Gospel' of Jesus Christ!

Whether out of ignorance, deception or willful rebellion, all who join in and partake of secret societies also partake in the 'deeds' of darkness. God forbids secret societies in the Bible and warns that those who engage in them will not enter the Kingdom of God!

Isaiah 29:15

Woe to those who deeply hide their plans from the LORD, And whose deeds are done in a dark place, And they say, "Who sees us?" or "Who knows us?"

The Illuminati:

A select cabal of extremely powerful 33 degree Grand Orient Luciferians who direct world events through the secret societies under the control of the Jesuits.

The Freemasons:

An ancient esoteric secret society of foot soldiers born out of the once powerful "Templar Knights." They are the Vatican "military" who now control governments, the judiciary, police, military and have sworn to carry out the plans of the Illuminati under the supreme direction of the Jesuits.

The Rosicrucians:

The "Order of the Rosy Cross" is smaller than the Freemasons but a highly influential esoteric secret society begun in 17th century Europe who infiltrate secular organizations for the purpose of control under the direction of the Illuminati.

Ancient Order of Hibernians:

A secret Irish - Catholic fraternal organization established 1836 in the USA and sworn to protect the Roman Catholic institution.

National Grange:

A society affiliated loosely with the Freemasons, founded in 1867 in the USA.

United Ancient Order of Druids:

An esoteric fraternal secret society founded in the UK in 1781.

United Order of the Golden Cross:

A secret society for men and women founded in 1876 in the USA.

The Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm:

A secret society for master masons formed in 1890 in the USA.

Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn:

An order of the Rosicrucian Society begun in 1888.

Knights of Columbus:

A Jesuit Catholic fraternal secret society founded in 1882 in the USA and possibly the largest military order in charge of international finance and banking for the Vatican.

Knights of Pythias:

A secret fraternal society founded in 1864 in the USA.

Ku Klux Klan:

A secret society first founded in the USA in 1860.

Bilderberg Group:

Loyal Order of Moose:

A secret fraternal society founded in the USA in 1888.

PEO Sisterhood:

A secret society for women founded in 1869 in the USA.

Improved Order of Red Men:

A secret fraternal society founded in 1834 in the USA.

The Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine:

Woodmen:

A secret fraternal society formed in the USA in 1890.

Knights of the Golden Eagle:

A secret fraternal society founded in 1872 in the USA.

Ordo Templi Orientis:

An order of the Rosicrucian Society founded sometime in 19th century Germany or Austria but only verified in 1904.

Priory of Sion:

A secret fraternal society founded in 1956 in France.

Thule Society:

A secret fraternal society formed in 1911 in Germany.

Sons of Liberty:

A secret fraternal society founded in 1765 in the USA having a heroic mythic past and supposedly now defunct but still influential as an idea.

Skull and Bones:

A powerful Jesuit fraternal secret society of death founded at Yale University in 1832 controlling business and politics in the USA.

Opus Dei:

A Catholic society dedicated to the support and promotion of Roman Catholic doctrine and teaching.

The Knights Templar:

A Catholic secret military society founded by crusader knights in 1118 in Europe. These were Rome's bankers and enforcers. When they became too powerful in 1314 they were outlawed, persecuted, imprisoned and many executed by the pope and were replaced much later by the Jesuits.

Theosophy:

A secret occult society of Luciferians whose teachings formed the basis for the "New Age" (Aquarian) movement first outlined in Alice Bailey's writings in the 1920's and 30's and that took form in the 1950's and 60's "Beat" and "Hippie" counter-culture (social engineering) movements and later transformed in the 90's (1992 Un Earth Summit) into the "Green" or "Environmental" movement.

Satan's New Age Minions

Three Kinds of Participants:

There are basically 3 types or categories of participants in the Jesuit, occult, New Age, New World Order movement currently taking control of world systems by stealth! These groups form a pyramid with the base consisting of participants I would term 'useful dupes.' These people believe they are contributing to a 'new' world where man will solve all the current problems and create a 'golden age' without God.

A large number of people in this 'base' are 'disaffected' young people that have been indoctrinated by parents and teachers from the 'baby boomer' generation. Most of them are under 35 and grew up in the 80's and 90's. Many of these young people are 'atheistic' or 'materialistic' and have swallowed the lies of 'scientism,' 'evolution' and 'green' ideology due to JESUIT authored textbooks and MSM media propaganda. Most do not question what they read/hear in the mainstream media and embrace 'uncritically,' feminist, socialist, environmental and trans-humanist ideologies.

They are the product of a 'hybrid' set of alternative ideas and lifestyles lived out by parents and eagerly embrace new technologies blindly seeing them as the saviour of mankind.

Another large segment of this 'base' group of people are the 'baby boomers' who came of age in the 50's and 60's when growing social awareness resulted in unrest and the birth of protest movements against government and corporate businesses, birthing drug fueled music, art, literary and film culture. Underpinning all this activity was the 'consciousness' movement and its activities growing out of 'Eastern' religious practices such as 'Buddhism.' Feeding into this heady mix were the growing 'neo pagan' practices and the rise of 'witchcraft' and 'satanism' in an increasingly secular society. Many of the 'dupes' actively working and promoting new age activities and philosophies come out of this era of social ferment.

These 'boomers' are involved in local politics, non-governmental organizations (NGO's) education, alternative 'healing' practices and spiritual organizations espousing New Age 'occultic' teachings. They wield considerable power by virtue of their numbers and are evangelistic in their fervor for a humanistic 'golden age' based on principles they learned in their youth. They believe the future will be bright and utopian. Most of them do not understand the deception they are involved in and believe what they are doing is 'right.' Most of them are strong advocates of 'environmentalism' and the new 'green' religion of 'saving the planet.' They continue to lead the younger generations into 'deception' and wield considerable influence over them! Due to their involvement and participation in occult activities from youth many of these people continue to be involved in witchcraft, sorcery and secret societies like the 'Freemasons' so are controlled and held to secrecy by 'blood' oaths and illicit activities.

The second group consists of people who are more knowledgeable about the NWO plan but are informed on a 'need to know' basis (compartmentalization) by those above them. This means they never have the complete picture about what is going on but carry out their duties for the sake of 'reward.' These people have considerable decision-making power and can be found in the upper echelons of politics, the military, intelligence agencies and international bodies such as the UN, WHO, IMF and the World Bank. They are 'partial dupes' and know enough to carry out their duties but do not know that they are helping construct a system of world 'communism.' They have been kept in the dark by their superiors and mostly believe that what they are doing is helping the 'greater cause.' Many of these people are also heavily involved in witchcraft and secret fraternal societies such as 'Freemasonry' and are bound and controlled by blackmail or blood oaths of secrecy!

The last group occupy the top section of the pyramid. These people are the 'elites' and control the first 2 groups through a maze of organizations connecting all banking, political, educational and cultural groups worldwide. They consist of the Roman Catholic Pope and the 13 ancient Luciferian "bloodline" families called the 'black nobility' who control more than 80% of the world's wealth. Behind these are the JESUITS with their general, the "Black Pope" having all power and controlling all world systems. It would be accurate to say that maybe less than 2000 people hold the destiny of the world's peoples in their hands. This group makes the plans for world dominance and gives orders for the plans to be carried out at strategic points in time. They are responsible for all the wars and actively foment rebellion and revolution amongst the youth of all nations. They do this in order to topple governments, subvert social stability, create 'chaos' and socially 'engineer' whole generations of people into adopting increasingly corrupt and anti 'God' behavior.

The 'elites' use a multi-pronged strategy to implement their 'mind control' program firstly through the mass 'media' which they own and control, then through world education systems and finally through art and culture. This group are 'enlightened' (the Illuminati) and take their orders from Lucifer himself. They give their worship and allegiance to Satan in return for power, wealth and status. These people murder their own children and are involved in human sacrifice, pedophilia, bestiality, slavery, murder and every depravity and perversion known to man. This is the price Satan demands in return for their power and wealth.

Of course, Satan is at the pinnacle of the power pyramid and is symbolized as the all-seeing 'eye' of Horus. He is controlling the world systems through his 'knowing' or "illuminated" minions who then delegate his will to the millions of 'unknowing' minions or 'dupes.'

This is how the satanic world system continues to expand through "Compartmentalization, deception, lies and ignorance!"

Jesuit Fostered Narcissism: There Is Nobody Home

The Following are the characteristics of Narcissism that the Jesuits created, worldwide, with their owned and operated Hollywood, media, fashion, and music industries.

- 1) Narcissism is a Kind of Religion Where the Narcissist is a False God
- 2) Narcissists are a Kind of Artificial Intelligence with No Intrinsic Self or Worth
- 3) A Narcissist's Worth is Totally Contingent Upon External Validation
- 4) Narcissists Misread Reality and Over Value Their False Self Because They Feel Empty and Worthless
- 5) Narcissists Overcompensate by Overvaluing Their Talents and Worth
- 6) The Narcissists Possesses No Emotional, Cognitive, and Empathetic Abilities
- 7) The Narcissist Has Access to Only Negative Emotions
- 8) The Narcissist Does Not Have Positive Emotions at All

- 9) The Narcissist has Anger, Envy, Pain, Anxiety, Dread, Despair, Depression
- 10) The Narcissist is Constitutionally Incapable of Loving
- 11) Narcissists Possess Fabricated Emotions and Therefore Fail at Feeling Other's Emotions, Rendering Them Incapable of Emotional Empathy
- 12) The Narcissist Seeks to Fulfill His Narcissistic Supply, and Attention, Either Positive or Negative
- 13) The Narcissist Seeks to Validate His False Image as Personal God by Seeking the Continual Assessment of Others
- 14) Fulfilling Narcissistic Supply is a Form of Asking for Help to Validate the Narcissist's Grandiose Self Image
- 15) Narcissism is not Personality Disorder. It is a Post Traumatic Condition
- 16) The Narcissist is Not an Adult
- 17) The Narcissist is a Child Which is Why Women So Easily Fall in Love with Them
- 18) The Narcissist is A Hall of Mirrors, Reflection of a Constructed Reflection of a Reflection, which is Merely Falling in Love with Yourself Because There is Nobody Home. The Narcissist can Only Offer You Reflections of Yourself
- 19) Falling in Love with a Narcissist is Falling in Love with Yourself
- 20) The Narcissist Offers Addition to The Self
- 21) The Narcissist is Alien in Feeling, With Nobody Home
- 22) Narcissism is an Addiction to a Fixation of the False Self
- 23) Narcissistic Abuse has Many Components
- 24) The Narcissist Needs You to Disappear
- 25) The Narcissist Needs the Real You to Disappear and Maintain a False Photo of You
- 26) The Narcissist Wants to get Rid of the Real You to End the Dissonance Between His False Image of You and What you Really Are
- 27) Narcissism is a Form of Hostile Take Over

- 28) The Narcissist Must Destroy the Real You, But She Cannot Get Ride of Your Inner Representation
- 29) When You Become an Extension, Instrument, or Refection of The Narcissist, she has Gotten Rid of Your Inner Self, and Thus, “Gotten Rid of You”.
- 30) The Narcissist Seeks to Destroy Your Independence from Them
- 31) The Narcissists Will Smother a Person and Not Allow the Person to Separate and Become an Individual
- 32) This is What the Narcissistic Mother Did to Her/Him
- 33) The Mother Did Not Allow the Child to Be Autonomous and Separate
- 34) The Narcissist Became Like the Narcissistic Mother
- 35) The Narcissist will Subsume Her Victim, Making Her a Victim and Reduced to a Hologram in Her Narcissistic World
- 36) The Narcissist Needs to Physically See You to Activate the Representation of the Narcissist
- 37) The Narcissist Feels Calmer with The Victim Around
- 38) The Narcists Feels Object Constancy with The Victim Around
- 39) The Narcissist Wants You to Freeze, and Just be There
- 40) The Narcissists Requires You to Be Empty, to Not Be Anybody but The Image She Has Created of You
- 41) The Victim of a Narcissism Experiences Emotional Dis-Regulation, When Emotions and Anger Overwhelm One
- 42) Narcissists Experience Vicarious Living Through Others
- 43) Narcissists are Codependent Upon Their Partner’s Presence and Attention, though it be Hollow and Merely Reflective
- 44) Narcissistic Couples May Trade off Their Roles for Narcissistic Supply and Narcissistic Victimhood
- 45) The Narcissist Must Constantly Be Projecting a Grandiose Self Image and Exaggerating About Oneself to Maintain the False Perfect Self
- 46) Generally, The Victim Is as Addicted to The Narcissist as The Narcissist is Addicted to The Victim

- 47) Narcissistic Abuse Involves Not Allowing the Victim To Individualize or Separate
- 48) Narcissistic Mothers Shame a Child So the Child Learns to Quarantine or Mute Any Positive Emotions
- 49) The Narcissist Equates Positive Emotions with Pain and so They Only Allow Negative Emotions to Exist
- 50) The Narcissistic Mother Merges or Fuses with The Child, Disallowing the Child to Separate and Become an Independent and Sovereign Person
- 51) The Child Learns to Be Unconfident of Her/His Ability to Operate Autonomously Without Another to Continually Praise Them
- 52) The Narcissist Must Manipulate, Cajole, Beg, or Solicit from Others to Validate that Their False Self is Real.
- 53) The Narcissist Will Develop a Lifestyle of Fulfilling the Narcissistic Supply of Erase and Affirmation that The False Self Image of Perfect God is Real
- 54) Narcissist Devalue and Overvalue People Contingent Upon Whether the Person Before Them is Validating Their Self Image as Perfect and Grandiosely Powerful
- 55) Narcissists Disassociate from Memories to Maintain Their False Self-Image, Rejecting Facts that Disagree with Their Self Image
- 56) Narcissists are Traumatized Children, Stuck in Infantile Trauma

The Jesuit Created Tavistock Institute

The Tavistock Institute undertook the task of social engineering the masses. It entails a complex nexus of institutions created to spread and implement an agenda of social destruction through drug abuse, genetic manipulation, New Age mysticism, the occult, a brainwashing mass media, and a perverted Cybernetics program. Tavistock, itself, was Britain's premier psychological warfare center, working in allegiance with some of the world's leading sociologists, psychiatrists and anthropologists, the so-called "psychiatric shock troops" of despair. They implemented Nazi doctors, mass warfare, assassinations, a drug addicted and Gaia loving generation of hippies, the CIA, and plenty of the cultured elite. This institute used pawns and puppets in the task of engineering a full-spectrum dominance of Oligarchical social control, including employing the philosophies and ideas of Charles Darwin, Freud, H. G. Wells, Julian and Aldous Huxley, Bertrand Russell, and Carl Jung to name a few, and orchestrated beneath the umbrella of the omnipresent and nefarious Rockefellers, masquerading as humanitarians and philanthropists.

According to John Coleman, the elite has been writing and directing the script for almost a hundred years at the "Tavistock Institute of Human Relations" based in London. Like a cat toying with a mouse, the elite teases us with fleeting glimpses of our true predicament. One such peek was the 1998 movie "The Truman Show" directed by Peter Weir. Truman Burbank, played by Jim Carrey, is unaware his life is a live reality TV show. Everyone, including his wife, is an actor, and everything that happens is staged. In other words, his life is a fraud. Truman Burbank's predicament describes our own.

John Coleman, 71, a former British Intelligence officer (MI-6), first exposed the clique that dominates the world in his Conspirator's Hierarchy: The Story of the Committee of 300. (1992)

His latest book is a cry of anguish: The Tavistock Institute of Human Relations: Shaping the Moral, Spiritual, Cultural, Political and Economic Decline of the United States of America. (2005) The book is confirmation that a financial elite engineered every war and depression in modern history and continues to condition our beliefs and behavior.

According to Coleman, Tavistock began life before WWI to convince peace-loving populations of the need to massacre each other.

"Those fresh-faced young American boys from Arkansas and North Carolina were sent marching off to Europe believing they were "fighting for their country" never knowing that the "democracy" [Woodrow] Wilson sent them to "make the world safe for" was a Socialist-International One World Government dictatorship."

Funded by the royal family, the Rockefellers and the Rothschilds, Tavistock pioneered the techniques of propaganda used to justify war.

Outright lies about German atrocities in WWI resonate down through the decades to lies about Sadaam Hussein's gassing Kurds and killing babies in Kuwait. Of course the biggest lie of all is that Muslims had anything to do with Sept. 11.

Coleman found that 94% of the key words and phrases developed by Tavistock for WWII use "matched up with those used in the Korean War, the Vietnam War and the Gulf War."

Coleman's main point is we can't trust anything the mass media or government tells us, especially not the "news." He cites Stalin's propaganda chief Willy Munzenberg: "All news is lies and all propaganda is disguised as news."

This applies to the West today.

Coleman says society is rotten with institutions and organizations directed by Tavistock to deceive and distort.

They are called "elite" institutions because of whom they serve.

The conspiracy reaches right down to the local level.

According to Coleman, Tavistock has an "invisible army" of actors found "today in the halls of justice, police, churches, school boards, sports bodies, newspapers, TV...town councils, state legislatures, and are legion in Washington. They run for every office..."

Virtually every important corporation, university, think tank or foundation is linked to Tavistock. (See "Conspirators' Hierarchy" pp. 221-253 for a list.)

It chooses the entertainers we watch, the pundits we listen to; the politicians we elect. Every US President since Theodore Roosevelt has been under its control. They made examples of rebels like JFK and Richard Nixon.

Tavistock is behind every "spontaneous" social movement of the last century, including feminism, sexual "liberation", the peace movement, the "New Age" movement, environmentalism, homosexuality, and abortion.

"The moral, spiritual, racial, economic, cultural and intellectual bankruptcy we are in the midst of today is not some social phenomenon...that just happened. Rather it is the product of a carefully planned Tavistock program," Coleman writes.

We are constantly studied to see how we will react under stress.

Orson Well's Martian invasion in 1938 was designed to demonstrate the power of the "news" to deceive.

Coleman doesn't mention it but the power blackout in the Northeast was probably another study of mass behavior. So was New Orleans.

Confident of our sedated sheep-like behavior, Coleman says Tavistock went ahead and massacred David Koresh and his followers at Waco after lying about his activities.

Tavistock follows Sun 'Tsu's maxim of "Kill a few; terrorize many."

Coleman calls Winston Churchill's decision to bomb German civilians "a war crime." Dresden was "an outright attack on Christianity, timed to take place during Lent," he says. (188)

According to Coleman, Tavistock is waging war on the Muslim world because Islam represents an obstacle to its control. (151)

He claims Russia and China still have a measure of independence.

Conclusions

We are in this jam because a small group of dynastic families have amassed unlimited wealth by usurping the government's money-creation role. To maintain this unjust advantage, they need to create a "world government" dictatorship in the name of "globalism." This supranational elite is colonizing every country, including the UK, the USA and Israel. As in any colonial situation, our political and cultural elites are chosen by their willingness to collaborate with the occupying power. Most people will do whatever it takes to be "successful". Many actually think they are free citizens creating a better world.

Like the two Jewish professors who criticized the Israel Lobby recently, they discover the reality when they stray from the script. The public is constantly under psychological attack. Turn on the news and we see 9-11 cover-up accomplice Rudolph Giuliani shedding crocodile tears with victims' families at patsy Zacharias Moussaoui's trial.

Someone is burning black churches.

Illegal aliens are flooding the country (despite the "heightened security" mandated by the "war on terror.") Jesus asked Judas to betray him. It goes on and on.

People find the Illuminati to be an abstract and elusive enemy. Look no further than your television, your iPod, your radio, movie or newspaper. Coleman says 450 of the Fortune 500 companies get their marching orders from Tavistock.

This may explain why TV commercials seem more concerned with social engineering than with selling a product. I saw this gem recently. A little boy besieges a little girl with gifts. Each time she rejects him. Finally she accepts a vase full of flowers but slams the door in his face. She dumps the flowers in the garbage and uses the vase to gulp McCain's Kool-Aid. Is this the cultural message to send to children? They are messing people up so we are too divided and dysfunctional to resist them.

Like Truman Burbank, more and more people are recognizing the plot. They are testing the elite's story line and finding it mendacious and perverse. They are walking off the stage to seek an authentic life.

The Power of Television, Film, and Media

I know the secret of making the average American believe anything I want him to. Just let me control television. You put something on the television and it becomes reality. If the world outside the TV contradicts the images on the screen, people start trying to change the world to make it conform to the TV images. Americans have become even more “wired” into a mass media network that now includes computer and video games, as well as the Internet, an all-surrounding network whose power is so pervasive that it is almost taken for granted.

As the standup comic said:

“We are really a media conscious people. I know a guy who was run over by a car in the street. He didn't want to go to the hospital. Instead, he dragged himself over to the nearest bar, to check out whether he made it onto the evening news. When it wasn't on, he said, ‘What does a guy have to do, get killed, to get on television?’”

In the highest circles of the British monarchy and its Club of Isles, this great power is not taken for granted. Rather, it is carefully manipulated and directed to create and mould popular opinion. In a 1991 report published by the Malthusian Club of Rome, entitled “The First Global Revolution,” Sir Alexander King, top adviser on science and education policy to the royal family and Prince Philip, wrote that new advances in communications technology will greatly expand the power of the media, both in the advanced and developing sectors. The media, he proclaimed, is the most powerful weapon and “agent of change” in the fight to establish a One World, Neo-Malthusian Order that will transcend and obliterate the concept of the nation-state.

It is certainly necessary to engage in a broad debate with the journalists and the top media executives involved to study the conditions for them to be able to define this new role,” King wrote. In his project, King's Club of Rome can count on cooperation from the media cartel, which is a British asset, as documented in our report. It can also call on the capabilities of a mass psychological warfare machine, also run by the British and their assets, which extends into key phases of media production, and includes writers and psychiatrists who help shape the content, and the pollsters who fine-tune and analyze the impact on targeted populations. Beyond this interacting network, there are millions of participants involved in the production, distribution, and transmission of media messages, whose thinking, in turn, has been shaped by the content of the media product, and who are, effectively, self-brainwashed by the culture within which they live.

The Tavistock "Mother" The historic center of this mass psywar apparatus is based outside London, in the Tavistock Center. [2] Established in the aftermath of World War I under the patronage of the Duke George of Kent (1902-42), the original Tavistock Clinic, led by John Rawlings Rees, developed as the psychological warfare center for the royal family and British intelligence. Rees and a cadre group of Freudian and Neo-Freudian psychiatrists applied wartime experience of psychological collapse, to create theories about how such conditions of breakdown could be induced, absent the terror of war. The result was a theory of mass brainwashing, involving group experience, that could be used to alter the values of individuals, and through that, induce, over time, changes in the axiomatic assumptions that govern society. In the 1930s, Tavistock's extended networks developed a symbiotic relationship with the Frankfurt Institute for Social Research, created by European oligarchical networks, which focused on the study and criticism of culture from a Neo-Freudian standpoint. In the late 1930s, with its operations transferred from Germany to the New York area, the Frankfurt School coordinated the first analysis of the impact of a mass media phenomenon, i.e., radio, on culture--the Princeton-based "Radio Research Project." [3]

With the outbreak of World War II, Tavistock operatives took effective control of the Psychological Warfare Directorate of the British Army, while its allied network in the United States embedded itself in the American psychological warfare apparatus, including the Committee on National Morale and the Strategic Bombing Survey.

By war's end, the combined influence of Tavistock (which became the Tavistock Institute in 1947) and of the former Frankfurt School operatives, had created a cadre of "psychological shock troops," as Rees called them, and "cultural warriors" numbering in the several thousands. Today that network numbers in the several millions around the world, and it is the single most important factor in determining the design and content of mass media product.

The "Pictures in Your Head" In 1922, Walter Lippmann defined the term "public opinion" as follows: "The pictures inside the heads of human beings, the pictures of themselves, of others, of their needs and purposes, and relationship, are their public opinions. Those pictures which are acted upon by groups of people, or by individuals acting in the name of groups, are Public Opinion, with capital letters." Lippmann, who was the first to translate Sigmund Freud's works into English, was to become one of the most influential of political commentators. He had spent World War I at the British psychological warfare and propaganda headquarters in Wellington House, outside of London, in a group that included Freud's nephew, Eduard Bernays. Lippmann's book, Public Opinion, published one year after Freud's Mass Psychology, which touched on similar themes, was a product of his tutelage by the Rees networks. It is through the media, Lippmann writes, that most people come to develop those "pictures in their heads," giving the media "an awesome power."

The Rees Networks had spent World War I studying the effects of war psychosis, and its breakdown of individual personality.

From their work, an evil thesis emerged:

Through the use of terror, Man can be reduced to a childlike and submissive state, in which his powers of reason are clouded, and in which his emotional response to various situations and stimuli can become predictable, or in Tavistockian terms, "profitable." By controlling the levels of anxiety, it is possible to induce a similar state in large groups of people, whose behavior can then be controlled and manipulated by the Oligarchical forces for whom Tavistock worked.

News and Mass Media were capable of reaching large numbers of people with programmed or controlled messages, which is key to the creation of "controlled environments" for brainwashing purposes. As Tavistock's researches showed, it was important that the victims of mass brainwashing not be aware that their environment was being controlled; there should thus be a vast number of sources for information, whose messages could be varied slightly, so as to mask the sense of external control. Where possible, the messages should be offered and reinforced through "entertainments," which could be consumed, without apparent coercion, and with the victim perceiving himself as making a choice between various options and outlets. This is Jesuit Tavistock created Hollywood's job.

Lippmann observes in his book that people are more than willing to reduce complex problems to simplistic formulas, to form their opinion by what they believe others around them believe; truth hardly enters into such considerations. Appearance of reports in the media confer the aura of reality upon those stories: If they weren't factual, then why would they be reported? Lippmann says the average person believes. People whose fame is in turn built up by the media, such as movie stars, can become "opinion leaders," with as much power to sway public opinion as political figures.

Were people to think about this process too much, it might break down; but, he writes:

"The mass of absolutely illiterate, of feeble minded, grossly neurotic, undernourished and frustrated individuals is very considerable, much more considerable, there is reason to think, than we generally suppose. Thus a wide popular appeal is circulated among persons who are mentally children or barbarians, whose lives are a morass of entanglements, people whose vitality is exhausted, shut-in people, and people whose experience has comprehended no factor in the problem under discussion." Stating that he saw a progression to ever-less-thought-provoking forms of media, Lippmann marvels at the power of the nascent Hollywood movie industry to shape public opinion. Words, or even a still picture, require an effort for the person to form a "picture in the mind."

But, with a movie:

"The whole process of observing, describing, reporting, and then imagining has been accomplished for you. Without more trouble than is needed to stay awake, the result which your imagination is always aiming at is reeled off on the screen." Significantly, as an example of the power of movies, he uses the D.W. Griffith propaganda film for the Ku Klux Klan, "The Birth of a Nation";

no American, he writes, will ever hear the name of the Klan again, without seeing those white horsemen. Popular opinion, Lippmann observes, is ultimately determined by the desires and wishes of an elite "social set".

That set, he states, is a "powerful, socially superior, successful, rich urban social set [which] is fundamentally international throughout the Western Hemisphere and in many ways, London is its center. It counts among its membership the most influential people in the world, containing as it does the diplomatic sets, high finance, the upper circles of the army and navy, some princes of the church, the great newspaper proprietors, their wives, mothers, and daughters who wield the scepter of invitation. It is at once a great circle of talk and a real social set." In a typical elitist fashion, Lippmann concludes that coordination of public opinion is lacking in precision. If the goal of a one-worldist "Great Society" is to be realized, then "public opinion must be organized for the press, not by the press." It is not sufficient to rely on the whims of a "super social set" to manipulate the "pictures in people's heads"; that job "can only be managed by a specialized class" which operates through "intelligence bureaus."

The "Radio Research Project" As Lippmann was writing, the radio, the first major mass media technology to invade the home, was coming into prominence. Unlike the movies, which were viewed in theaters by large groups of people, the radio provided an individualized experience within the home, and centered on the family. By 1937, out of 32 million American families, some 27.5 million had a radio set--a larger percentage than had cars, telephones, or even electricity. That same year, the Rockefeller Foundation funded a project to study the effects of radio on the population. [8] Recruited to what became known as the "Radio Research Project," headquartered at Princeton University, were sections of the Frankfurt School, now transplanted from Germany to America, as well as individuals such as Hadley Cantril and Gordon Allport, who were to become key components of Tavistock's American operations. Heading the project was the Frankfurt School's Paul Lazerfeld; his assistant directors were Cantril and Allport, along with Frank Stanton, who was to head the CBS News division, and later become its president, as well as chairman of the board of the RAND Corporation.

The project was presaged by theoretical work done earlier in the studies of war propaganda and psychosis, and the work of Frankfurt School operatives Walter Benjamin and Theodor Adorno. This earlier work had converged on the thesis that mass media could be used to induce regressive mental states, atomizing individuals and producing increased lability. (These induced mental conditions were later dubbed by Tavistock itself as "brainwashed" states, and the process of inducing them called "brainwashing.")

In 1938, at the time he was head of the music section of the Radio Research Project, Adorno wrote that listeners to radio music programs:

"Fluctuate between comprehensive forgetting and sudden dives into recognition. They listen automatically and dissociate what they hear.... They are not childlike, but they are childish; their primitivism is not that of the undeveloped, but that of the forcibly retarded." The Radio Research Project's findings, published in 1939, backed up Adorno's thesis of "enforced retardation," and serve as a brainwashers' handbook.

In studies on the serialized radio dramas, commonly known as "soap operas" (so named, because many were sponsored by soap manufacturers), Herta Hertzog found that their popularity could not be attributed to any socio-economic characteristics of listeners, but rather to the serialized format itself, which induced habituated listening. The brainwashing power of serialization was recognized by movie and television programmers; to this day, the afternoon "soaps" remain among the most addictive of television fare, with 70% of all American women over 18 watching at least two of these shows each day.

Another Radio Research Project study investigated the effects of the 1938 Orson Welles radio dramatization of H.G. Wells' The War of the Worlds, about an invasion from Mars. Some 25% of the listeners to the show, which was formatted as if it were a news broadcast, believed that an invasion was under way, creating a national panic--this, despite repeated and clear statements that the show was fictional. Radio Project researchers found that most people didn't believe that Martians had invaded, but rather that a German invasion was under way. This, the researchers reported, was because the show had followed the "news bulletin" format that had earlier accompanied accounts of the war crisis around the Munich conference. Listeners reacted to the format, not the content of the broadcast.

The project's researchers had proven that radio had already so conditioned the minds of its listeners, making them so fragmented and unthinking, that repetition of format was the key to popularity.

The "One-Eyed Babysitter" Television was beginning to make its entrance as the next mass media technology at the time the Radio Research Project's findings were published in 1939. First experimented with on a large scale in Nazi Germany during the 1936 Berlin Olympics, TV made its splashy public appearance at the 1939 New York World's Fair, where it attracted large crowds. Adorno and others immediately recognized its potential as a mass-brainwashing tool. In 1944, he wrote, "Television aims at the synthesis of radio and film ... but its consequences are enormous and promise to intensify the impoverishment of aesthetic matter, so drastically that by tomorrow, the thinly veiled identity of all industrial culture products can come triumphantly out in the open, derisively fulfilling the Wagnerian dream of Gesamtkunstwerk--the fusion of all arts in one work." As was obvious from even the earliest clinical studies of television (some of which were conducted in the late 1940s and early 1950s by Tavistock operatives), viewers, over a relatively short period of time, entered into a trance-like state of semi-awareness, characterized by a fixed stare. The longer one watched, the more pronounced the stare. In such a condition of twilight-like semi-awareness, they were susceptible to messages both contained in the programs themselves, and through transference, in the advertising. They were being brainwashed.

Television moved from being a neighborhood oddity, to mass penetration of especially urban areas, during approximately 1947-52. As Lyndon LaRouche has observed, this coincided with a critical period in the nation's psychological life. The dreams of millions of World War II veterans, and their high hopes of building a better world, crashed to earth in the morally corrupt leadership of the Truman administration and ensuing economic depression. These veterans retreated into family life, their jobs, their homes, their living rooms. And, in the center of those living rooms was their new television set, whose banal images provided assurance that the corrupt moral choices they had made were correct.

The earliest programming fell back on the tested models of radio, as described in the Radio Research Project: the situation comedy, or "sitcom," the game shows, the variety shows, sports, and the "soaps." Many were in serial form, with interlocking characters, if not stories. All were banal, deliberately designed so.

The children of these unhappy veterans, the so-called baby boomers, became the first generation to be weaned on what LaRouche calls "the one-eyed babysitter." Television viewing was encouraged by parents, often as a means of controlling the children, who would stare at whatever was on the screen for hours on end. The content of the first children's programs was banal (but no more so than the television programming in general), and mentally destructive; even more destructive was the replacement of real family interaction by television viewing, as the dinner table was replaced by the "TV dinner" in front of the tube. Not surprisingly, the children fixated obsessively on the items advertised by the media, demanding that they be given such items, lest they not be like their friends.

In the mid-1970s, Eric Trist, who, until his death in 1993, headed Tavistock's operations in the United States, and Tavistock's main media "expert," Fred Emery, reported on their findings of the impact of 20 years of television on American society. In Emery's 1975 work, Futures We Are In, they reported that the content of programming was no longer as important as the sheer amount of television viewing. Average daily viewing time had risen steadily over the two decades since the introduction of the medium, such that by the mid-1970s, it ranked as a daily activity only behind sleep and work, at almost six hours a day (since then, it has risen still further, to more than seven hours, with the addition of video games, home videos, and so on); among school-age children, the time spent viewing television ranked just behind school attendance. These findings, Tavistock indicated, strongly suggested that television was like an addictive drug. Similarly, Emery reported on neurological studies which, he claimed, showed that repeated television viewing "shuts down the central nervous system of man."

Whether this claim holds up under scientific scrutiny, Emery and Trist present persuasive argument that general, extensive television viewing lowers the capacity for conceptual thinking about what is being presented on the screen. The studies show that the mere presence of images on television, especially within appropriate news or documentary format, but also within general viewing, tends to "validate" those images, and imbue them with a sense of "reality."

Trist and Emery find nothing wrong with such developments, which indicate that television is producing a brain-dead generation. Rather, they show how this development fits into a larger global plan for social control, implemented by Tavistock and its allied networks on behalf of its sponsors. Society, they state in A Choice of Futures, a book published in the same time period, has been plunging through progressively lowered states of mental awareness, to a point where even the Orwellian fascist state is not attainable. At this point, thanks to television and other mass media, mankind is in a state of dissociation, whose political outcome will be manifested in a "Clockwork Orange" society, named for the book by the late Anthony Burgess, in which roving youth gangs habitually commit acts of random violence, and then return home to watch the news about what they have done on the "tube."

The brainwashers point out that this development, for which they say the violence of Northern Ireland is a model, was not induced by the effects of television alone. Society has been put through "social turbulence" in a series of economic and political shocks, which included the war in Vietnam, the oil price shocks, and the assassination of political leaders. The psychological impact of those events, for whose responsibility they neglect to properly ascribe to the Anglo-American establishment, were magnified by their being brought into homes, in gory and terrifying detail, by television news broadcasts. Under the Trist-Emery scenario, one can imagine hearing the tag line for a future late news program: "The end of the world. Details at 11."

Consolidating the Paradigm In a 1991 anthology of the work's of Tavistock which he edited, Trist wrote that all of the international "nodes" or centers of the institute's brainwashing apparatus were deployed for the central purpose of consolidating the paradigm-shift to a "post-industrial world order." Their goal, he stated, was to make the shift irreversible. In this work, and in other locations, Trist, like Alexander King, urges a mass "re-educational" campaign to break the last vestiges of national resistance, especially within the United States, to this new, one-world order. Approximately ten years earlier, another of Tavistock's minions, Bertram Gross, in a paper delivered to a 1981 World Future Society conference attended by Al Gore, provided a glimpse of what this "new world order" might look like. Gross argued that in the period ahead, the world would be offered what Tavistock likes to call a "critical choice"--a set of options, all of which appear to be bad, but, because of applied terror and pressure of events, a choice is nonetheless forced and the "less bad" option taken.

Western industrial society will break down into chaos; this chaos can, he said, either lead to a fascism of the authoritarian type that the British helped install in Nazi Germany, or to a more humane and benevolent form of fascism, which Gross called a "friendly fascism." The choice, Gross proclaimed, is to attempt to go back to the old industrial paradigm, under which there will be Nazi fascism; or, to embrace post-industrialism, where there will be a "friendly fascism." The latter, he said, is clearly preferable, since it is merely a transition to a new "global information world order," which will involve more personal choice and freedom, a true open and participatory mass democracy.

For Gross, the choice is clear: In any case, there will be pain and suffering; but only the "friendly fascism" of the global information order, of a society wired together by cable television, satellites, and computer lines, offers hope for a better "future."

Who shall administer this "friendly fascist" world order? Gross explained that there now truly exists a "Golden International," a term that he credited to the late Communist International (Comintern) leader Nikolai Bukharin. It is an enlightened international elite, based within the powerful European-centered oligarchy that controls the global multinational communications industry, as well as other critical resources and global finance. This elite must be instructed and informed by the intelligence of the Tavistock networks; they must be shown that the great masses of television-fixated mental zombies can be won easily to this brave new world, through inducements of entertainments and the endless supply of "information." Once the masses are won over, through "education," then the resistance within national sectors will collapse.

In 1989, under the initiative of Trist, Tavistock convened a seminar at Case Western Reserve University to discuss the means to bring about a "stateless" international fascism--a new global information world order. In 1991, Tavistock devoted its journal, Human Relations, to the publication of the papers from that conference. In several of the papers, the call went out for the deployment of the mass media on behalf of this project.

In addition, since 1981, there was now a new technology at the disposal of the brainwashers--the Internet. According to Harold Perlmutter, one of the participants at the Case Western seminar, the Internet represented a subversive means to penetrate national borders with "information" about this new world order; it also serves as a glue for a network of non-governmental organizations, all circulating propaganda for the new world order. These NGOs are to be the superstructure upon which the new world order is to be built. Perlmutter, and other conference participants, argued that their movement cannot be beaten, because it doesn't exist, in a formal sense. It resides in the minds of its conspirators, minds informed by Tavistock's mass-media brainwashing machine. As television was the information drug during the last half of this millennium, so the Internet, with its glut of mostly useless chatter and "information," with its subversive, programmed messages, is to be the new "drug" of the next millennium, Tavistock boasts. [12]

"Americans don't really think--they have opinions, feelings," said the Futures Group's Hal Becker in a 1981 interview. "Television creates opinion, then validates it. Are they brainwashed by the tube? It is really more than that. I think that people have lost their ability to relate the images of their own lives without television intervening. This really is what we mean when we say we have a wired society. We are headed for an Orwellian society, but Orwell made a mistake in 1984. Big Brother doesn't need to watch you, as long as you watch it. And who can say that this is really so bad?"

The Fly in the Ointment But, even within the elitist circles of Tavistock's international networks, there is a faint glimmer that something might be seriously awry in their plan. It was expressed by an author quoted by Emery back in 1973, who wondered aloud what might happen when the television-addicted baby-boomer generation fully takes over the reins of leadership. Have we really prepared them to lead? Can they think and solve problems? Emery dismisses the problem, indicating that there is enough time yet to train such leadership cadre. But the questions linger. In 1981, at the World Future Society event at which Gross delivered his paean to the "friendly fascist" "global information order," Tony Lentz, an assistant professor of speech at the Pennsylvania State University, observed that he had witnessed destruction of oral and written skills, by the mass media and television; not only could most students not write coherently, but they could not even speak intelligently. This was not merely a function of miseducation, he stated in his paper, "The Medium Is Madness," but also because they had no desire to think. Arguing that Plato states that our knowledge of the world must be based on knowing the mind of someone who knows something about it, Lentz said that television has left people with the idea that mere images represent knowledge. There is no questioning, no effort to get inside the mind of someone, merely dialogue and image, sound and fury, that certainly signify nothing.

"Allowing ourselves to be influenced by the subtle but powerful illusions presented by television," wrote Lentz, "leads to a kind of mass madness that can have rather frightening implications for the future of the nation ... We will have begun to see things that aren't there, giving someone else the power to make up our illusions for us. The prospect is frightening, and given our cultural heritage we should know better."

Notes

The Futures Group, a private think-tank, was one of the first organizations to specialize in the use of computer interfaces in psychological manipulations of corporate executives and political leaders. In 1981, it pioneered the RAPID program for the U.S. State Department, which used computer-driven graphics to brainwash select developing sector leaders into supporting International Monetary Fund conditionalities and population control programs. It was also involved in extensive profiling of the U.S. population for major multinationals.

The LaRouche movement undertook groundbreaking work on the Tavistock network in 1973-74, and published the results of its investigations in Campaigner magazine (Winter 1973, Spring 1974 issues). Additional work has been published in EIR, most recently in the May 24, 1996 issue, a Special Report entitled "The Sun Never Sets on the British Empire."

For a comprehensive report on the Frankfurt School and its network, including its role in shaping mass media policy and cultural warfare, see Michael Minnicino, "The New Dark Age: The Frankfurt School and 'Political Correctness,'" Fidelio, Winter 1992.

Lippmann, who migrated from Fabian Socialist networks to the circles of the Thomas Dewey and the Dulles brothers, became the spokesman for an American imperialist faction that was controlled by the British, and deployed against the anti-imperial policy outlook of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. See Lyndon LaRouche, The Case of Walter Lippmann (New York: Campaigner Publications Inc., 1977).

Bernays is important in his own right, as the person who created "Madison Ave." advertising, based on the tricks of Freudian psychological manipulation.

All Tavistock psychology (as well as Freudian psychology) proceeds from the image of man as a sensate beast. It explicitly rejects, with great malice, the Judeo-Christian view of man as created in the image of God, meaning that man, and man alone, is endowed by his Creator with creativity. Tavistock, which claims that all creativity derives solely from sublimated neurotic or erotic impulses, sees the human mind merely as a slate on which it can draw and redraw its ``pictures."

This is similar to the notion, put forward by Rees in his book The Shaping of Psychiatry by War, of the creation of a elite group of psychiatrists who will, on behalf of the ruling oligarchy, ensure the ``mental health" of the world.

The Nazis had already extensively used radio propaganda for brainwashing, as an integral element of the fascist state. This was observed and studied by the Tavistock networks.

It is important to note that there is nothing inherently evil with radio, television, or any form of technology. What makes them dangerous is the control of their use and content by the Club of Isles networks for evil purposes, to create habituated, and even fixated listeners and viewers, whose critical capacities are thus seriously impaired.

For a more comprehensive discussion of television, its programming, and its brainwashing of the American population, see the 16-part series ``Turn Off Your Television," by this author in the New Federalist, 1990-93. It is available in reprint from EIR.

One of Tavistock's specialties is the study of the psychological manipulation of children, and the impact of advertising on young minds. Such advertising is carefully crafted to lure children into desiring the advertised product.

There has been a massive investment in the infrastructure of the Internet, disproportionate to available near-term, or even intermediate-term return. This leads one to speculate that such investment is in fact a ``loss leader," for the intended psychological impacts of the new technology.

While such expressions are an echo of Platonic thinking, they are merely that--an echo. For a better understanding of the problem of education, see Lyndon LaRouche, ``On the Subject of Metaphor," Fidelio, Fall 1992.

1950s

Exploration of Remote Mind Control methods began in the 1950's. From this point onward, experiments in telepathy and remote mind control ("artificial telepathy") began to overlap.

In 1952, the CIA began Project Moonstruck. Electronic devices were designed to be implanted in the brain or teeth, surreptitiously or during abduction, with the specific goal of mind and behavior control.

In 1953, the agency launched Project MK-ULTRA, also known as Project Artichoke, an umbrella program with many sub-programs. Psychiatrists experimented with drugs, narcoleptic trance, electronics, and electroshock to create "cyborg" mentalities. The experiments involved "remote control" insofar as VHF, UHF and modulated ELF broadcasts were used for E.D.O.M. (Electronic Dissolution of Memory).

The Soviets reportedly began to delve into the biological effect of microwaves as early as 1953. A number of laboratories were set up across the Soviet Union and in Eastern Europe, including one at the Institute of Hygiene and Occupational Diseases Academy of Medical Sciences.

Although the Soviets reported on their experiments in the open literature, the parameters they defined were insufficient for duplicating the experiments, and some scientists in the United States questioned whether the whole matter was disinformation. It was not.

Early CIA funding provided the wherewithal for a project launched at Honeywell, Inc. for "a method to penetrate inside a man's mind and control his brain waves over long distance."

At the National Institutes of Health, Dr. Maitland Baldwin, under CIA supervision, bombarded the brains of lobotomized monkeys with radio waves. According to researcher Alex Constantine, "His CIA monitors noted weird excesses: in one experiment, Baldwin decapitated a monkey and transplanted its head to the body of another, then attempted to restore it to life with radar saturation."

In his pioneering work, Dr. Ross Adey determined that emotional states and behavior can be remotely influenced merely by placing a subject in an electromagnetic field. By directing a carrier frequency to stimulate the brain and using amplitude modulation to shape the wave to mimic a desired EEG frequency, he was able to impose a 4.5 CPS theta rhythm on his subjects.

In 1953, Wilfred Daim, an Austrian psychotherapist, attempted to transmit a target to a sleeping percipient. The target material consisted of a geometrical symbol and a color in random combination. Target-dream correspondences were reported in 75% of 30 trials.

At about the same time, exploratory dream telepathy studies were being initiated by Montague Ullman and L.A. Dale. These studies were designed to explore possible paranormal correspondences between recorded dreams and events in each of their lives.

The results were encouraging and led to a series of exploratory studies using the all-night REM monitoring technique to determine the onset and termination of recurring dream sequences. This technique freed the investigator from relying on the uncertainty of spontaneous dream recall in a dream telepathy experiment.

These studies pointed to the usefulness of the REM monitoring technique as a way of experimentally approaching the subject of dream telepathy. The results supported the working hypothesis that psi effects could be incorporated into both manifest and symbolic dream content. Further refinement of the design was indicated:

- 1. To eliminate all possibilities of sensory cues relating to the target reaching the subject.
- 2. To arrange for the independent blind outside judging of possible correspondences between target and dream.
- 3. To work out appropriate statistical techniques to evaluate any matching process.

In 1962, with the establishment of a Dream Laboratory at Maimonides Medical Center in Brooklyn, it became possible to pursue the work along these lines.

The telepathy research at Miamonedes Medical Center was later incorporated into the CIA's MONARCH program. The apparent goal was to somehow combine telepathy with remote mind control.

The CIA launched MK-DELTA, known as "Deep Sleep," a remote mind control program focused on fine-tuned, electromagnetic subliminal programming. The agency used VHF, HF, and UHF transmissions modulated at ELF to cause fatigue, mood swings and behavior dysfunction in chosen targets.

Drs. Joseph Sharp and Allen Frey experimented with microwaves seeking to transmit spoken words directly into the audio cortex via a pulsed-microwave analog of the speaker's sound vibration. Indeed, Frey's work in this field, dating back to 1960, gave rise to the so called "Frey effect" which is now more commonly referred to as "microwave hearing." Within the Pentagon this ability is now known as "Artificial Telepathy."

Adey and others have compiled an entire library of frequencies and pulsation rates which can affect the mind and nervous system.

In 1961, Allen Frey, working for the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA), announced that human beings are capable of hearing microwave broadcasts, in the case of his experiments, what he described as buzzing or knocking sounds.

1962

By the 1960s, many telepathy researchers had become dissatisfied with the forced-choice experiments of J. B. Rhine, partly because of boredom on the part of test participants after many repetitions of monotonous card-guessing, and partly because of the observed "decline effect" where the accuracy of card guessing would decrease over time for a given participant, which some parapsychologists attributed to this boredom.

Some parapsychologists turned to free response experimental formats where the target was not limited to a small finite predetermined set of responses (e.g., Zener cards), but rather could be any sort of picture, drawing, photograph, movie clip, piece of music etc.

As a result of surveys of spontaneous psi experiences which reported that more than half of these occurred in the dreaming state, researchers Montaque Ullman and Stanley Krippner at the Maimonides Medical Center in Brooklyn, New York, undertook a series of experiments to test for telepathy in the dream state.

A "receiver" participant in a soundproof, electronically shielded room would be monitored while sleeping for EEG patterns and rapid eye movements (REMs) indicating dream state. A "sender" in another room would then attempt to send an image, randomly selected from a pool of images, to the receiver by focusing on the image during the detected dream states. Near the end of each REM period, the receiver would be awakened and asked to describe their dream during that period. The researchers claim that the data gathered suggest that sometimes the sent image was incorporated in some way into the content of the receiver's dreams.

In 1964, CIA Director Richard Helms sent a memo to the Warren Commission, mentioning "biological radio communication." Helms' theorizing about such methods was truly reminiscent of Orwell's 1984. He said, "Cybernetics [or computer theory] can be used in the molding of a child's character, the inculcation of knowledge and techniques, the amassing of experience, the establishment of social behavior patterns -- all functions which can be summarized as control of the growth processes of the individual."

1965

From 1965 through to 1970, the Defense Advanced Projects Research Agency (DARPA), with up to 70-80% funding provided by the military, set in motion operation PANDORA to study the health and psychological effects of low intensity microwaves with regard to the so-called "Moscow signal."

This project appears to have been quite extensive and included (under U.S. Navy funding) studies demonstrating how to induce heart seizures, create leaks in the blood/brain barrier and production of auditory hallucinations.

Despite attempts to render the Pandora program invisible to scrutiny, FOIA filings revealed memoranda of Richard Cesaro, Director of DARPA, which confirmed that the program's initial goal was to "discover whether a carefully controlled microwave signal could control the mind." Cesaro urged that these studies be made "for potential weapons applications."

A telepathic experiment conducted during the Apollo 14 mission in 1971 proved distance is not a barrier. The experiment was not authorized by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), nor was it announced until the mission was completed. Astronaut Edgar D. Mitchell conducted the experiment with four recipients on Earth, 150,000 miles below. Mitchell concentrated on sequences of twenty-five random numbers. He completed 200 sequences. Guessing 40 correctly was the mean chance. Two of the recipients guessed 51 correctly. This far exceeded Mitchell's expectations, but still was only moderately significant.

Ganzfeld experiments have received widespread attention in recent times, and some believe they provide some experimental evidence of telepathy[citation needed]. Such experiments, however, are generally believed to be flawed by the scientific community.

Other experiments have been conducted by the biologist Rupert Sheldrake, who claims strong results. These include experiments into:

The 'sense of being stared at', in which the subject guesses whether he/she is being stared at by another person

Whether dogs can tell when their owners are about to return home.

In 1973, Dr. Joseph C. Sharp, at Walter Reed Hospital, while in a soundproof room heard spoken words broadcast by "pulsed microwave audiogram." Broadcast in a range between 300 MHz to 3GHz. Sharp was able to identify words that were broadcast without any form of electronic translation device - by direct transmission to the brain.

L.L. Vasiliev, professor of physiology at the University of Leningrad, described one experiment in remote hypnosis using undefined techniques of radio control:

“As a control of the subject's condition, when she was outside the laboratory in another set of experiments, a radio set was used. The results obtained indicate that the method of using radio signals substantially enhances the experimental possibilities. I.F. Tomashevsky [a Russian physiologist] carried out the first experiments with this subject at a distance of one or two rooms, and under conditions that the participant would not know or suspect that she would be experimented with. In other cases, the sender was not in the same house, and someone else observed the subject's behavior. Subsequent experiments at considerable distances were successful. One such experiment was carried out in the park at a distance. Mental suggestions to go to sleep were complied with within a minute.”

In 1974, Lawrence Pinneo, a neurophysiologist and electronic engineer working for Stanford Research Institute (a leading military contractor), "developed a computer system capable of reading a person's mind. It correlated brain waves on an electroencephalograph with specific commands."

J.F. Schapitz, working with the Department of Defense in 1974, filed the following research proposal:

"In this investigation it will be shown that the spoken word of the hypnotist may be conveyed by modulated electro-magnetic energy directly into the subconscious parts of the human brain - i.e., without employing any technical devices for receiving or transcoding the messages and without the person exposed to such influence having a chance to control the information input consciously."

Schapitz proposed an experiment wherein a subject would be subconsciously told to leave the laboratory, the command triggered by a word or action from the researcher. As in the tricks played by stage hypnotists, Schapitz was certain that the subject would rationalize the otherwise irrational desire to leave the lab. Records of Schapitz' research, beyond the initial proposal, have never been declassified.

A specific Russian mind control technology was outed by the American Defense News in 1993, termed "acoustic psycho-correction." According to the magazine, "The Russian capability, demonstrated in a series of laboratory experiments dating back to the mid-1970s, could be used to suppress riots, control dissidents, demoralize or disable opposing forces and enhance the performance of friendly special operations teams, sources say.

"Pioneered by the government-funded Department of Psycho-Correction at the Moscow Medical Academy, acoustic psycho-correction involves the transmission of specific commands via static or white noise bands into the human subconscious without upsetting other intellectual functions. Experts said that laboratory demonstrations have shown encouraging results after exposure of less than one minute."--Targ, R. & Puthoff, H.E. (1974). Information transmission under conditions of sensory shielding. Nature 252, 602-607.

A study by A.W. Guy and others, released in 1975 by the DIA, reported on experiments to determine the particulars of the phenomenon of audible electromagnetics, and its relation to such things as pulse power, pulse shape, and frequency. Along with a number of details about the nature of electromagnetic interaction with humans and animals. Guy explained why the microwaves were audible: microscopic thermal expansion of brain tissues. Guy had even experimented with sending Morse code via microwaves.

Also reported on were Soviet capabilities: "Sounds and possibly even words which appear to be originating intracranially can be induced by signal modulations at very low power densities."

Dr. Robert O. Becker, in The Body Electric, commented on the technology: "Such a device has obvious applications in covert operations designed to drive a target crazy with 'voices' or deliver undetected instructions to a programmed assassin."

1976

EDWIN MAY joined the Stanford Research Institute's remote viewing program in 1976. He became head of the program after Hal Puthoff left in 1985. He continued his work as director at SAIC (Science Applications International Corporation) when the research program moved in 1991.

May left SAIC on 11/28/95. He is a frequent contributor to the Journal of Parapsychology, and is currently with the Cognitive Sciences Laboratory of Palo Alto, California, which he founded at SRI.

Dr. Sidney Gottlieb, the MKULTRA heavyweight, during questioning by Senator Richard Schweicker in 1977 Senate hearings on CIA drug testing responded as follows:

SCHWEICKER: Some of the projects under MKULTRA involved hypnosis, is that correct?

GOTTLIEB: Yes.

SCHWEICKER Did any of these projects involve something called radio hypnotic intracerebral control, which is a combination, as I understand it, in layman's terms, of radio transmissions and hypnosis.

GOTTLIEB: My answer is "No."

SCHWEICKER: None whatsoever?

GOTTLIEB: Well, I am trying to be responsive to the terms you used. As I remember it, there was a current interest, running interest, all the time in what effects people's standing in the field of radio energy have, and it could easily have been that somewhere in many projects, someone was trying to see if you could hypnotize someone easier if he was standing in a radio beam. That would seem like a reasonable piece of research to do.

In 1977 Dr. Sam Koslov, the scientific assistant to the Secretary of the Navy, was briefed on a number of current research projects. One of them, in progress at Stanford Research Institute was named "ELF and Mind Control." ELF is the acronym of extremely low frequency electromagnetic radiation. Koslov didn't like the sound of that project and ordered it cancelled, but according to the Washington Post, the funding was merely diverted into a different project heading and continued to go forward.

From 1978 to 1988, Skip Atwater was the Operations and Training Officer for the once highly classified US Army Intelligence remote viewing surveillance program, and played an important role in the program's founding. Working closely with the personnel in the SRI International remote viewing research program, he trained professional intelligence personnel to remote view, then used these highly skilled psychic spies to conduct thousands of remote viewing intelligence collection missions for a variety of US intelligence agencies. For ten years Skip worked directly with the cadre of remote viewers, helping to hone their skills.

Since his military retirement in 1988, Skip has been the Research Director at The Monroe Institute, a world renowned nonprofit organization conducting research and offering educational programs supporting the evolution of consciousness. He has published technical research on methods for expanding consciousness, and assisted hundreds of individuals in

Scientist Eldon Byrd, who worked for the Naval Surface Weapons Office, was commissioned in 1981 to develop electromagnetic devices for purposes including riot control, clandestine operations and hostage removal.

1983

Major Edward Dames claims he was the operations and training officer for the Army's (INSCOM) and DIA's remote-viewing program starting around late 1983 under CENTER LANE. "Dames took a 'let's see what this baby can do' approach, replacing the unit's former intelligence collection methodology with the breakthrough technique.

He left the remote-viewing unit in late summer, 1988.

Dames was a long-serving member of the highly classified operation GRILL-FLAME, a program that focused on some of the more bizarre possibilities of intelligence gathering and remote interrogation. Known as "remote viewers," GRILL-FLAME personnel possessed a marked psychic ability that was put to use "penetrating" designated targets and gathering important intelligence on significant figures.

The program operated with two teams: one working out of the top secret NSA facility at Fort George Meade in Maryland, and the other at Stanford Research Institute. Results are said to have been exemplary.

Following the Oliver North debacle, the Secretary of Defense officially terminated GRILL-FLAME, fearing bad publicity if the program were to become known to the public. The leading members of the project -- including Dames -- immediately relocated to the privately owned and newly formed Psi-Tech, in Beverly Hills, CA.

They continue their work to this day, operating under government contract. In the course of his work, Dames was (and remains) close to many the leading figures and proponents of anti-personnel electromagnetic weapons, especially those that operate in the neurological field.

During NBC's "The Other Side" program, Dames stated that "The U.S. Government has an electronic device which could implant thoughts in people." He refused to comment further. The program was broadcast during April 1995.

March 1991

The March 23, 1991 ITV news brief "High-Tech Psychological Warfare Arrives in the Middle East" describes a US Psychological Operations (PsyOps) tactic directed against Iraqi troops in Kuwait during Operation Desert Storm. The maneuver consisted of a system in which subliminal mind-altering technology was carried on standard radio frequency broadcasts.

The March 26, 1991 news brief states that among the standard military planning groups in the centre of US war planning operations at Riyadh was "an unbelievable and highly classified PsyOps program utilizing 'silent sound' techniques."

The opportunity to use this method occurred when Saddam Hussein's military command-and-control system was destroyed. The Iraqi troops were then forced to use commercial FM radio stations to carry encoded commands, which were broadcast on the 100 MHz frequency. The US PsyOps team set up its own portable FM transmitter, utilizing the same frequency, in the deserted city of Al Khafji. This US transmitter overpowered the local Iraqi station. Along with patriotic and religious music, PsyOps transmitted "vague, confusing and contradictory military orders and information."

Subliminally, a much more powerful technology was at work: a sophisticated electronic system to 'speak' directly to the mind of the listener, to alter and entrain his brainwaves, to manipulate his brain's electroencephalographic (EEG) patterns and artificially implant negative emotional states -- feelings of fear, anxiety, despair and hopelessness. This subliminal system doesn't just tell a person to feel an emotion, it makes them feel it; it implants that emotion in their minds."

The mind-altering mechanism is based on a subliminal carrier technology: the Silent Sound Spread Spectrum (SSSS), sometimes called "S-quad" or "Squad." It was developed by Dr Oliver Lowery of Norcross, Georgia, and is described in US Patent #5,159,703 "Silent Subliminal Presentation System" dated October 27, 1992.

According to literature by Silent Sounds, Inc., it is now possible, using supercomputers, to analyse human emotional EEG patterns and replicate them, then store these "emotion signature clusters" on another computer and, at will, "silently induce and change the emotional state in a human being."

According to Tactical Technology magazine, "While visiting Russia in November 1991, [Janet] Morris and other members of a team sent to investigate Russian technologies for commercial development were invited to a demonstration of a mind control technology.

A volunteer from the U.S. team sat down in front of a computer screen as innocuous words flashed across the screen. The volunteer was only required to tell which words he liked and which words he disliked. At the end of the demonstration the Russian staff started revealing the sensitive, innermost thoughts of the volunteer - none of which had been previously discussed.

The recorded message was mixed with what appeared to be white noise or static, so when played back it became indecipherable. Since there were no more volunteers in the U.S. group, the Russians volunteered to go upstairs and let the Americans choose a mental patient for a demonstration.

The Americans declined the offer.

"The Russians told Morris of a demonstration in which a group of workers were outside the hospital working on the grounds. The staff sent an acoustic psycho-correction message via their machine to the workers telling them to put down their tools, knock on the door of the hospital and ask if there was anything else they could do. The workers did exactly that, the Russians said.

"The Russians admitted to using this technology for special operations teams selection and performance enhancement and to aid their Olympic athletes and an Antarctic exploration team. Unlike lie detectors, this machine can determine when the truth is spoken, according to Morris.

"Being an infrasound, very low frequency-type transmission, the acoustic psycho-correction message is transmitted via bone conduction. This means that earplugs will not restrict the message. An entire body protection system would be required to stop reception. The message, according to the Russians, bypasses the conscious level and is acted on almost immediately. The Russians say that the messages are acted upon with exposure times of under one minute.

"Morris envisions this technology will be miniaturized into a hand-held device. Presently, the International Healthline Corp. of Richmond, Va., is planning to bring a Russian team of specialists to the U.S. in the near future to further demonstrate the capability. International Healthline is a private corporation that is exploring Russian medical technologies for import to the U.S."

The Oct-Nov. 1994 NEXUS magazine reported: "Directed-energy weapons currently being deployed include, for example, a microwave weapon manufactured by Lockheed-Sanders and used for a process known as 'Voice Synthesis' which is remote beaming of audio (i.e., voices or other audible signals) directly into the brain of any selected human target. This process is also known within the U.S. Government as "Synthetic Telepathy." This psychotronic weapon was demonstrated by Dr. Dave Morgan at the November, 1993 Non-Lethal weapons conference."

In July 1996, the Spotlight, a widely circulated right-wing U.S. newspaper, reported that well-placed DoD sources have confirmed a classified Pentagon contract for the development of "high-power electromagnetic generators that interfere with human brain waves."

The article cited the memorandum of understanding dated 1994 between Attorney General Janet Reno, and Defense Secretary William Perry for transfer of LTL weapons to the law enforcement sector. A budget of under $50 million has been made available for funding associated "black" programs.

Dr. Emery Horvath, a professor of physics at Harvard University, has stated in connection to the generator that interferes with human brain waves that "These electronic 'skull-zappers' are designed to invade the mind and short circuit its synapses . . . in the hands of government technicians, it may be used to disorient entire crowds, or to manipulate individuals into self-destructive acts. It's a terrifying weapon."

The National Security Agency (NSA) is developing a tool that George Orwell's Thought Police might have found useful: an artificial intelligence system designed to gain insight into what people are thinking.

With the entire Internet and thousands of databases for a brain, the device will be able to respond almost instantaneously to complex questions posed by intelligence analysts. As more and more data is collected—through phone calls, credit card receipts, social networks like Facebook and MySpace, GPS tracks, cell phone geolocation, Internet searches, Amazon book purchases, even E-Z Pass toll records—it may one day be possible to know not just where people are and what they are doing, but what and how they think.

The system is so potentially intrusive that at least one researcher has quit, citing concerns over the dangers in placing such a powerful weapon in the hands of a top-secret agency with little accountability.

Getting Acquaint Known as AQUAINT, which stands for "Advanced Question Answering for INTelligence," the project was run for many years by John Prange, an NSA scientist at the Advanced Research and Development Activity. Headquartered in Room 12A69 in the NSA's Research and Engineering Building at 1 National Business Park, ARDA was set up by the agency to serve as a sort of intelligence community DARPA, the place where former Reagan national security advisor John Poindexter's infamous Total Information Awareness project was born. [Editor's note: TIA was a short-lived project founded in 2002 to apply information technology to counter terrorist and other threats to national security.] Later named the Disruptive Technology Office, ARDA has now morphed into the Intelligence Advanced Research Projects Activity (IARPA).

A sort of national laboratory for eavesdropping and other spy craft, IARPA will move into its new 120,000-square-foot home in 2009. The building will be part of the new M Square Research Park in College Park, Maryland. A mammoth two million-square-foot, 128-acre complex, it is operated in collaboration with the University of Maryland. "Their budget is classified, but I understand it's very well-funded," said Brian Darmody, the University of Maryland's assistant vice president of research and economic development, referring to IARPA. "They'll be in their own building here, and they're going to grow. Their mission is expanding."

If IARPA is the spy world's DARPA, AQUAINT may be the reincarnation of Poindexter's TIA. After a briefing by NSA Director Michael Hayden, Vice President Dick Cheney, and CIA Director George Tenet of some of the NSA's data mining programs in July 2003, Senator Jay Rockefeller IV, the vice chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee, wrote a concerned letter to Cheney. "As I reflected on the meeting today," he said, "John Poindexter's TIA project sprung to mind, exacerbating my concern regarding the direction the administration is moving with regard to security, technology, and surveillance."

Building "Hal" The original goal of AQUAINT, which dates back to the 1990s, was simply to develop a sophisticated method of picking the right needles out of a vast haystack of information and coming up with the answer to a question. As with TIA, many universities were invited to contribute brainpower to the project. But in the aftermath of the attacks on 9/11, with the creation of the NSA's secret warrantless eavesdropping program and the buildup of massive databases, the project began taking on a more urgent tone.

“Think of 2001: A Space Odyssey and the most memorable character, HAL 9000. We are building HAL.”

In a 2004 pilot project, a mass of data was gathered from news stories taken from the New York Times, the AP news wire, and the English portion of the Chinese Xinhua news wire covering 1998 to 2000. Then, 13 U.S. military intelligence analysts searched the data and came up with a number of scenarios based on the material. Finally, using those scenarios, an NSA analyst developed 50 topics, and in each of those topics created a series of questions for Aquaint's computerized brain to answer. "Will the Japanese use force to defend the Senkakus?" was one. "What types of disputes or conflict between the PLA [People's Liberation Army] and Hong Kong residents have been reported?" was another. And "Who were the participants in this spy ring, and how are they related to each other?" was a third. Since then, the NSA has attempted to build both on the complexity of the system—more essay-like answers rather than yes or no—and on attacking greater volumes of data.

“The technology behaves like a robot, understanding and answering complex questions,” said a former AQUAINT researcher. “Think of 2001: A Space Odyssey and the most memorable character, HAL 9000, having a conversation with David. We are essentially building this system. We are building HAL.” A naturalized U.S. citizen who received her Ph.D. from Columbia, the researcher worked on the program for several years but eventually left due to moral concerns. “The system can answer the question, ‘What does X think about Y?’” she said. “Working for the government is great, but I don't like looking into other people's secrets. I am interested in helping people and helping physicians and patients for the quality of people's lives.” The researcher now focuses on developing similar search techniques for the medical community.

Thought policeman A supersmart search engine, capable of answering complex questions such as “What were the major issues in the last 10 presidential elections?” would be very useful for the public. But that same capability in the hands of an agency like the NSA—absolutely secret, often above the law, resistant to oversight, and with access to petabytes of private information about Americans—could be a privacy and civil liberties nightmare. "We must not forget that the ultimate goal is to transfer research results into operational use," said AQUAINT project leader John Prange, in charge of information exploitation for IARPA.

Once up and running, the database of old newspapers could quickly be expanded to include an inland sea of personal information scooped up by the agency's warrantless data suction hoses. Unregulated, they could ask it to determine which Americans might likely pose a security risk—or have sympathies toward a particular cause, such as the antiwar movement, as was done during the 1960s and 1970s. The AQUAINT robo-spy might then base its decision on the type of books a person purchased online, or chat room talk, or websites visited—or a similar combination of data. Such a system would have an enormous chilling effect on everyone's everyday activities—what will the AQUAINT computer think if I buy this book, or go to that website, or make this comment? Will I be suspected of being a terrorist or a spy or a subversive?

Controlling brain waves Collecting information, however, has always been far less of a problem for the NSA than understanding it, and that means knowing the language. To expand its linguistic capabilities, the agency established another new organization, the Center for Advanced Study of Language (CASL), and housed it in a building near IARPA at the M Square Research Park. But far from simply learning the meaning of foreign words, CASL, like AQUAINT, attempts to find ways to get into someone's mind and understand what he or she is thinking.

One area of study is to attempt to determine if people are lying simply by watching their behavior and listening to them speak. According to one CASL document, "Many deception cues are difficult to identify, particularly when they are subtle, such as changes in verb tense or extremely brief facial expressions. CASL researchers are studying these cues in detail with advanced measurement and statistical analysis techniques in order to recommend ways to identify deceptive cue combinations."

Like something out of a B-grade sci-fi movie, CASL is even training employees to control their own brain waves.

Another area of focus explores the "growing need to work with foreign text that is incomplete," such as partly deciphered messages or a corrupted hard drive or the intercept of only one side of a conversation. The center is thus attempting to find ways to prod the agency's cipher-brains to fill in the missing blanks. "In response," says the report, "CASL's cognitive neuroscience team has been studying the cognitive basis of working memory's capacity for filling in incomplete areas of text. They have made significant headway in this research by using a powerful high-density electroencephalogram (EEG) machine acquired in 2006." The effort is apparently directed at discovering what parts of the brain are used when very good cryptanalysts are able to guess correctly the missing words and phrases in a message.

Like something out of a B-grade sci-fi movie, CASL is even trying to turn dull minds into creative geniuses by training employees to control their own brain waves: "The cognitive neuroscience team has also been researching divergent thinking: creative, innovative and flexible thinking valuable for language work. They are exploring ways to improve divergent thinking using the EEG and neurobiological feedback. A change in brain-wave activity is believed to be critical for generating creative ideas, so the team trains its subjects to change their brain-wave activity."

The National Security Agency's eavesdropping on phone calls, e-mails, and other communications skyrocketed after 9/11. But that was only the beginning of its high-tech invasiveness, as Bamford reports. Above, NSA headquarters in Fort Meade, Maryland.

Philosophy and The Jesuits

The Jesuit philosophic system evolved over time with key principles or ideas beginning with Plato (rationalism) and Aristotle (empiricism) and ending in the 19th century with Friedrich Nietzsche (existentialism). I have excluded mediaeval Catholic philosophers that eventually laid the foundation for the widespread acceptance of modern "atheism" and its fundamental roots in firstly, "skepticism," then "naturalism" and finally "evolution." These ideas create a wave of anti-reason that attacks evidential based argument up to the present day.

We are currently living in an age of political correctness and self-censorship where the approach to learning has been deliberately inverted enabling hypothetical conjecture to be embraced as 'fact' and logical debate based on observational evidence to be either condemned or prohibited under threat!

"Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools" Romans 1:22 KJV

It has taken thousands of years for man to accumulate knowledge, only to suddenly throw it away and defying all logic, to embrace the current position where ideas based on conjecture and assumptions posing as FACT now form the foundation of modern thinking. Nonsense is being offered as wisdom in a complete 'inversion' of truth based on observation and evidence.

Knowing and understanding how this thread of ideas has affected man's worldview is really important. There really is "Nothing new under the Sun." Everything gets re-hashed sooner or later!

Plato: c428 - c348 BC

Plato's Republic' and Theory of Forms are still highly influential today. In his writing Plato made available for the first time a way to deal with 'abstract' thought. Plato's Theory of Forms, and the whole enterprise of The Republic, can be read as an attempt to find a solid grounding for moral values in rational principles and the rejection of moral relativism. The Republic is the 'precursor' and foundation for what is today called Communism. Plato's socialist ideas were embraced and put into practice early by the Roman Catholic church and in particular by the Jesuits.

We could also say that Plato establishes the possibility of a spiritual dimension without 'God.' This is a continuation of Babylonian Luciferian "Deism" practiced by Freemasons and pantheists today! Plato's writings are important and come into play when trying to understand the Roman Catholic "Syllabus of Errors," "Natural Law" and "Social Justice" code.

Aristotle: c384 - c322 BC

Aristotle's ideas center around the 'rational' and he is basically the first to lay down a system by which 'empirical' evidence by observation is gathered in order to establish a principle. He is essentially in opposition to Plato's idea of 2 levels of reality and maintains 'substance' is all there is although in order to avoid the problem of infinite regress he acknowledges that the explanation for constant change and movement must be an unmovable mover or cause which he associates as 'God.'

Aristotle's ideas will later be embraced by early Catholic scholars (Augustine, Aquinas) and underpin Jesuitical ideologies forming the basis of "Materialism," (Marx & Engels) "Evolution," (Jean-Baptiste Lamarck & Charles Darwin) "Atheism," (Voltaire, Nietzsche) and the "Big Bang Theory" (Le Maitre.) These ideas aided and abetted by Jesuit agents have infiltrated society almost completely.

Niccolo Machiavelli (1469-1527)

Machiavelli wrote a book called "The Prince" which has become the guidebook for politicians and businessmen everywhere. The central idea is the promotion of man's capacity to determine his own survival and destiny resorting to any means necessary to preserve total authority especially fear and deception in order to avoid becoming a victim of fate. This is the root for Jesuitical justification of any wicked action deemed necessary in "the end justifies the means."

Machiavelli provided the perfect template for anyone in power or desiring power to use it for nefarious purposes!

The deceitful and malicious conduct of leaders throughout history can in part be attributed to Machiavelli's instruction. Still today, violent, greedy men viciously grab or cling to power and control, justifying their behavior and millions suffer the horror and carnage that results!

The recorded tragedies of History beg the question; what would have happened if all these men/women had chosen the path of love and justice instead?

Machiavellian ideas have contributed significantly to the success in particular of the Jesuits (Society of Jesus) in infiltrating and controlling governments worldwide for the last 500 years. The key weapons in expanding their conspiracy of control?, you guessed it, fear and deception!

List Of Other Key Jesuit Influences And Creations

John Locke (1632-1704)

Baruch Spinoza (1632–1677)

Sir Isaac Newton (1642–1727)

Voltaire (1694–1778)

David Hume (1711-1776)

Jean-Jacques Rousseau (1712–1778)

Immanuel Kant (1724-1804)

Thomas Robert Malthus (1766-1834)

Georg Wilhelm Friedrich Hegel (1770-1831)

Arthur Schopenhauer (1788-1860)

Giuseppe Mazzini (1805-1872)

Albert Pike (1809-1891)

Soren Kierkegaard (1813-1855)

Karl Marx (1818-1883)

Helena (Yelena Petrovna von Hahn) Blavatsky (1831-1891)

Blavatsky is the chief founder of "Theosophy" and writer of a few key books on the occult that have been highly influential on world leaders and events. At the heart of these writings is the 'pantheistic' idea that that all religions lead to the same source. That source is the 'Light' which is none other than Satan or Lucifer. He is the 'good guy' who came to set mankind free from the evil God of the Bible. Theosophy is nothing other than "Gnosticism" dressed up in modern clothes.

This is how Satanic INVERSION of Biblical truth has caused so much confusion over the last few centuries.

Blavatsky worked hard at promoting occult practices and Theosophical teachings, creating a wave of pagan influence that attempted to counter the great Christian revivals of the 19th century and eventually resulted in the creation of the United Nations and world government in 1948.

Friedrich Nietzsche (1844-1900)

Cecil John Rhodes (1853-1902)

Sigmund (Sigismund Schlomo) Freud (1856-1939)

Alistair (Edward Alexander) Crowley (1875-1947)

Crowley was the son of wealthy Christian fundamentalist parents who rejected Biblical morality in his teens and through increasing curiosity in the occult, had joined "The hermetic Order Of The Golden Dawn," a secret society by the age of 22. His increasing exploits involving drugs, ritual sex, pornography, witchcraft, murder and possibly also activities as a 'spy' for the British government would create the basis for him being labelled the "Beast 666" and the "Wickedest Man Alive." Crowley would create his own religion called "Thelema" in 1904 and write his highly influential "Book Of The Law" the same year, based on the key premise, "Do what thou wilt shall be the whole of the Law." He wrote a number of other books and periodicals that have also been influential.

Crowley would have been 16 years old when Blavatsky died in 1891 but there is no doubt that he was influenced by her writings. The late 1900's was a hotbed of occult activity worldwide but particularly in Europe. Crowley would become a highly influential figure in the decades following his death in 1947. Many powerful people from every field of human activity have openly stated their admiration for Crowley and his satanic ideals, claiming him as the source of their inspiration.

Edward Louis James Bernays (1891-1995)

Bernays is the writer of the key work on the principles and execution of 'public communication' titled, "Propaganda" in 1928. He was a 'nephew' of Sigmund Freud and integrated many of his uncle's ideas from 'psychoanalysis' into what he termed 'public relations' (PR) and what we know today as 'advertising.' Although not your typical philosopher, he, nevertheless, developed methodologies combining psychology and communications that have resulting in the mind control and brain washing of humanity.

Bernays was a Luciferian, believing in a socialist New World Order where elites rule the masses. His work has been used to incredible effect by the Jesuits via the media (they control) in forming and superimposing their Vatican NWO covertly over all world systems.

Bernays stated, "If we understand the mechanism and motives of the group mind, is it not possible to control and regiment the masses according to our will without their knowing about it? The recent practice of propaganda has proved that it is possible, at least up to a certain point and within certain limits." (Propaganda, 47)

Jesuit Created Communism

The "10 Planks" of the Communist Manifesto

Karl Marx was paid by the "League of the Just" (later named the "Communist League") in 1847 to write the Communist Manifesto and paid again to rewrite it in 1848. The Manifesto was intended to incite violent revolution, was a recipe for tyranny itself, and was later used as propaganda (a 'glorious goal' to believe in) to blind followers to the realities of the brutal dictatorships that oppressed all workers and slaughtered millions under Communist rule. Hitler's "Mein Kampf" and Mao's "Little Red Book" served similar evil and deadly purposes. Many dictators throughout history and today attempt to disguise their tyranny with fancy labels and phony philosophies to make slavery seem somehow just and essential--another example was the earlier doctrine of "divine rule of kings." These 10 steps are just a part of the Manifesto, the full text of which can be found on the web.

Western nations including the United States have gradually implemented virtually all of Marx's 10 key steps toward creating a dictatorship. What are some examples can you find? Americans would be wise to study the "Ten Planks" and demand that the President and Congress abolish all laws, regulations and agencies which govern these (and all other) unconstitutional seizures of power. Communism was never intended to free man, but to enslave him; indeed, the Communist Manifesto promised a "dictatorship of the proletariat" and history proved it always ended up slaughtering and enslaving millions of the proletariat.

Karl Marx's "10 Planks" to seize power and destroy freedom:

1. Abolition of Property in Land and Application of all Rents of Land to Public Purpose.
2. A Heavy Progressive or Graduated Income Tax.
3. Abolition of All Rights of Inheritance.
4. Confiscation of the Property of All Emigrants and Rebels.
5. Centralization of Credit in the Hands of the State, by Means of a National Bank with State Capital and an Exclusive Monopoly.
6. Centralization of the Means of Communication and Transport in the Hands of the State.
7. Extension of Factories and Instruments of Production Owned by the State, the Bringing Into Cultivation of Waste Lands, and the Improvement of the Soil Generally in Accordance with a Common Plan.
8. Equal Liability of All to Labor. Establishment of Industrial Armies, Especially for Agriculture.
9. Combination of Agriculture with Manufacturing Industries; Gradual Abolition of the Distinction Between Town and Country by a More Equable Distribution of the Population over the Country.
10. Free Education for All Children in Public Schools. Abolition of Children's Factory Labor in its Present Form. Combination of Education with Industrial Production.

Of important mention here is Saul Alinsky's "Rules for Radicals;" much has been written about President Obama's (and Hillary Clinton's) study and use of Alinsky's strategies for seizing power without concern for ethics or the harm caused. Read the book (try Amazon or eBay) --study it and you will better understand Obama's governing strategy and anticipate his actions. Marx and Alinsky both shared a similar desire to seize power at any cost, hence the listing on this page. It should be of little surprise that Alinsky dedicated "Rules for Radicals" to the devil.

The 45 Communist Goals As Read Into The Congressional Record, 1963

1. U.S. acceptance of coexistence as the only alternative to atomic war.
2. U.S. willingness to capitulate in preference to engaging in atomic war.
3. Develop the illusion that total disarmament [by] the United States would be a demonstration of moral strength.
4. Permit free trade between all nations regardless of Communist affiliation and regardless of whether or not items could be used for war.
5. Extension of long-term loans to Russia and Soviet satellites.
6. Provide American aid to all nations regardless of Communist domination.
7. Grant recognition of Red China. Admission of Red China to the U.N.
8. Set up East and West Germany as separate states in spite of Khrushchev's promise in 1955 to settle the German question by free elections under supervision of the U.N.
9. Prolong the conferences to ban atomic tests because the United States has agreed to suspend tests as long as negotiations are in progress.
10. Allow all Soviet satellites individual representation in the U.N.
11. Promote the U.N. as the only hope for mankind. If its charter is rewritten, demand that it be set up as a one-world government with its own independent armed forces. (Some Communist leaders believe the world can be taken over as easily by the U.N. as by Moscow. Sometimes these two centers compete with each other as they are now doing in the Congo.)
12. Resist any attempt to outlaw the Communist Party.
13. Do away with all loyalty oaths.
14. Continue giving Russia access to the U.S. Patent Office.
15. Capture one or both of the political parties in the United States.

16. Use technical decisions of the courts to weaken basic American institutions by claiming their activities violate civil rights.
17. Get control of the schools. Use them as transmission belts for socialism and current Communist propaganda. Soften the curriculum. Get control of teachers' associations. Put the party line in textbooks.
18. Gain control of all student newspapers.
19. Use student riots to foment public protests against programs or organizations which are under Communist attack.
20. Infiltrate the press. Get control of book-review assignments, editorial writing, policymaking positions.
21. Gain control of key positions in radio, TV, and motion pictures.
22. Continue discrediting American culture by degrading all forms of artistic expression. An American Communist cell was told to "eliminate all good sculpture from parks and buildings, substitute shapeless, awkward and meaningless forms."
23. Control art critics and directors of art museums. "Our plan is to promote ugliness, repulsive, meaningless art."
24. Eliminate all laws governing obscenity by calling them "censorship" and a violation of free speech and free press.
25. Break down cultural standards of morality by promoting pornography and obscenity in books, magazines, motion pictures, radio, and TV.
26. Present homosexuality, degeneracy and promiscuity as "normal, natural, healthy."
27. Infiltrate the churches and replace revealed religion with "social" religion. Discredit the Bible and emphasize the need for intellectual maturity which does not need a "religious crutch."
28. Eliminate prayer or any phase of religious expression in the schools on the ground that it violates the principle of "separation of church and state."

29. Discredit the American Constitution by calling it inadequate, old-fashioned, out of step with modern needs, a hindrance to cooperation between nations on a worldwide basis.
30. Discredit the American Founding Fathers. Present them as selfish aristocrats who had no concern for the “common man.”
31. Belittle all forms of American culture and discourage the teaching of American history on the ground that it was only a minor part of the “big picture.” Give more emphasis to Russian history since the Communists took over.
32. Support any socialist movement to give centralized control over any part of the culture—education, social agencies, welfare programs, mental health clinics, etc.
33. Eliminate all laws or procedures which interfere with the operation of the Communist apparatus.
34. Eliminate the House Committee on Un-American Activities.
35. Discredit and eventually dismantle the FBI.
36. Infiltrate and gain control of more unions.
37. Infiltrate and gain control of big business.
38. Transfer some of the powers of arrest from the police to social agencies. Treat all behavioral problems as psychiatric disorders which no one but psychiatrists can understand [or treat].
39. Dominate the psychiatric profession and use mental health laws as a means of gaining coercive control over those who oppose Communist goals.
40. Discredit the family as an institution. Encourage promiscuity and easy divorce.
41. Emphasize the need to raise children away from the negative influence of parents. Attribute prejudices, mental blocks and retarding of children to suppressive influence of parents.

42. Create the impression that violence and insurrection are legitimate aspects of the American tradition; that students and special-interest groups should rise up and use “united force” to solve economic, political or social problems.
43. Overthrow all colonial governments before native populations are ready for self-government.
44. Internationalize the Panama Canal.
45. Repeal the Connally reservation so the United States cannot prevent the World Court

Rules for Radicals by Saul Alinsky

Hillary Clinton's 1969 Political Science Thesis ("There is Only the Fight") refers to an earlier version of Alinsky's training manual. "In 1946," she wrote, "Alinsky's first book, Reveille for Radicals, was published."

"Obama learned his lesson well. I am proud to see that my father's model for organizing is being applied successfully beyond local community organizing to affect the Democratic campaign in 2008. It is a fine tribute to Saul Alinsky as we approach his 100th birthday."

--Letter from L. David Alinsky, son of Neo-Marxist Saul Alinsky

Obama helped fund 'Alinsky Academy': "The Woods Fund, a nonprofit on which Obama served as paid director from 1999 to December 2002, provided startup funding and later capital to the Midwest Academy.... Obama sat on the Woods Fund board alongside William Ayers, founder of the Weather Underground domestic terrorist organization.... 'Midwest describes itself as 'one of the nation's oldest and best-known schools for community organizations, citizen organizations and individuals committed to progressive social change.'... Midwest teaches Alinsky tactics of community organizing."

Hillary, Obama and the Cult of Alinsky: "True revolutionaries do not flaunt their radicalism, Alinsky taught. They cut their hair, put on suits and infiltrate the system from within. Alinsky viewed revolution as a slow, patient process. The trick was to penetrate existing institutions such as churches, unions and political parties.... Many leftists view Hillary as a sell-out because she claims to hold moderate views on some issues. However, Hillary is simply following Alinsky's counsel to do and say whatever it takes to gain power.

"Obama is also an Alinskyite.... Obama spent years teaching workshops on the Alinsky method. In 1985 he began a four-year stint as a community organizer in Chicago, working for an Alinskyite group called the Developing Communities Project.... Camouflage is key to Alinsky-style organizing. While trying to build coalitions of black churches in Chicago, Obama caught flak for not attending church himself. He became an instant churchgoer." (By Richard Poe, 11-27-07)

"Lest we forget at least an over-the-shoulder acknowledgment to the very first radical: from all our legends, mythology, and history... the first radical known to man who rebelled against the establishment and did it so effectively that he at least won his own kingdom — Lucifer."

Prologue

"The Revolutionary force today has two targets, moral as well as material. Its young protagonists are one moment reminiscent of the idealistic early Christians, yet they also urge violence and cry, 'Burn the system down!' They have no illusions about the system, but plenty of illusions about the way to change our world. It is to this point that I have written this book."

1. The Purpose

In this book we are concerned with how to create mass organizations to seize power and give it to the people; to realize the democratic dream of equality, justice, peace.... "Better to die on your feet than to live on your knees.' This means revolution." p.3

"Radicals must be resilient, adaptable to shifting political circumstances, and sensitive enough to the process of action and reaction to avoid being trapped by their own tactics and forced to travel a road not of their choosing." p.6

"A Marxist begins with his prime truth that all evils are caused by the exploitation of the proletariat by the capitalists. From this he logically proceeds to the revolution to end capitalism, then into the third stage of reorganization into a new social order of the dictatorship of the proletariat, and finally the last stage -- the political paradise of communism." p.10

"An organizer working in and for an open society is in an ideological dilemma to begin with, he does not have a fixed truth -- truth to him is relative and changing; everything to him is relative and changing.... To the extent that he is free from the shackles of dogma, he can respond to the realities of the widely different situations...." pp.10-11

Notes on Saul Alinsky and Neo-Marxism:

Alinsky's tactics were based, not on Stalin's revolutionary violence, but on the Neo-Marxist strategies of Antonio Gramsci, an Italian Communist. Relying on gradualism, infiltration and the dialectic process rather than a bloody revolution, Gramsci's transformational Marxism was so subtle that few even noticed the deliberate changes.

Like Alinsky, Mikhail Gorbachev followed Gramsci, not Lenin. In fact, Gramsci aroused Stalin's wrath by suggesting that Lenin's revolutionary plan wouldn't work in the West. Instead the primary assault would be on Biblical absolutes and Christian values, which must be crushed as a social force before the new face of Communism could rise and flourish. Malachi Martin gave us a progress report:

"By 1985, the influence of traditional Christian philosophy in the West was weak and negligible.... Gramsci's master strategy was now feasible.

Humanly speaking, it was no longer too tall an order to strip large majorities of men and women in the West of those last vestiges that remained to them of Christianity's transcendent God."

RULE 1: "Power is not only what you have, but what the enemy thinks you have."

Power is derived from 2 main sources – money and people. "Have-Nots" must build power from flesh and blood. (These are two things of which there is a plentiful supply. Government and corporations always have a difficult time appealing to people, and usually do so almost exclusively with economic arguments.)

RULE 2: "Never go outside the expertise of your people."

It results in confusion, fear and retreat. Feeling secure adds to the backbone of anyone. (Organizations under attack wonder why radicals don't address the "real" issues. This is why. They avoid things with which they have no knowledge.)

RULE 3: "Whenever possible, go outside the expertise of the enemy."

Look for ways to increase insecurity, anxiety and uncertainty. (This happens all the time. Watch how many organizations under attack are blindsided by seemingly irrelevant arguments that they are then forced to address.)

RULE 4: "Make the enemy live up to its own book of rules."

If the rule is that every letter gets a reply, send 30,000 letters. You can kill them with this because no one can possibly obey all of their own rules. (This is a serious rule. The besieged entity's very credibility and reputation is at stake, because if activists catch it lying or not living up to its commitments, they can continue to chip away at the damage.)

RULE 5: "Ridicule is man's most potent weapon."

There is no defense. It's irrational. It's infuriating. It also works as a key pressure point to force the enemy into concessions. (Pretty crude, rude and mean, huh? They want to create anger and fear.)

RULE 6: “A good tactic is one your people enjoy.”

They’ll keep doing it without urging and come back to do more. They’re doing their thing, and will even suggest better ones. (Radical activists, in this sense, are no different than any other human being. We all avoid “un-fun” activities, and but we revel at and enjoy the ones that work and bring results.)

RULE 7: “A tactic that drags on too long becomes a drag.”

Don’t become old news. (Even radical activists get bored. So to keep them excited and involved, organizers are constantly coming up with new tactics.)

RULE 8: “Keep the pressure on. Never let up.”

Keep trying new things to keep the opposition off balance. As the opposition masters one approach, hit them from the flank with something new. (Attack, attack, attack from all sides, never giving the reeling organization a chance to rest, regroup, recover and re-strategize.)

RULE 9: “The threat is usually more terrifying than the thing itself.”

Imagination and ego can dream up many more consequences than any activist. (Perception is reality. Large organizations always prepare a worst-case scenario, something that may be furthest from the activists’ minds. The upshot is that the organization will expend enormous time and energy, creating in its own collective mind the direst of conclusions. The possibilities can easily poison the mind and result in demoralization.)

RULE 10: “If you push a negative hard enough, it will push through and become a positive.”

Violence from the other side can win the public to your side because the public sympathizes with the underdog. (Unions used this tactic. Peaceful [albeit loud] demonstrations during the heyday of unions in the early to mid-20th Century incurred management’s wrath, often in the form of violence that eventually brought public sympathy to their side.)

RULE 11: “The price of a successful attack is a constructive alternative.

Never let the enemy score points because you're caught without a solution to the problem. (Old saw: If you're not part of the solution, you're part of the problem. Activist organizations have an agenda, and their strategy is to hold a place at the table, to be given a forum to wield their power. So, they have to have a compromise solution.)

RULE 12: Pick the target, freeze it, personalize it, and polarize it.”

Cut off the support network and isolate the target from sympathy. Go after people and not institutions; people hurt faster than institutions. (This is cruel, but very effective. Direct, personalized criticism and ridicule works.)

What is REALLY interesting is that Saul Alinsky died in 1972, almost 50 years ago...

So, these political tactics are, at a minimum, fifty years old. They were designed to deal with a political situation in existence during the 1950s, 1960s, and early 1970s – a world totally different from today. Yet, many activist groups laud these tactics without realizing their in-appropriateness in the 2020 world.

What Alinsky, and his followers, failed to comprehend is that they created a whole generation of people who cannot see beyond screaming criticism and offer any modern day solutions to social problems beyond a social shift to the hungry and dreary world of socialism/communism – something they definitely do not actually want to happen.

The counter reaction to this situation has been the rise of the humongous populist movement that elected Donald Trump. This group doesn't put up with Alinsky-like nonsense. They outnumber the Alinski-ites 100,000 to 1.
